Kennedy, Military Advisers Meet

Johnson Joins Huddle On 1962 Defense Plans

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President Kennedy began two days of conferences Tuesday with Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and key military advisers on Army organization problems and the U.S. military outlook for 1962.

Johnson flew in from Texas. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamar, Deputy Secretary Roswell L. Gilpatric and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Kennedy's personal military adviser, came from Washington.

Johnson said upon his arrival that he expects the talks here to include a review of the military budget and other matters.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger earlier characterized the late afternoon session as a preliminary survey of Army organization problems.

McNamara said these problems have been under study for some time and that a report on this would be made to the President.

The defense secretary also said there has been no change in the policy regarding reservists who have been called up. They will not be held longer than necessay, McNamara said.

He added that the Reserves are playing an important part in showing the strength of purpose of the nation.

Johnson predicted Kennedy will be generally successful with his program in the session of Congress opening Jan. 10.

He told newsmen who met him at West Palm Beach International Airport that in his 30 years in Congress he had never worked with a president "who commanded more respect or more confidence from Congress" than Kennedy.

Johnson termed the relations between the President and Congress during the past year as "constructive, productive and harmonious." He forecast this would continue in 1962.

Salinger declined to elaborate beforehand on what the session would cover. But the role of Reserves and the National Guard in future emergencies presumably was among the topics high on the agenda.

The meeting, Salinger said, will deal with "the operational and strategic outlook for 1962."

Kennedy Will Visit Mexico

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President Kennedy will visit Mexico sometime this year, the White House announced Tuesday night.

The announcement said President Adolfo Lopez Mateos "has kindly invited President Kennedy to visit Mexico in 1962," and it added:

"President Kennedy has accepted the invitation with pleasure and looks forward to meeting personally with the president of our good neighbor of the south with which the United States has always enjoyed friendly relations."

The announcement, read to newsmen by press secretary Pierre Salinger, said no date for the meeting has been set.

Salinger also said no decision has been made as to whether Mrs. Kennedy will accompany the President.

Informed sources speculated that Kennedy would go to Mexico during the first half of the year, possibly in the spring.

Traditionally, U.S. presidents visit both Mexico and Canada early in their terms. Kennedy visited Canada last May.

Dutch Bid Paves Way For Talks With Indonesia

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP) — Negotiation without prior conditions was offered by the Dutch government Tuesday as a means of settling the dispute with Indonesia over the 159,000 square miles of New Guinea jungle and mountain.

Premier Jan De Quay retreated from the government's previous conditions that it would negotiate if Indonesia recognized beforehand the right of the 700,000 native Papuans to determine their own future.

He made the announcement at the start of a debate in the lower house of Parliament after a proclamation in Jakarta by Indonesian President Sukarno declaring New Guinea an Indonesian province.

Sukarno set no D-Day, however. Reports from Jakarta have said Indonesia's military men are opposed to an invasion until late in the year when they hope their amphibious forces will be built up with ships and planes from Communist arsenals.

De Quay's announcement was welcomed in Washington and London.

Indonesian Ambassador Zairin Zain said in Washington the Dutch offer "creates a favorable climate and there are big possibilities ahead." He could not say, however, whether his government would drop its own condition that the territory must be turned over to Indonesia before any negotiations.

U.S. officials in Washington, who have been trying to bring the two sides to the negotiating table, said they are now very hopeful.

British officials took the same view. Australia, a British Commonwealth member, administers the eastern half of New Guinea, and is concerned that the dispute might flare into a jungle war.

Brunette Quits Chess Tourney Because Of Love

HASTINGS, England (AP) — Lisa Lane, 24, of New York withdrew Tuesday from the Hastings and St. Leonard Chess Tournament because of love.

"It's pretty boring to push around a lot of kings and queens when you are thinking about somebody important," said the petite Lisa, acclaimed here as the prettiest chess player in the world.

But Miss Lane wouldn't name the man.

The brunette Miss Lane, who came here from a tournament lasting 30 days in Yugoslavia, completed only one game in her section of the Hastings tournament. This ended in a draw. She surrendered four other games by default.

Move To Deport Costello Upheld

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Board of Immigration Appeals upheld Tuesday a deportation order against Frank Costello, New York underworld figure, for his conviction on income tax charges.

Costello, 70, had appealed to the board from a special inquiry officer's order last June 21 that he be deported to Italy.

He had been serving a five-year sentence for income tax evasion before his release last June, when he was required to register as an alien in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta. The Immigration and Naturalization Service served him an order March 31 and asking him to show cause why he should not be returned to Italy.

A spokesman for the Board of Immigration Appeals announced Tuesday that the board found Costello "deportable on the tax convictions," upholding the inquiry officer's ruling returned after an Oct. 2 hearing.

Born in Cosenza, Italy, Costello was admitted to the United States in 1895 and naturalized in 1925.

NAACP Chief Disappointed With Kennedy

NEW YORK (AP)—Roy Wilkins, hailed by President Kennedy for his work with the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, voiced disappointment Tuesday that the Kennedy administration had not done more to aid civil rights and halt discrimination.

Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary, also asserted that "the racial bloc in Congress cannot be appeased; it has to be challenged and defeated."

In his report to the annual NAACP meeting, Wilkins commended Kennedy for personal feelings and concern for improvement of conditions but said he was sorely disappointed by "the failure of President Kennedy to issue the long promised executive order forbidding racial discrimination in federally assisted housing."

He called on the Kennedy administration to sponsor civil rights legislation promised in the 1960 Democratic platform.

While school desegregation proceeded without violence in 1961, "it also proceeded on an extremely token basis," he said.

"There are still nearly 2.5 million Negro children in segregated school systems and three states —Alabama, South Carolina and Mississippi — remain completely segregated," he said.

He praised Freedom Riders and said they "rendered a service to freedom in 1961 by dramatizing for all the world to see the denial of equality in interstate travel."

Wilkins urged Negroes to register and vote for "the friends of freedom, whether Republican or Democratic."

Studebaker Strike Halts Production

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI)—The most widespread walkout in the history of the Studebaker-Packard Corp. halted production Tuesday at the auto firm.

About 6,500 United Auto Workers walked off the job as a result of union demands. For the first time all employes covered by the union contract struck.

Main disagreements were said to be shift premium pay, vacation pay and relief or washup time.

Crosby was hospitalized in San Francisco Dec. 22 with a kidney ailment.

He returned to Los Angeles the next day and has been under doctor's care since, a family spokesman said.

Traffic Deaths Exceed Preholiday Estimate

By The Associated Press

| Traffic | 337 |
| Fires | 83 |
| Miscellaneous | 59 |
| Total | 479 |

Traffic accidents across the nation during the New Year's holiday weekend took 337 lives.

The final count of deaths in traffic mishaps over the three-day holiday exceeded the National Safety Council's preholiday estimate of 330 fatalities by seven.

In addition to those killed in traffic, 83 others died in fires and 59 were killed in miscelleneous accidents for an over-all toll of 479 during the 78-hour period that commenced at 6 p.m., local time, Friday and ended at midnight Monday.

The number of fatalities resulting from fires was a record for a New Year's period since World War II. The previous record was 74 for a holiday of similar length in 1955-56.

The record traffic toll for a three-day yearend holiday was set in 1959-60 when 374 were killed. The all-time low for a New Year weekend of similar length is 269 during the 1949-50 observance.

More than halfway through the holiday this year traffic fatalities were occurring at an hourly rate that gave promise of setting a new low for the period. But a sharp rise in fatal vehicle mishaps Monday pushed the total past the preholiday estimate.

Fidel Parades Red Weapons, Slaps At U.S.

Yankee Imperialism Forced Him To Arm, Cuban Leader Says

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro paraded Soviet-bloc weapons and jet fighters in a revolutionary celebration Tuesday, and, slapping again at the United States, said Latin America is moving toward liberation.

Castro reviewed an 80-minute parade of ground units, overflown by 21 Soviet-designed MIGs, then blamed Cuba's rearmament strictly on its big neighbor to the north.

"Without Yankee imperialism," the bearded prime minister declared in a broadcast address, "we would not need a single one of these tanks, cannons, planes or a single soldier."

Warns Against Attack On Cuba

Celebrating the third anniversary of his victory over Fulgencio Batista's dictatorship, Castro said Cuba never would pose a military threat to any other nation.

The now-professed disciple of Marx and Lenin declared, however, that peoples of the hemisphere would not regard another attack on Cuba tranquilly.

Aiming his words to other Latin Americans, he said: "Brothers, mobilize against any eventuality. The stupider they (the United States) act, the faster the hour of liberation approaches."

His Cuban audience roared approval.

Mass Meeting January 22

Castro issued a call for another national assembly of the Cuban people—meaning a mass meeting in Havana on the model of one staged in 1960—for Jan. 22 as an answer to the hemispheric foreign ministers conference opening that day at the Uruguayan resort of Punta del Este. The foreign ministers are to weigh the dangers of Cuban communism.

Charging that imperialists were mobilizing puppets against Cuba, he said the assembly will "show the imperialists our decision to fight and show the puppets that this is a decisive and heroic people." In Castro's book, Latin American executives who have broken relations with Cuba are puppets of Washington.

Cuba Protests U.S. 'Violations'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cuba sent the United States a note Tuesday protesting "tens and hundreds" of violations of Cuban air space and waters it said had been committed by U.S. planes and ships.

The note was delivered to Assistant Secretary of State Robert F. Woodward by the Czech ambassador, Miloslav Ruzek.

The Czech envoy, who represents Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime in Washington in the absence of U.S.-Cuban diplomatic relations, spent about a half hour conferring with Woodward.

It was Ruzek who gave newsmen the report the note charged "tens and hundreds" of U.S. violating of Cuban air space and waters.

Ruzek said Woodward "promised to investigate the whole thing," but did not give him an immediate answer for Castro.

The State Department had no immediate comment.

GIs To Take Part In NATO Exercise Starting Jan. 16

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will test its capability to reinforce rapidly NATO's defenses by flying 6,000 battle-ready troops to Germany in mid-January for training, the Pentagon announced Tuesday.

The troops will include three battle groups of the 4th Infantry Division, a regular outfit stationed at Ft. Lewis, Wash., along with their artillery, tanks and other support units.

The huge airlift across the Atlantic will be part of a NATO training exercise called Long Thrust II, which will continue in Germany from Jan. 16 to Feb. 12. However, the Defense Department said two of the battle groups will remain in Germany temporarily afterward for additional training.

The announcement added that other battle groups from the 4th "may be moved from time to time to Europe to participate in NATO exercises and remain afterward for further training." This, it added, would provide for rotation of units.

The Pentagon announcement did not connect the exercise with the simmering Berlin crisis, which has prompted the sending of 45,000 U.S. military men to Europe in recent months — raising U.S. strength there to about 300,000.

The troops to leave in about two weeks will be flown across the Atlantic in about 100 transport planes. These will include 10 of the 15 new C135 jets acquired by the Military Air Transport Command and will be the biggest jet movement of troops so far.

Among the eight transport units also will be two from the Navy and one from the Minnesota Air National Guard, the 133rd Air Transport Wing at Minneapolis.

No Guard or Reserve ground units will be involved in the airlift itself.

Blonde Skater Stabbed; Police Seek Neighbor

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—A 22-year-old plumber's helper was sought by police Tuesday as the man who forced his way into a pretty blonde ice skater's apartment and stabbed her four times, inflicting serious body wounds.

Detective Capt. O. A. Crenshaw identified the man as Joel Lee Saye, next-door neighbor of the victim, Penelope Ann Moore, 19. She was in satisfactory condition Tuesday night after surgery.

Crenshaw said Saye was named in warrants charging first degree burglary—punishable by death — and assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill. There was no charge of attempted rape, although detectives said the girl was resisting sexual assault.

Police said Miss Moore identified Saye from photographs.

Miss Moore was attacked at her apartment Tuesday after three guests had left her apartment following an all-night party.

Crenshaw said that although Saye had lived next door to Miss Moore for about two weeks, they were not acquainted.

Saye was described as 5 feet 11, weighing 157 pounds, with brown eyes, black hair and ruddy complexion. Police said he is on probation on a charge involving another house-breaking. They described him as "very dangerous."

Detective Robert Hinson said Andre Drolet, 24, of Quebec City, Canada, a member of the professional Charlotte Checkers ice hockey team, returned to Miss Moore's apartment about 5 a.m. to find her bleeding from three stab wounds in the chest and one in the stomach.

Hinson theorized that Drolet's appareance frightened off the intruder. Hinson said footprints in the snow outside the apartment indicated the man was running when he left.

Czechs Free U.S. Citizen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Czechoslovakia has released Forrest Avery Shaver, an American citizen, after holding him in prison for nearly 18 months, the State Department reported Tuesday.

His release Dec. 30 was effected about 2½ months before he had completed a 20-month sentence imposed for "illegal border crossing." Shaver, a welder who formerly lived in Chicago, was arrested in July 1960.

The State Department said he is now in West Germany and is in "apparent good health."

His release came at a time of increasingly hopeful rumors in Washington of an impending settlement of mutual claims between the United States and Czechoslovakia.

Shaver and an Austrian girl were on an excursion on the Austrian side of the Czech border in the summer of 1960 when they strayed over into Czech territory at a spot not clearly marked. Both were arrested, but the girl was released a long time ago.

Ambassador, Gromyko Talk For 2½ Hours

Thompson, Soviet Minister Cheerful Following Session

MOSCOW (AP)—American and Soviet diplomats began a new attempt Tuesday to find a mutually satisfactory basis for East-West negotiations on Berlin. The record of past attempts suggests it will be a tough job, but the Russians appear eager for negotiations.

U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson, the West's spokesman at this stage, and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko conferred for 2½ hours at the Foreign Ministry, a spired skyscraper on Smolensk Square.

Neither would comment later, but both seemed in good spirits.

Emerging in a snowstorm, Thompson smiled and his manner was cheerful. He declined to tell newsmen how the meeting went. He said, however, he plans to see Gromyko again—he doesn't know exactly when—and he doesn't expect these preliminary meetings to last long.

If a profitable foundation is found for formal talks promising to safeguard Western rights in Communist-walled West Berlin, a foreign ministers' conference is expected to be called to take up the city's future.

Gromyko was in an affable though uncommunicative mood in chatting with Western reporters. He was asked about it at a Cuban Embassy reception marking the third anniversary of Prime Minister Fidel Castro's revolutionary victory.

Thompson advised the U.S. State Department in Washington of the results of his talk. Then he filled in the ambassadors of Britain, France and West Germany by telephone. He invited them to a conference Wednesday at the U.S. Embassy.

Thompson was accompanied to the meeting by Kempton Jenkins, a specialist in German affairs who is the embassy's second secretary. Sitting in with Gromyko was Ivan I. Ilyichev, a Soviet Foreign Ministry official who was formerly ambassador to East Germany.

Thompson's assignment to sound out the Soviets was agreed upon at a meeting of Secretary of State Dean Rusk and the British, French and West German foreign ministers in Paris Dec. 12.

The decision was later approved by the ministerial council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and by President Kennedy and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan at their Bermuda meeting.

Goldfine's Secretary Gets 30 Days In Jail

BOSTON (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge George C. Sweeney Tuesday sentenced Miss Mildred Paperman, 42, to 30 days in jail for smuggling letters to millionaire industrialist Bernard Goldfine in the Danbury, Conn., federal correctiona institution.

Miss Paperman and Goldfine, whom she served as secretary for many years, admitted last Dec. 4 an illegal exchange of letters while Goldfine was serving a year's sentence for income tax evasion.

Goldfine also was scheduled to appear in court Tuesday but was granted a continuation because of illness. He is under treatment at the U.S. Public Health Hospital, Staten Island, N.Y., for a cerebral thrombosis

Convict's Story Of Receiving Prison Leave To Get Robbery Loot Disputed

LYNN, Mass. (AP) — A Mississippi convict, whose tale of being furloughed from prison to pick up half a million dollars in burglary loot is disputed in that state, was held in $5,000 bail Tuesday for a hearing on whether he is a fugitive from justice.

Kimble Berry, 24, of Greenville, Miss., pleaded innocent in District Court. He was arrested on a warrant from Mississippi's 4th Circuit Court.

The warrant, signed by Judge Arthur B. Clark Jr., charged Berry "on or about Dec. 15 . . . did break and escape from the penitentiary" at Parchman, Miss.

Berry is on record as having visited Lynn police about two weeks ago and telling what he calls the true account of his leave from the prison.

Mississippi, the Justice Department reported, is the only state which has a policy of granting extended Christmas leaves to prisoners.

Berry repeated his story Tuesday in the presence of newsmen. He said he was given a 10-day leave, furnished new clothing, supplied with a pistol and a $7,000 automobile to go to a Keiser, Ark., bank and recover loot from a Hattiesburg, Miss., burglary.

He was to return with it and was promised a pardon if successful, he said, noting that he had five months remaining of an eight-year sentence for manslaughter.

Berry said he was called to the prison office where he made the agreement after a conference with two men. One he said represented himself as a state official and the other was a convict named Aubrey Botts who was serving 59 years for robbery.

On arrival at the bank, Berry said, he decided not to stop because there were two men outside who appeared to have guns in their pockets.

He drove to Lynn, financing his trip, he said, by selling hub caps a spare tire and a briefcase, in which he was to carry the loot.

He came to Lynn because a brother, Clinton, lives here. Berry's mother runs a Greenville, Miss., boarding house.

Fred Jones, superintendent of the Parchman, Miss., prison, says Berry lies. Jones said a warrant was issued for Berry's arrest after he overstayed a 10-day Christmas leave.

In addition to those killed in traffic, 83 others died in fires and 59 were killed in miscelleneous accidents for an over-all toll of 479 during the 78-hour period that commenced at 6 p.m., local time, Friday and ended at midnight Monday.

The number of fatalities resulting from fires was a record for a New Year's period since World War II. The previous record was 74 for a holiday of similar length in 1955-56.

The record traffic toll for a three-day yearend holiday was set in 1959-60 when 374 were killed. The all-time low for a New Year weekend of similar length is 269 during the 1949-50 observance.

More than halfway through the holiday this year traffic fatalities were occurring at an hourly rate that gave promise of setting a new low for the period. But a sharp rise in fatal vehicle mishaps Monday pushed the total past the preholiday estimate.

Fidel Parades Red Weapons, Slaps At U.S.

Yankee Imperialism Forced Him To Arm, Cuban Leader Says

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro paraded Soviet-bloc weapons and jet fighters in a revolutionary celebration Tuesday, and, slapping again at the United States, said Latin America is moving toward liberation.

Castro reviewed an 80-minute parade of ground units, overflown by 21 Soviet-designed MIGs, then blamed Cuba's rearmament strictly on its big neighbor to the north.

"Without Yankee imperialism," the bearded prime minister declared in a broadcast address, "we would not need a single one of these tanks, cannons, planes or a single soldier."

Warns Against Attack On Cuba

Celebrating the third anniversary of his victory over Fulgencio Batista's dictatorship, Castro said Cuba never would pose a military threat to any other nation.

The now-professed disciple of Marx and Lenin declared, however, that peoples of the hemisphere would not regard another attack on Cuba tranquilly.

Aiming his words to other Latin Americans, he said: "Brothers, mobilize against any eventuality. The stupider they (the United States) act, the faster the hour of liberation approaches."

His Cuban audience roared approval.

Mass Meeting January 22

Castro issued a call for another national assembly of the Cuban people—meaning a mass meeting in Havana on the model of one staged in 1960—for Jan. 22 as an answer to the hemispheric foreign ministers conference opening that day at the Uruguayan resort of Punta del Este. The foreign ministers are to weigh the dangers of Cuban communism.

Charging that imperialists were mobilizing puppets against Cuba, he said the assembly will "show the imperialists our decision to fight and show the puppets that this is a decisive and heroic people." In Castro's book, Latin American executives who have broken relations with Cuba are puppets of Washington.

Cuba Protests U.S. 'Violations'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cuba sent the United States a note Tuesday protesting "tens and hundreds" of violations of Cuban air space and waters it said had been committed by U.S. planes and ships.

The note was delivered to Assistant Secretary of State Robert F. Woodward by the Czech ambassador, Miloslav Ruzek.

The Czech envoy, who represents Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime in Washington in the absence of U.S.-Cuban diplomatic relations, spent about a half hour conferring with Woodward.

It was Ruzek who gave newsmen the report the note charged "tens and hundreds" of U.S. violating of Cuban air space and waters.

Ruzek said Woodward "promised to investigate the whole thing," but did not give him an immediate answer for Castro.

The State Department had no immediate comment.

Blonde Skater Stabbed; Police Seek Neighbor

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—A 22-year-old plumber's helper was sought by police Tuesday as the man who forced his way into a pretty blonde ice skater's apartment and stabbed her four times, inflicting serious body wounds.

Detective Capt. O. A. Crenshaw identified the man as Joel Lee Saye, next-door neighbor of the victim, Penelope Ann Moore, 19. She was in satisfactory condition Tuesday night after surgery.

Crenshaw said Saye was named in warrants charging first degree burglary—punishable by death — and assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill. There was no charge of attempted rape, although detectives said the girl was resisting sexual assault.

Police said Miss Moore identified Saye from photographs.

Miss Moore was attacked at her apartment Tuesday after three guests had left her apartment following an all-night party.

Crenshaw said that although Saye had lived next door to Miss Moore for about two weeks, they were not acquainted.

Saye was described as 5 feet 11, weighing 157 pounds, with brown eyes, black hair and ruddy complexion. Police said he is on probation on a charge involving another house-breaking. They described him as "very dangerous."

Detective Robert Hinson said Andre Drolet, 24, of Quebec City, Canada, a member of the professional Charlotte Checkers ice hockey team, returned to Miss Moore's apartment about 5 a.m. to find her bleeding from three stab wounds in the chest and one in the stomach.

Hinson theorized that Drolet's appareance frightened off the intruder. Hinson said footprints in the snow outside the apartment indicated the man was running when he left.

Convict's Story Of Receiving Prison Leave To Get Robbery Loot Disputed

LYNN, Mass. (AP) — A Mississippi convict, whose tale of being furloughed from prison to pick up half a million dollars in burglary loot is disputed in that state, was held in $5,000 bail Tuesday for a hearing on whether he is a fugitive from justice.

Kimble Berry, 24, of Greenville, Miss., pleaded innocent in District Court. He was arrested on a warrant from Mississippi's 4th Circuit Court.

The warrant, signed by Judge Arthur B. Clark Jr., charged Berry "on or about Dec. 15 . . . did break and escape from the penitentiary" at Parchman, Miss.

Berry is on record as having visited Lynn police about two weeks ago and telling what he calls the true account of his leave from the prison.

Mississippi, the Justice Department reported, is the only state which has a policy of granting extended Christmas leaves to prisoners.

Berry repeated his story Tuesday in the presence of newsmen. He said he was given a 10-day leave, furnished new clothing, supplied with a pistol and a $7,000 automobile to go to a Keiser, Ark., bank and recover loot from a Hattiesburg, Miss., burglary.

He was to return with it and was promised a pardon if successful, he said, noting that he had five months remaining of an eight-year sentence for manslaughter.

Berry said he was called to the prison office where he made the agreement after a conference with two men. One he said represented himself as a state official and the other was a convict named Aubrey Botts who was serving 59 years for robbery.

On arrival at the bank, Berry said, he decided not to stop because there were two men outside who appeared to have guns in their pockets.

He drove to Lynn, financing his trip, he said, by selling hub caps a spare tire and a briefcase, in which he was to carry the loot.

He came to Lynn because a brother, Clinton, lives here. Berry's mother runs a Greenville, Miss., boarding house.

Fred Jones, superintendent of the Parchman, Miss., prison, says Berry lies. Jones said a warrant was issued for Berry's arrest after he overstayed a 10-day Christmas leave.

U.S. Will Airlift 6,000 Troops To W. Germany

GIs To Take Part In NATO Exercise Starting Jan. 16

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will test its capability to reinforce rapidly NATO's defenses by flying 6,000 battle-ready troops to Germany in mid-January for training, the Pentagon announced Tuesday.

The troops will include three battle groups of the 4th Infantry Division, a regular outfit stationed at Ft. Lewis, Wash., along with their artillery, tanks and other support units.

The huge airlift across the Atlantic will be part of a NATO training exercise called Long Thrust II, which will continue in Germany from Jan. 16 to Feb. 12. However, the Defense Department said two of the battle groups will remain in Germany temporarily afterward for additional training.

The announcement added that other battle groups from the 4th "may be moved from time to time to Europe to participate in NATO exercises and remain afterward for further training." This, it added, would provide for rotation of units.

The Pentagon announcement did not connect the exercise with the simmering Berlin crisis, which has prompted the sending of 45,000 U.S. military men to Europe in recent months — raising U.S. strength there to about 300,000.

The troops to leave in about two weeks will be flown across the Atlantic in about 100 transport planes. These will include 10 of the 15 new C135 jets acquired by the Military Air Transport Command and will be the biggest jet movement of troops so far.

Among the eight transport units also will be two from the Navy and one from the Minnesota Air National Guard, the 133rd Air Transport Wing at Minneapolis.

No Guard or Reserve ground units will be involved in the airlift itself.

Czechs Free U.S. Citizen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Czechoslovakia has released Forrest Avery Shaver, an American citizen, after holding him in prison for nearly 18 months, the State Department reported Tuesday.

His release Dec. 30 was effected about 2½ months before he had completed a 20-month sentence imposed for "illegal border crossing." Shaver, a welder who formerly lived in Chicago, was arrested in July 1960.

The State Department said he is now in West Germany and is in "apparent good health."

His release came at a time of increasingly hopeful rumors in Washington of an impending settlement of mutual claims between the United States and Czechoslovakia.

Shaver and an Austrian girl were on an excursion on the Austrian side of the Czech border in the summer of 1960 when they strayed over into Czech territory at a spot not clearly marked. Both were arrested, but the girl was released a long time ago.

Ambassador, Gromyko Talk For 2½ Hours

Thompson, Soviet Minister Cheerful Following Session

MOSCOW (AP)—American and Soviet diplomats began a new attempt Tuesday to find a mutually satisfactory basis for East-West negotiations on Berlin. The record of past attempts suggests it will be a tough job, but the Russians appear eager for negotiations.

U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson, the West's spokesman at this stage, and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko conferred for 2½ hours at the Foreign Ministry, a spired skyscraper on Smolensk Square.

Neither would comment later, but both seemed in good spirits.

Emerging in a snowstorm, Thompson smiled and his manner was cheerful. He declined to tell newsmen how the meeting went. He said, however, he plans to see Gromyko again—he doesn't know exactly when—and he doesn't expect these preliminary meetings to last long.

If a profitable foundation is found for formal talks promising to safeguard Western rights in Communist-walled West Berlin, a foreign ministers' conference is expected to be called to take up the city's future.

Gromyko was in an affable though uncommunicative mood in chatting with Western reporters. He was asked about it at a Cuban Embassy reception marking the third anniversary of Prime Minister Fidel Castro's revolutionary victory.

Thompson advised the U.S. State Department in Washington of the results of his talk. Then he filled in the ambassadors of Britain, France and West Germany by telephone. He invited them to a conference Wednesday at the U.S. Embassy.

Thompson was accompanied to the meeting by Kempton Jenkins, a specialist in German affairs who is the embassy's second secretary. Sitting in with Gromyko was Ivan I. Ilyichev, a Soviet Foreign Ministry official who was formerly ambassador to East Germany.

Thompson's assignment to sound out the Soviets was agreed upon at a meeting of Secretary of State Dean Rusk and the British, French and West German foreign ministers in Paris Dec. 12.

The decision was later approved by the ministerial council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and by President Kennedy and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan at their Bermuda meeting.

Goldfine's Secretary Gets 30 Days In Jail

BOSTON (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge George C. Sweeney Tuesday sentenced Miss Mildred Paperman, 42, to 30 days in jail for smuggling letters to millionaire industrialist Bernard Goldfine in the Danbury, Conn., federal correctiona institution.

Miss Paperman and Goldfine, whom she served as secretary for many years, admitted last Dec. 4 an illegal exchange of letters while Goldfine was serving a year's sentence for income tax evasion.

Goldfine also was scheduled to appear in court Tuesday but was granted a continuation because of illness. He is under treatment at the U.S. Public Health Hospital, Staten Island, N.Y., for a cerebral thrombosis

Bank Robbed Of $10,558

BURTONSVILLE, Md. (AP) — An armed bandit with a black stocking over his face robbed a branch bank in a shopping center of $10,558 Tuesday without firing a shot.

The FBI in Baltimore said the lone gunman apparently escaped on foot after robbing the Burtonsville branch of the Citizens National Bank of Laurel. Burtonsville is a Montgomery County community of 2,500, about six miles west of Laurel.

Mrs. Pearl Cole, a teller, and William P. Feaga, the office manager, were the only persons in the bank when the gunman walked in the front door shortly before noon.

Feaga and Mrs. Cole were ordered to lie on the floor behind the counter. Pointing his revolver at them as he worked, the man scooped the money from the cash drawers and ran out.

FBI agents, state police and officers from Montgomery and Howard counties converged on the area. Roadblocks were set up by almost 50 patrol cars.

Mrs. Cole and Feage, the bank's only employes, said the gunman wore a blue-gray overcoat and gloves. The stocking pulled over his head had slits so he could see.

They described the man as a white person 40 to 45, standing about 5-8 and weighing 160. They said he spoke in a deep voice.

An abandoned car was found later near Colesville, but police did not determine immediately if it had any connection with the robbery.

Reddick Seeks Restoration Of N.Y. Permit

BALTIMORE (AP)—A psychiatrist whose licenses were revoked by the medical boards in both New York and Maryland will plead next Tuesday for restoration of his New York permit.

Revocation of the licenses came after the 1958 conviction of Dr. Robert H. Reddick, 47, for forging a Maryland medical certificate and false use of a medical seal.

Morgan L. Amaimo, Baltimore attorney for Dr. Reddick, said Tuesday his client's request would be heard by the Board of Regents of the University of the State of New York.

Amaimo said he has submitted a 20-page memorandum to the New York board, in which he contended the seal which Dr. Reddick allegedly used was a private seal and not a public one, and that the physician was not given a hearing in New York before the revocation there.

Dr. Reddick has been living in Rochester, N. Y., since his release from the Maryland Penitentiary last April. He served 33 months of a five-year sentence.

Integrationist Leaders Deplore Grill Incident

SALISBURY (AP)—The leaders of three integrationist groups agreed Tuesday not to stage sit-in demonstrations in Salisbury or Wicomico County until they have consulted local authorities.

Representatives of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), the Civic Interest Group of Baltimore (CIG) and the Maryland Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People met with the county's bi-racial commission.

Douglas Sands, executive secretary of the Maryland Commission on Interracial Problems and Relations, arranged the meeting.

It was prompted by an incident which occurred last Friday in Salisbury after a busload of white and Negro students demonstrated at restaurants in Crisfield, the home town of Gov. Tawes.

On the return trip to Baltimore, the demonstrators stopped at the English Grill, a restaurant which had joined other Salisbury establishments in desegregation efforts.

James English, operator of the restaurant, told the meeting Tuesday he had interpreted the stop as a demonstration. The behavior of the students normally would have brought denials of service regardless of color, he said.

Instead of ordering food, English said, the students wandered about the diner asking for water and disturbing other customers.

"If it was a demonstration, I want to apologize for it," said Clifton Henry of CIG. He and Clarence Logan of CORE said their groups are aware of the progress made here in racial relations, and that Salisbury never was suggested as a target of sit-ins.

They said they believed the riders stopped there because they were hungry.

John W. T. Webb, chairman of the bi-racial commission, told the demonstration leaders their activities could harm progress in Wicomico County.

"Incidents such as this can wipe out everything we have done," Webb said.

"We feel we must have cooperation and if our work is to go ahead, we must be assured of this cooperation. We cannot be demonstrated against at your pleasure."

East Digs Out Of Snowstorm

By The Associated Press

Eastern and southeastern sections of the nation swept away the remnants of a New Year's Day snowstorm which slicked many highways and closed schools in North Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee and Maryland before blowing far out to sea Tuesday.

In several snow-struck areas in North Carolina, school openings slated for Tuesday were postponed until Wednesday. Driving remained hazardous in many areas of the snow and rain belt in the southeast and east as temperatures remained below normal. In one hour, three inches of new snow fell in Watertown, N.H. where residents started the day's work in -14 degree weather.

Early morning temperatures in northern New England remained around the zero mark and rose only into the teens by midday.

Two Gunmen Rob Savings-Loan Firm

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two armed bandits, one wearing a false rubber nose, held up Citizens Federal Savings and Loan Association of Georgetown Tuesday and escaped with $8,187.

Police said the bandits entered the office at 1300 Wisconsin Ave. N.W., waved revolvers at four employes, and said, "This is a hold-up."

The bandits told the employes, two of whom were women, to put up their hands and face the wall.

Police said the bandit wearing a rubber nose jumped over the gate to the tellers' counter. He took $4,469 from an open safe behind the counter and then picked up money at the tellers' positions and stuffed it in his pockets.

Guatemala Deal Report Denied By State Dept.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department denied Tuesday that the United States made a deal with Guatemala on British Honduras in return for Guatemala's help in last spring's abortive invasion of Cuba.

Press officer Lincoln White issued the denial on the heels of reports that Guatemalan President Miguel Ydigoras, in a free-wheeling radio-TV New Year's Eve speech, had:

—Said that in return for Guatemalan help in providing training sites for Cuban invasion forces the United States agreed to use its good offices in settling the Guatemalan-British dispute over British Honduras.

—Admitted for the first time that Guatemala trained anti-Castro exiles for the Cuban invasion.

—Indicated President Kennedy should take further action against the Cuban regime of Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Guatemala long has sought British Honduras, a neighboring Central American territory the Guatemalans call Belize. The British first settled there in the 17th century and recently have been moving the colony toward independence.

At Palm Beach, Fla., White House press secretary Pierre Salinger referred all questions on the matter to the State Department.

Fairless Rites Set Tomorrow

LIGONIER, Pa. (UPI) — Funeral services will be held at nearby Rector Thursday afternoon for Benjamin F. Fairless, retired head of U.S. Steel Corp.

Fairless died at his home here Monday. He was 71.

The son of a coal miner, Fairless began his business career selling newspapers when he was five. His acumen carried him to the front of the world's largest steel-making firm.

David McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers, called Fairless' death "a distinct loss to the nation, to the industry he served and to all who came to know him in his lifetime."

Memorial services will be held at Trinity Episcopal Church in Pittsburgh at 1 p.m. Thursday. Funeral services will be held three hours later.

Coast Guard Cutter Reaches Crippled Ship

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A crippled freighter in the Gulf of Mexico, reportedly "riding well at sea and in no danger of sinking," was reached by a Coast Guard cutter Tuesday about 300 miles southeast of New Orleans.

The Coast Guard sent the cutter Sebago from Mobile, Ala., to tow the Catalina S into Key West, Fla.

The 300-foot, 2,407-ton Catalina S radioed Monday it had lost power with flooding in the engine room. The ship was on its first voyage after a year of inactivity in New Orleans. It was bound for the Bahamas with a load of general cargo. It had a 24-man crew.

It was prompted by an incident which occurred last Friday in Salisbury after a busload of white and Negro students demonstrated at restaurants in Crisfield, the home town of Gov. Tawes.

On the return trip to Baltimore, the demonstrators stopped at the English Grill, a restaurant which had joined other Salisbury establishments in desegregation efforts.

James English, operator of the restaurant, told the meeting Tuesday he had interpreted the stop as a demonstration. The behavior of the students normally would have brought denials of service regardless of color, he said.

Instead of ordering food, English said, the students wandered about the diner asking for water and disturbing other customers.

"If it was a demonstration, I want to apologize for it," said Clifton Henry of CIG. He and Clarence Logan of CORE said their groups are aware of the progress made here in racial relations, and that Salisbury never was suggested as a target of sit-ins.

They said they believed the riders stopped there because they were hungry.

John W. T. Webb, chairman of the bi-racial commission, told the demonstration leaders their activities could harm progress in Wicomico County.

"Incidents such as this can wipe out everything we have done," Webb said.

"We feel we must have cooperation and if our work is to go ahead, we must be assured of this cooperation. We cannot be demonstrated against at your pleasure."

East Digs Out Of Snowstorm

By The Associated Press

Eastern and southeastern sections of the nation swept away the remnants of a New Year's Day snowstorm which slicked many highways and closed schools in North Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee and Maryland before blowing far out to sea Tuesday.

In several snow-struck areas in North Carolina, school openings slated for Tuesday were postponed until Wednesday. Driving remained hazardous in many areas of the snow and rain belt in the southeast and east as temperatures remained below normal. In one hour, three inches of new snow fell in Watertown, N.H. where residents started the day's work in -14 degree weather.

Early morning temperatures in northern New England remained around the zero mark and rose only into the teens by midday.

Two Gunmen Rob Savings-Loan Firm

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two armed bandits, one wearing a false rubber nose, held up Citizens Federal Savings and Loan Association of Georgetown Tuesday and escaped with $8,187.

Police said the bandits entered the office at 1300 Wisconsin Ave. N.W., waved revolvers at four employes, and said, "This is a hold-up."

The bandits told the employes, two of whom were women, to put up their hands and face the wall.

Police said the bandit wearing a rubber nose jumped over the gate to the tellers' counter. He took $4,469 from an open safe behind the counter and then picked up money at the tellers' positions and stuffed it in his pockets.

Guatemala Deal Report Denied By State Dept.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department denied Tuesday that the United States made a deal with Guatemala on British Honduras in return for Guatemala's help in last spring's abortive invasion of Cuba.

Press officer Lincoln White issued the denial on the heels of reports that Guatemalan President Miguel Ydigoras, in a free-wheeling radio-TV New Year's Eve speech, had:

—Said that in return for Guatemalan help in providing training sites for Cuban invasion forces the United States agreed to use its good offices in settling the Guatemalan-British dispute over British Honduras.

—Admitted for the first time that Guatemala trained anti-Castro exiles for the Cuban invasion.

—Indicated President Kennedy should take further action against the Cuban regime of Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Guatemala long has sought British Honduras, a neighboring Central American territory the Guatemalans call Belize. The British first settled there in the 17th century and recently have been moving the colony toward independence.

At Palm Beach, Fla., White House press secretary Pierre Salinger referred all questions on the matter to the State Department.

Fairless Rites Set Tomorrow

LIGONIER, Pa. (UPI) — Funeral services will be held at nearby Rector Thursday afternoon for Benjamin F. Fairless, retired head of U.S. Steel Corp.

Fairless died at his home here Monday. He was 71.

The son of a coal miner, Fairless began his business career selling newspapers when he was five. His acumen carried him to the front of the world's largest steel-making firm.

David McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers, called Fairless' death "a distinct loss to the nation, to the industry he served and to all who came to know him in his lifetime."

Memorial services will be held at Trinity Episcopal Church in Pittsburgh at 1 p.m. Thursday. Funeral services will be held three hours later.

Coast Guard Cutter Reaches Crippled Ship

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A crippled freighter in the Gulf of Mexico, reportedly "riding well at sea and in no danger of sinking," was reached by a Coast Guard cutter Tuesday about 300 miles southeast of New Orleans.

The Coast Guard sent the cutter Sebago from Mobile, Ala., to tow the Catalina S into Key West, Fla.

The 300-foot, 2,407-ton Catalina S radioed Monday it had lost power with flooding in the engine room. The ship was on its first voyage after a year of inactivity in New Orleans. It was bound for the Bahamas with a load of general cargo. It had a 24-man crew.

Tawes, At Pentagon Talks, Urges Md. Defense Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Maryland delegation, headed by Gov. J. Millard Tawes, conferred Tuesday with Pentagon officials to seek defense contracts that would create jobs in their state.

They met with Thomas D. Morris, assistant secretary of defense for logistics and installations, telling him that failure to use a pool of skilled but unemployed Maryland workers not only would hurt the state economically but would mean a loss to the defense effort.

Rep. Daniel B. Brewster, Democrat, one of five Maryland congressmen taking part in the conference, said Morris listened carefully to their pleas and agreed to take the problem up with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Next week, Brewster said, the congressional delegation and Tawes plan to meet with officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in an effort to get NASA contracts for Maryland plants. He said they also would meet with officials of the Martin Marietta Corp. to urge that the company do all it can to prevent diversion of Air Force contracts from its Baltimore plant to its plants in Denver and Florida.

Failure to get renewed contracts at Martin Marietta's Maryland plant upon completion of earlier contracts has caused a reduction during the past year from 15,000 employes to 9,000, Brewster said.

Others joining in the Pentagon conference included Reps. Richard E. Lankford, George H. Fallon, Samuel N. Friedel and Edward A. Garmatz, all Maryland Democrats.

The time and date of the meetings with officials of Martin Marietta and NASA has not yet been arranged, Brewster said, but they likely will be Tuesday or Wednesday.

"Dial-A-Sub" Teacher Plan Proves Worth

ROCKVILLE, Md., (AP) — Thanks to electronic science, teachers in 11 Montgomery County schools will find it easier to get substitutes whenever they need to be absent.

As a pilot project, the county board of education started this week what might be called an automatic "Dial-a-Substitute" plan.

It shifts responsibility for getting a substitute from the teacher to the school administration staff.

All the teachers have to do is telephone a special number — at any time, day or night — and give their name and when they expect to be absent.

A newly-installed electronic "secretary" records this information on tape so it can be monitored later by administration personnel. The latter then takes over the chore of calling a substitute from among 800 qualified persons.

In its first test before reopening of the schools Tuesday after the Christmas holiday, the school staff found 16 such messages and got substitutes promptly.

The new system, presently confined to schools in the Rockville area, is beneficial both to the teachers and their substitutes, the school board says.

Teachers who are ill or who must be absent for other reasons no longer have to go through the time-consuming chore of calling one substitute after another until they get one who is available.

Neither do those on the substitue teacher list have to be bothered more than once by telephone calls about their availability.

"The Star Spangled Banner" was ordered played by the military and naval services by President Woodrow Wilson in 1916.

The American flag first was officially unfurled at George Washington's camp grounds at Middlebrook, N. H., in 1777.

Maryland News In Brief

BALTIMORE (AP) — A mother of three children who told her family physician she strangled her 26-day-old son has been committed to Spring Grove State Hospital.

The woman, a 33-year-old resident of suburban Glen Burnie, telephoned Dr. John A. Morrison and said she had strangled the infant, Anne Arundel County police reported. Police checked her home and found the child. An autopsy was ordered for the baby.

TOWSON, Md. (AP)—Douglas G. Bottom, 43-year-old Parkville attorney, announced Tuesday he will seek the Democratic nomination for state's attorney of Baltimore County.

Bottom was an assistant state's attorney very briefly in 1958. Two other Democrats have filed for the post, Robert J. Dougherty and State's Attorney Frank H. Newell III.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Maryland recorded eight accidental deaths during the long New Year's holiday weekend which ended at midnight Monday.

Traffic accidents claimed five lives. Two persons drowned and a 16-year-old youth was fatally shot by his brother.

BALTIMORE (AP) — A committee appointed by the Maryland State Planning Commission says there is a notable lack of incentive for Negro students to enter the medical profession in Maryland.

The Committee on Medical Care, in its report on a survey, said Negroes are generally denied internships, residencies and medical staff appointments."

The committee also reported "a gross shortage of hospital beds for Negro patients," and said: "It is not uncommon to find mothers discharged within 24 hours of delivery."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Mathias, R-Md., left Washington Tuesday for a week's sea duty with the Navy aboard the aircraft carrier Randolph.

The 6th District legislator, a lieutenant commander in the Naval Reserve, flew to Norfolk and was to be taken aboard the carrier, already at sea, Tuesday night, his aides here reported.

Mathias will return to Washington for the opening of Congress Jan. 10. He requested active duty to familiarize himself more with the Navy's anti-submarine warfare program, his office said.

SILVER SPRING, Md. (AP) — Montgomery County's police dog, Knight, has a broken leg.

He slipped in the snow several days ago while exercising behind the Wheaton-Glenmont police station, his master, Policeman Cornelius Debries, said.

A cast was put on Knight's left hind leg by Dr. Harold H. Holbrook, Rockville vetenarian, who said the break involves only one small bone. Knight will be back on duty within a week, Dr. Holbrook predicted.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army announced Tuesday it has awarded two contracts totaling $111,757,956 for work on the Pershing bombardment missile system.

The contracts were awarded to Martin-Marietta Corp., Orlando, Fla., which also has an office in Baltimore.

The Pershing, now under development is a solid fuel ballistic missile designed to hurl a nuclear warhead 100 to 300 miles in support of battlefield troops.

Fired Teacher Gets Job At Md. Prison

BALTIMORE (AP) — Sherman G. Brett, the high school biology teacher who lost his job in Anne Arundel County because of his frank classroom discussions of sex, will become the new director of education at the Maryland Penitentiary.

Vernon L. Peppersack, warden of the penitentiary, announced that Brett will assume his new duties on Jan. 22.

Since his dismissal, Brett has been employed as a guidance counselor at a school in Berlin, Ohio. He has commuted regularly to his home in Gambrills.

The teacher was fired from his position at Severna Park High School after a controversy arose over his teaching methods in his biology class. His dismissal resulted in a number of student demonstrations. After a lengthy public hearing, the school board upheld the decision of its superintendent and refused to renew Brett's contract.

Snow Closes Schools In Four Md. Counties

By The Associated Press

The Weather Bureau has forecast fair and warmer weather Wednesday in the wake of Monday's snowfall which covered parts of Southern Maryland and the Eastern Shore.

The storm left about 4½ inches in Dorchester County and neighboring Wicomico County received 5 inches. Western Maryland escaped with only enough to cover the ground, and Baltimore got none.

Schools were closed Tuesday in Dorchester, Wicomico, Somerset and Worcester counties.

The high temperatures Wednesday should be in the high 30s and low 40s and help speed melting which started Tuesday afternoon.

Another slight rise in the mercury is expected Thursday. No additional precipitation was forecast for the two-day period.

The snowfall, heavier than normal in eastern and southern Maryland this early in the season, extended from Dover, Del., south to the tip of the peninsula.

State Roads Commission crews were activated to clear highways which State Police had described as hazardous for driving.

Later in the day, secondary roads in both sections were covered but passable. Main roads were open but slippery.

Brokers Accused In Sale Of Savings & Loan Stock

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Securities and Exchange Commission accused a Washington brokerage firm Tuesday of fraudulently selling stocks in American International Savings & Loan Association, a Maryland firm which has been cited in federal and state court cases.

The accusation was against Lloyd, Miller & Co. which the SEC said dealt in unregistered American International stocks and misrepresented its value to customers.

A federal judge in Baltimore recently ruled American International was not a savings and loan association. The ruling was the result of an SEC petition which said American International was not entitled to sell its stock without an SEC registration because it was not operating as a true savings and loan institution. Stock in savings and loan associations is exempt from SEC registration.

Maryland legal authorities are trying to revoke the charter of American International in a court case in progress in Prince Georges County.

Cited in the SEC accusations against Lloyd, Miller & Co. are Howard Mallek, listed as president of the firm, Norman Brown, Thomas B. Allen, Robert Ela and Joseph St. Peter, who are described as salesmen.

The SEC complaint said investigation "tends to show" that in the period from about Oct. 1, 1960 to Sept. 1, 1961, Mallek and the salesmen "made use of the mails" and other means of interstate commerce in the sale of unregistered American International stock.

N.Y. Fashion Publicity Executive Is Known As 'Mrs. Match Maker'

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

SHE SINGS A ROMANTIC TUNE
Vera Bacal Is A Busy Match Maker

NEW YORK (AP) — There is a swank "man-trap" apartment in this city, warmly decorated with flowers, romantically illuminated with candlelight, mellow with music, and well stocked with gourmet food.

The chaperone and hostess is Vera Bacal, a glamorous, green-eyed grandmother. Once widowed, Vera has twice married happily, and is now concentrating on turning the fancies of young men to love in winter as well as spring. Indeed, she's for romance year 'round.

Sensitively drawn to interesting single young men and women suffering "the trauma of being new and alone in this big, fascinating but sometimes cruel town," this fashion publicity executive traditionally invites them by the droves to her apartment for dinner during the holidays.

Fortunately, her husband, prominent attorney Ira Koenig (Bacal is Vera's professional name) shares her enthusiasm for mixing and matching lonely males with equally so females.

Therefore, their own social engagements invariably wind up by extending spontaneous invitations to half the people they are with (the unmarrieds) to finish off an evening at their house.

"I've only had about two hours sleep," yawns the chic and shapely lady, looking no worse for the wear. "I guess there must have been about 30 at our house until very late last night."

At her impromptu parties Vera concentrates on the shy people, drawing them into the middle of things with conversation, song fests, and good food. Vera prides herself on remembering her guests' tastes in books, music, food, and wine.

Of course, as a result of her concerted efforts, Vera's social calendar is booked up with weddings and christenings. "But I don't keep a record of how many," Vera says. "After all, this is not some kind of a game."

Raven-haired Vera who characteristically sprinkles her speech with poetic descriptions and French idioms, was once a pianist. Until her first husband died, she played and sang gypsy songs professionally.

Then, having what she calls a sixth sense about fashion, Vera reshaped her life by going into the fashion publicity business. This career has taken her to the Brussel's World Fair and to Russia to produce American style shows.

After a respectable interval of widowhood, Vera remarried Ira, her late husband's law partner. The same year (1953) her daughter Rene and her son Jules were also wed.

Now that her family is living happily ever after, Vera is busily trying to find the right mates for her still single friends. Her attitude about love has something to do with being Polish-born, she says.

"European girls think a man is the only thing worth living for, and I agree."

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Can You Be Too Vain?

One of my nice readers wrote a very kind "conversational" letter to me recently. She had no particular problems to tell; she just wanted to show her appreciation for any attempts to encourage women to "keep themselves up."

Reminiscing, she remembered in her letter the first time her interest in grooming took her to a mirror. She was just a little girl, then. She still recalls her mother's words at that time, "You are TOO vain!"

That "little girl" can only remember her mother's words . . . not the way she said them, not the loving reasons that implied the warning. She certainly did, however, get her mother's message . . . and throughout her grown-up years, has used her natural "vanity" only for its intended purposes. And that is to make the most of her God-given self, so that her own spirits might be lifted, her confidence assured, making her better able to reach and to serve her fellowman.

That's a pretty fancy-sounding purpose, isn't it—for things like eye-shadow and trim chins and girdles and gowns?

However fancy, it's the plain truth. We are meant to love ourselves enough to take care of our bodies and minds to the best of our ability.

Now, self-indulgence is another matter entirely. And self-glorification is still another of the pitfalls that await women when natural vanity is misunderstood and abused. These are the temptations that women voluntarily put aside when they join a religious sisterhood or when they dedicate themselves to the tenents of certain faiths stricter than most.

Does this mean they have somehow purged themselves of all vanity? It certainly does not. They continue to perform all the acts that keep them healthy, clean, well-groomed, and at the peak of their well-being. For all their lack of artificial beauty aids, they are singularly attractive both in person and in personality. And this is a quality they must possess to perform their life's work effectively.

This modest approach to body grooming is without doubt the essence of vanity—if, indeed, we should call such self-care by the bandied-about name. Perhaps we should all dismiss the word "vanity" as just another moot point in semantics.

To make yourself as handsome and attractive as possible, by whatever means (including artificial aids) available to you, is NOT to be TOO vain.

It's only when you let your interest in such matters shut out your interest in others that you are dangerously near vainglory. It's only when you refuse to accept what you cannot change nor improve physically that you begin to see your reason for being through a cracked mirror. Than, indeed, life itself appears distorted.

No more qualms about vanity? Then, ENJOY your beauty routines! You will if you "Dance Through a Week of Beauty," which is one of my most popular brochures. Send for one today by writing me, % this newspaper, enclosing 10c and a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Khrush Keeps Threat Dangling Over Berlin

By CARL HARTMAN

BERLIN (AP)—One thing Berliners can tell in advance about 1962 — it won't be a comfortable year.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev withdrew his Dec. 31 deadline on signing a peace treaty with his satellite German Democratic Republic. But there is no telling how soon a new ultimatum will come.

That keeps a threat hanging over the heads of 2.2 million West Berliners. Here is the outlook:

Refugees — A couple of dozen people every day will swim canals, crawl through sewers, pick their way across barbed wire in the ever more perilous attempt to escape Communist rule. The Communists' border police will fire at some, and a few will be hit. There may well be answering shots from the West, as there will certainly be duels of tear gas grenades and loudspeaker trucks.

Transport—East German Communist authorities will find excuses to interfere with rail, road and barge traffic, all of which must cross Communist territory between West Berlin and West Germany.

Trains will be delayed. Bargemen will find "special repair work" going on. Motorists will be turned back and even arrested for not having the proper papers, or for meeting East Germans on the interzonal highway.

If the disputed air corridors come up for discussion, a few Soviet MIGs likely will make an appearance close to Western planes —if only to remind the West that Moscow rules the skies over Eastern Europe, too.

Military activity — Both East and West will hold maneuvers and exercises of many kinds. Each of these will be interpreted by the other side as a menace to its security.

Espionage — Dozens of arrests for spying will be made on both sides of the wall. The Communists will probably stage some trials in an attempt to show that West Berlin is a dangerous nest of agents. The Communists will also do their best to lay hold of Westerners helping people to escape across the wall.

Woman To Woman

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (UPI) —Bell bottom trousers ring in the slack news for spring and summer.

Milady also will find on the slack rack low-slung hipsters and relaxed slacks. The latter, with a wider pant leg, aims to create an optical illusion, making a woman with ample hips look less hippy.

Who says so is Wilma Donaldson, executive stylist and designer for a Philadelphia firm (Queen Casuals), maker of moderate-priced slacks and shorts for American women.

Miss Donaldson was in San Juan with two models and several cartons of new spring sports pants. She was supervising picture taking of her new line in a resort area.

"Fashion in slacks and shorts" she said, "move in and out from one extreme in the fashion cycle to the other extreme the next cycle.

"Leg and hip hugging slacks that have been the fashion for some time can't get any tighter, so they're becoming more relaxed."

Miss Donaldson's new line also included beachniks — shirt-like short coats and horizontally latticed jerseys to wear over bathing suits.

Some of these just barely cover the bathing suit, exposing a lot of leg to the sun.

Miss Donaldson figures most American women can look well in the relaxed slack. The designer said the pants are more diversified to suit diversified bodies.

Her hipster slacks ride low on the hips and can be worn with a middy short or overblouse—or with a cropped top that exposes more of the torso bikini fashion.

The bell bottom trousers are almost exact copies of those worn by sailors. They have the nautical high-riding waist.

Miss Donaldson, a graduate of the University of California Arts and Crafts School in Berkeley, said the worst thing about going on a photographic assignment in a resort area is that almost all about she sees people relaxing—and she can't.

A CLASSICAL RECORD — A gold record for the first classical album to reach the million mark is held at RCA Victor in New York City by Van Cliburn. The record, "Tchaikovsky Piano Concerto No. 1 in B-Flat," was recorded May 30, 1958, two weeks after Cliburn's return from his triumph at the International Tchaikovsky Competition in Moscow.

Science At Work

By The Associated Press

A mystery clay, a termite secret, and a Soviet view on Mars are subjects of Science at Work:

QUICK CLAY

A first-class scientific mystery is the "quick clay" found mainly in Norway and Sweden.

Solid areas of the quick clay can suddenly turn into a flowing mass of mud, carrying along houses, trees and fences. In the past such disastrous movements have taken a heavy toll of life and property.

The quick clays are marine glacial deposits, and there are varying theories as to why they will suddenly begin flowing, whether from shock or other causes.

Similar clay formations have been reported in Quebec, northern New York and Maine, says Dr. Paul F. Kerr, Columbia University mineralogist who has just received a sample of quick clay from southern Norway. The sample was shipped to him with careful instructions not to turn or shock the copper tubes filed with the strange material.

Much of Norway's best agricultural soil is in quick clay regions. Prof. Kerr hopes to get information which could well prevent disastrous mud slides.

TERMITE SECRET

Entomologists have turned up a secret which may prove a death sentence for destructive termites.

Out of wood decayed by fungus infection, they've isolated a chemical which attracts termites. This offers the possibility of using the chemical as a method of locating the feeding grounds of termites, or using it as a trap to destroy them.

The chemical extract was obtained from wood infected with a brown rot fungus by scientists of the Forest Products Laboratory, U.S. Forest Service, and Wisconsin Agricultural Experiment Station at Madison, Wis.

MARS

A Soviet astronomer believes that yellow fogs observed on Mars represent only dust, mainly from an iron oxide known as limonite.

Mars doesn't have enough water so that products formed by decomposition of rocks can cement into clays, so they remain instead as loose dust, speculates Prof. Vsevolod Sharnov of Leningrad University. He disagrees with scientists who think the fogs could be due to sand, holding the sand would not remain suspended long enough to be detectable from earth.

The answer to the mystery, he said in an interview with the Soviet news agency Tass, will come when spacemen from earth visit the planet.

Kennedy Blamed

LISBON (UPI) — The Catholic-Monarchist newspaper A Voz Tuesday ridiculed "Time" Magazine's choice of President Kennedy as "Man of the Year." "Can that magazine really be serious?" it said. "As far as we see it, United States policy has contributed very efficiently toward setting the world ablaze. Even their own better class papers admit that."

Congress has passed a law which requires that the motto "In God We Trust" appear on all paper money and coins.

3,000 Apply For SS Benefits During 1961

More than 3,000 men, women and children applied for Old-Age Survivors, and Disability Insurance benefits during 1961, Walter R. Campbell, manager of the Social Security District office, announced yesterday.

Mr. Campbell said July, August and September were the heaviest months, caused by the 1961 amendments to the Social Security Act.

Two important messages to be brought to the attention of the Cumberland district, Mr. Campbell added, are the new retirement test and the increase in Social Security taxes January 1.

Effective with wages paid that date and thereafter the tax rate is increased one-eighth of one per cent. In other words, ten cents more social security tax on every $80 of earnings. The employers share is increased an equal amount. This additional tax finances the improvements made in the program by the 1961 changes.

Many workers 65 years and over still have not applied for old-age insurance benefits, in spite of efforts to encourage them to do so, Mr. Campbell said. He urged these workers to contact the office by phone, letter or in person, before January 31 to learn their rights.

Nearly 9,200 people from the district visited or inquired by letter about the program in the last 12 months. Another 5,000 persons receiving checks asked for some special service, such as changes of address. Some 5,000 applied for new or duplicate social security cards. Most of these applicants were young men and women looking for their first job. Mr. Campbell estimated that these figures represented about a 12 per cent increase in the work load of the local office. One new position was created in the office during the year to help meet this increase, plus the use of overtime, and some improved internal procedures.

The Cumberland Social Security District includes 3,112 square miles in Allegany and Garrett counties in Maryland and Grant, Hampshire, Hardy and Mineral counties, West Virginia, serving more than 155,000 people. Field representatives make regularly scheduled visits to Oakland, Keyser, Petersburg, Romney and Moorefield.

Wigwam Trouble

LONDON (UPI)—Truck driver Robert Duncan, 39, received a conditional discharge Tuesday after pleading guilty to stealing 24 wigwams from his employers. Duncan, who works for a tent-making firm, said he wanted to give the wigwams to his friends.

The clarinet was developed in Nuremberg in 1690.

City To Purchase Lots For Recreation Purposes

The Mayor and Council yesterday accepted two options for 87 lots located on what is known as McNamee's Hill in Goethe Street Addition for the immediate and long-range future development as a recreation area.

Total price involved is $1,290 and the city is expected to exercise the option within the required 90 days.

Eighty-five of the lots are involved in the offer by Daniel F. McMullen, attorney for the estate of Daniel F. McMullen, Hugh A. McMullen and John P. McMullen. These are being made available to the city for $1,250.

Option on the two other lots is from Mrs. Catherine Bucy with $40 involved in this transaction.

In both cases, the Mayor and Council authorized Mayor J. Edwin Keech to exercise the options.

Recreation Director C. Eugene Mason hailed the action as a progressive step which will give the department a large area to build facilities both in the immediate and long-range future.

He said the department had contacted McMullen in an effort to revive the offer originally made to the city in 1956 but not accepted because of organizational changes within the Recreation Department. McMullen was agreeable and in addition, offered to make the lots available to the city at the 1956 price.

Mason said acquisition of the area is a bargain since it averages out to less than $15 a lot.

The purchase will give the city a recreation area roughly 800 by 300 feet in one section plus an additional area for other development.

Mason told council that it would be possible to install a Little League or softball field, tennis courts and a park overlooking the city. The area would not be large enough for a regulation baseball field, however, Mason added.

The recreation area will be where the old East Side-Leiper Street baseball field was located years ago. It is between Shades Lane and Frederick Street and accessible from Shades Lane via Cole Street; Princeton Street and Frederick via Forster Avenue, Mason said.

It is one of the few areas remaining within the city suitable for recreation planning such as the department has in mind, Mason said.

"I wish to praise the interest and civic-mindedness of those who have made this area possible," Mason said.

Under the option agreement, taxes on the property will be adjusted as of the date of sale, the sellers to supply federal stamps and the purchaser any state stamps required.

Money for the transaction will come from the "Recreation Bond Fund of 1947."

Man Is Shot In Unusual Accident

Donald Markle, 30, remains in "satisfactory" condition at Potomac Valley Hospital where he was admitted Saturday about 7 p. m. after being accidentally shot in the right side.

Hospital officials said Markle was driving his automobile to his RD 3 home, and had a loaded rifle on the front seat. The rifle discharged accidentally, they said.

Markle was taken to the hospital by Walter Kesner.

Webster Tells County About State Loan Funds

Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools, yesterday met with the Allegany County Board of Commissioners to acquaint them with the state loan plan whereby approximately $30,000 in costs for converting the old Carver School into Allegany Community College will be paid to the county from state matching funds.

Webster said that Allegany County will be eligible for a total of $154,000 in matching funds and that the money spent in modernizing the building on Frederick Street and other capital outlays for equipment and similar projects totaled $60,000. The state will provide $30,000 on the matching basis program.

Other projects which will be decided upon in the near future will include new chemical and physics laboratories and equipment to inaugurate a new program which will fit into the local industrial plant system.

Students will be given courses which will prepare them to assist chemists and other technical personnel in local industries.

The $154,000 which the county is eligible to obtain through the matching fund program will also be available for purchase of land and other equipment which would be needed as the college expands.

Webster will submit a listing of all the projects at the college which have been completed so that the matching funds can be obtained.

S. H. Storer Named To Zone Board

Sidney H. Storer Sr. was reappointed to the city's Zoning Appeals Board yesterday by the Mayor and Council.

The appointment is effective January 15 and will expire January 15, 1965.

Other members of the board are William B. Orndorff whose term expires January 15, 1963, and James C. Gardner whose term expires January 15, 1964.

In other action, council authorized Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming to advertise for bids on a police cruiser; and Street Commissioner John J. Long to advertise for bids on 240 lineal feet of 15 inch terra cotta pipe for the Mullan Street sewer project.

The bid of Norman Kline, 700 North Mechanic Street, in the amount of $2,225 for what is known as "Franklin Street Lot" was accepted.

Council approved payment of $1,600 to Robert T. Regester, Baltimore consulting engineer, for preparation of plans and specifications, advisory supervision during rehabilitation of the gate chamber, pumping equipment and piping at the Lake Gordon water plant. The amount is to be charged to the Water Improvement Bond Fund.

College Choir Will Appear Here Jan. 25

The Gettysburg College Choir will present a program of sacred choral music January 25 at 8 p. m. in the Allegany High School auditorium.

The program is being sponsored by the United Lutheran Men of Allegany County, according to Raymond W. Hahne, president of the group.

Hahne said the sponsoring group includes men from three Cumberland churches and churches in Westernport, Keyser and Frostburg.

The choir is on its annual concert tour which this year takes it to a dozen cities in Maryland, Virginia, and North Carolina. Its previous tour into the South was made in 1959 when it was received by audiences as far as Florida and Georgia. So popular have its programs become that it regularly must turn down requests for concert appearances than it can fill. Campus programs at Christmas time are to standing-room-only audiences.

In recent years the choir has appeared as far west as Minneapolis, Minnesota, where it represented the United Lutheran Church in America at the Lutheran Worldly Assembly; in Canada, and last year the choir made its premiere appearance in Town Hall, New York City.

The choir was founded 25 years ago by Parker B. Wagnild, chairman of the Department of Music at Gettysburg College. Wagnild received his undergraduate training at St. Olaf College in Minnesota where he sang in The St. Olaf Choir.

Fire Company To Install Today

A husband and wife team will take over as presidents of the Bowling Green Volunteer Fire Company and its Ladies Auxiliary in installation services in the fire hall today at 7:30 p. m.

They are Raymond Small and his wife, Mary.

Mrs. Minnie Thomas of Clarysville, vice president of the auxiliary to the Allegany-Garrett Volunteer Firemen's Association, will conduct the installation of the auxiliary, while a representative of the association will be in charge of inducting the volunteer officers.

At 7 p. m. preceding the services, the fire company will hold a short business meeting.

County May Build Two Bridges

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday placed two bridge projects in the programming schedule in order to become eligible for federal aid matching funds.

Commissioner John J. Rowan said that both projects had to be programmed before January 31 so that the county could obtain matching federal funds when it was decided to go ahead with the work.

One project provides for the eventual construction of a bridge over Flintstone Creek on the Black Valley Road. The site of the proposed span and approaches is 1,000 feet north of U.S. Route 40 in the Flintstone area.

The bridge across the stream would be 45 feet long and have a 22 foot roadway.

Another bridge and approach project is on Town Creek Road and crosses a stream by the same name. It is located beyond the one-mile road project which was authorized a few months ago.

This bridge would be 150 feet long and have a 22-foot roadway.

The agreements for programming the two projects will be sent to S. T. Nottingham of the State Roads Commission. The state agency handles these details for the counties.

County Court Docket Opened

The January term of Allegany County Circuit Court opened yesterday with the reading of the docket.

Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris and Associate Judge W. Earle Cobey presided.

Criminal appeal cases will open Tuesday, January 9.

Admitted to practice before the local bar was Henry Holzappel 3d, who came here some months ago from Hagerstown where he had practiced law since 1933. He is now associated with the stock brokerage firm of Winslow, Cohu and Stetson, Inc., Liberty Trust building.

Holzappel was a member of the House of Delegates from Washington County from 1934 through 1946. He was admitted to the local bar on motion of Noel Speir Cook, local attorney and also a member of the House of Delegates from Allegany County.

Holzappel's wife is employed as librarian at Allegany Community College.

Street Removed From County System

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday took action in eliminating one of the four streets in Potomac Park from inclusion in the county system.

Commissioners John J. Rowan and Louis V. Shinnamon voted to exclude G avenue as the result of an inspection last Friday afternoon of a condition which would have required a wall along G avenue in front of one property.

Commissioner John T. Mason voted to have the avenue included along with the other three, B, C, and F avenues. Commissioner Rowan said he does not feel any of the streets can meet the State Roads Commission specifications to be included in the county system under the gasoline tax mileage program.

The state of Wyoming was named from Wyoming Valley, Pa., which was the site of an Indian massacre and became widely known by Campbell's poem, "Gertrude of Wyoming."

Webster Tells County About State Loan Funds

Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools, yesterday met with the Allegany County Board of Commissioners to acquaint them with the state loan plan whereby approximately $30,000 in costs for converting the old Carver School into Allegany Community College will be paid to the county from state matching funds.

Webster said that Allegany County will be eligible for a total of $154,000 in matching funds and that the money spent in modernizing the building on Frederick Street and other capital outlays for equipment and similar projects totaled $60,000. The state will provide $30,000 on the matching basis program.

Other projects which will be decided upon in the near future will include new chemical and physics laboratories and equipment to inaugurate a new program which will fit into the local industrial plant system.

Students will be given courses which will prepare them to assist chemists and other technical personnel in local industries.

The $154,000 which the county is eligible to obtain through the matching fund program will also be available for purchase of land and other equipment which would be needed as the college expands.

Webster will submit a listing of all the projects at the college which have been completed so that the matching funds can be obtained.

S. H. Storer Named To Zone Board

Sidney H. Storer Sr. was reappointed to the city's Zoning Appeals Board yesterday by the Mayor and Council.

The appointment is effective January 15 and will expire January 15, 1965.

Other members of the board are William B. Orndorff whose term expires January 15, 1963, and James C. Gardner whose term expires January 15, 1964.

In other action, council authorized Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming to advertise for bids on a police cruiser; and Street Commissioner John J. Long to advertise for bids on 240 lineal feet of 15 inch terra cotta pipe for the Mullan Street sewer project.

The bid of Norman Kline, 700 North Mechanic Street, in the amount of $2,225 for what is known as "Franklin Street Lot" was accepted.

Council approved payment of $1,600 to Robert T. Regester, Baltimore consulting engineer, for preparation of plans and specifications, advisory supervision during rehabilitation of the gate chamber, pumping equipment and piping at the Lake Gordon water plant. The amount is to be charged to the Water Improvement Bond Fund.

College Choir Will Appear Here Jan. 25

The Gettysburg College Choir will present a program of sacred choral music January 25 at 8 p. m. in the Allegany High School auditorium.

The program is being sponsored by the United Lutheran Men of Allegany County, according to Raymond W. Hahne, president of the group.

Hahne said the sponsoring group includes men from three Cumberland churches and churches in Westernport, Keyser and Frostburg.

The choir is on its annual concert tour which this year takes it to a dozen cities in Maryland, Virginia, and North Carolina. Its previous tour into the South was made in 1959 when it was received by audiences as far as Florida and Georgia. So popular have its programs become that it regularly must turn down requests for concert appearances than it can fill. Campus programs at Christmas time are to standing-room-only audiences.

In recent years the choir has appeared as far west as Minneapolis, Minnesota, where it represented the United Lutheran Church in America at the Lutheran Worldly Assembly; in Canada, and last year the choir made its premiere appearance in Town Hall, New York City.

The choir was founded 25 years ago by Parker B. Wagnild, chairman of the Department of Music at Gettysburg College. Wagnild received his undergraduate training at St. Olaf College in Minnesota where he sang in The St. Olaf Choir.

Fire Company To Install Today

A husband and wife team will take over as presidents of the Bowling Green Volunteer Fire Company and its Ladies Auxiliary in installation services in the fire hall today at 7:30 p. m.

They are Raymond Small and his wife, Mary.

Mrs. Minnie Thomas of Clarysville, vice president of the auxiliary to the Allegany-Garrett Volunteer Firemen's Association, will conduct the installation of the auxiliary, while a representative of the association will be in charge of inducting the volunteer officers.

At 7 p. m. preceding the services, the fire company will hold a short business meeting.

County May Build Two Bridges

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday placed two bridge projects in the programming schedule in order to become eligible for federal aid matching funds.

Commissioner John J. Rowan said that both projects had to be programmed before January 31 so that the county could obtain matching federal funds when it was decided to go ahead with the work.

One project provides for the eventual construction of a bridge over Flintstone Creek on the Black Valley Road. The site of the proposed span and approaches is 1,000 feet north of U.S. Route 40 in the Flintstone area.

The bridge across the stream would be 45 feet long and have a 22 foot roadway.

Another bridge and approach project is on Town Creek Road and crosses a stream by the same name. It is located beyond the one-mile road project which was authorized a few months ago.

This bridge would be 150 feet long and have a 22-foot roadway.

The agreements for programming the two projects will be sent to S. T. Nottingham of the State Roads Commission. The state agency handles these details for the counties.

County Court Docket Opened

The January term of Allegany County Circuit Court opened yesterday with the reading of the docket.

Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris and Associate Judge W. Earle Cobey presided.

Criminal appeal cases will open Tuesday, January 9.

Admitted to practice before the local bar was Henry Holzappel 3d, who came here some months ago from Hagerstown where he had practiced law since 1933. He is now associated with the stock brokerage firm of Winslow, Cohu and Stetson, Inc., Liberty Trust building.

Holzappel was a member of the House of Delegates from Washington County from 1934 through 1946. He was admitted to the local bar on motion of Noel Speir Cook, local attorney and also a member of the House of Delegates from Allegany County.

Holzappel's wife is employed as librarian at Allegany Community College.

Street Removed From County System

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday took action in eliminating one of the four streets in Potomac Park from inclusion in the county system.

Commissioners John J. Rowan and Louis V. Shinnamon voted to exclude G avenue as the result of an inspection last Friday afternoon of a condition which would have required a wall along G avenue in front of one property.

Commissioner John T. Mason voted to have the avenue included along with the other three, B, C, and F avenues. Commissioner Rowan said he does not feel any of the streets can meet the State Roads Commission specifications to be included in the county system under the gasoline tax mileage program.

St. Michael's Classes Resume On Thursday

PTA Will Sponsor Three Card Parties

FROSTBURG — St. Michael's Parochial School will resume classes on Thursday. All persons driving children to and from school in private cars are asked to park beyond the school bus stop.

Confessions will be heard Thursday from 5 to 6 p. m. and 7:30 to 8:30 p. m. in preparation for the first Friday of the month. Masses Friday will be at 6:30 and 8 a. m. and 5:10 p. m.

A public social for the benefit of St. Michael's Church will be held Friday at 8 p. m. in the parish hall.

The Sodality of St. Michael's Church will attend 7:30 Mass Sunday and receive Holy communion in a body. Sodality services will be held Sunday evening in the church.

St. Michael's PTA will sponsor a series of three card parties January 15, February 12 and March 5. Mrs. Vincent Bollino will be chairman for the parties.

Hampshire GOP Plans Dinner

ROMNEY — The Hampshire-Hardy County Republican executive committees have scheduled a Lincoln Day dinner for January 27, at 7 p.m. in the American Legion Home here. Congressman Arch A. Moore, Glen Dale, will be the principal speaker.

Moore has successfully run for Congress in 1956, 1958 and 1960. He also served in the West Virginia Legislature.

An attorney, he practices law in Moundsville and is a veteran of World War II. He was wounded in action in 1944 during the German campaign and has received military decorations for that campaign. He has also been decorated by the Italian Republic for his work in developing understanding among nations.

Cooper Benedict, candidate for the Second Congressional District, will attend the dinner, according to Mrs. Donald Clise, secretary of the Hampshire County Republican executive committee.

4-H Club Visits Mennonite Home

GRANTSVILLE — Route 40 Pioneer 4-H Club members visited the Goodwill Mennonite Home, sang carols and presented a Christmas box to each patient.

Follwing a tour of the home, the group met at the residence of Valeria Durst who led devotions. Participating in a program were Trudy Twigg, Emma Jean Blocher, Jeanne Stark, Sharon Kemp and Lois Crowe.

A brief business meeting was in charge of Miss Blocher, president. Four-H emblems were presented to Cynthia Rosenburger, Phyllis and Betty Laton, Wilma and Ethel Crowe, Emma Jean and Patricia Blocher, Edwina Crowe, Trudy Twigg, Jeanne Stark, Mary Turner, Sharon Kamp, Linda Hardesty, Lois and Nancy Crowe, Lois Setzer, Sally Klotz, Rose Brode, Susan Turner, Valeria Durst and Joyce Jenkins.

The next meeting will be held January 19 at the home of Sally Klotz.

Girls Injured In Auto Crash

KEYSER—Two 16-year-old area girls were admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital, Saturday night following an accident on New Creek Drive.

Judy Kay Harris, New Creek, the driver, and Jennifer Gerstell, RD 4, Keyser, a passenger, were admitted with possible concussions and for observation following the one-car mishap.

West Virginia State Police here said the girls' auto ran off the side of the road after allegedly trying to avoid hitting another vehicle.

They were taken to the hospital by the Harris girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess A. Harris, who live near the scene of the accident.

Both girls were discharged Monday.

New Dryer Installed

Eugene McCune, LaVale, is shown in the coin-operated "Kwik-Wash" which he owns and operates in Frostburg with a new type dryer. The "Kwik-Dryer" which has just been installed is used for wash and wear articles. The air is pulled in at vents on the side and forced over two electric heaters with an exhaust fan pulling the air through the clothing and out an exhaust pipe. Mr. McCune stated that it took about two years to develop the machine and six weeks to build it. The Cumberland Welding Company and the Maryland Electric Company constructed the machine. Nylon uniforms used by waitresses, nurses and beauticians, drapes, blankets, chair covers and wearing apparel may be dried in the device. Slacks are placed on forms and when dry need only a touch with the iron. Mr. McCune is manager of the Crystal Laundry in Cumberland.

Dimes Drive Will Begin This Month

OAKLAND—The annual drive to raise funds for the March of Dimes will begin this month.

Charles L. Briner, campaign director, announced that 3,000 mailer notices were sent to rural families and others.

Various acitvities are being planned for the month-long drive for funds. Briner urged that the mailers be returned to the community director as soon as possible with their contributions.

Briner pointed out that while polio was at a minimum this year, the care of patients as well as research for birth defects and arthritis continued.

Posters and coin collectors were distributed to community directors three weeks ago and Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent of schools, has given permission for the schools again to participate in the March of Dimes.

A Mothers' March will be conducted toward the latter part of January,

Secretary for the drive is Mrs. Betty Trickett. Glenn Forman, First National Bank in Oakland, is treasurer.

Frostburg Man Named Captain

FROSTBURG — William P. Holmes, 3rd, son of Mrs. Marie K. Holmes, 79 Ormond Street, and the late W. Pinkney Holmes, was promoted to captain at Schofield Barracks, Hawaii, where he is a member of the Army's 25th Infantry Division.

Capt. Holmes, who is operation and training officer in headquarters of the division's 19th Infantry Regiment, entered the military service in 1955 and arrived at Hawaii in August 1959.

A 1954 graduate of Beall High School, he attended Johns Hopkins University and is a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity. His wife and daughter are with him in Hawaii.

Hardesty Dies In Fairmont

FAIRMONT, W. Va. (UPI)—The father of State Tax Commissioner C. Howard Hardesty Jr. will be buried in Woodlawn Cemetery Wednesday afternoon, following funeral services at the residence.

C. Howard Hardesty Sr., 68, former state senator, died at his home Monday, following an illness of several weeks.

Gov. W. W. Barron will be among the state's dignitaries attending the funeral.

A prominent Marion County insurance executive and Democratic Party leader, Hardesty was appointed to the Senate from the 14th District June 11, 1941, to fill the vacancy resulting from the death of Earl H. Smith, Fairmont. He was elected to the unexpired term in 1942 and re-elected to full four-year terms in 1944 and 1948.

The elder Hardesty was president of Henry and Hardesty Inc., Fairmont.

Shaft Firemen Quench Flue Fire

FROSTBURG — The Shaft Volunteer Fire Department answered an alarm recently at a garage on Furnace Hill, Midlothian, with ten members responding. The fire was extinguished within a few minutes. No damage resulted other than a little charred wood around the flue outlet.

Other alarms answered recently were a flue fire at the residence of Charles Kaefer, National, with eight men responding; a grass fire at the Bert Morgan Farm, with six men answering the alarm.

A distress call was answered when a pet cat owned by Miss Anna Nicht, Wrights Crossing, took refuge in a tree overnight. Five men answered the call and retrieved the cat.

Calanthe Temple Will Install

FROSTBURG — Calanthe Temple 3, Pythian Sisters, will meet Friday at 7:30 p. m. with Catherine Cook, most excellent chief, in charge.

Yule Tree Collection Is Planned

KEYSER — Several organizations have completed plans for the annual collection of Christmas trees here Saturday.

Sponsored by the Keyser Fire Department's Fire Prevention Committee, the project will have the added assistance of the city employees and local boy Scouts.

As many Scouts as possible are requested to meet at the Fire Hall at 8 a. m. on Saturday. The trees will be trucked to the Jasper Morris farm on Ridgeville Road, where they will be placed in gulleys as part of a conservation move.

Local residents are asked to cooperate by placing their trees at the front of their property so the volunteer workers can collect them.

Boy Scouts are reminded that they can earn part of the requirements towards a Conservation Merit Badge by participating in this particular project.

Visits In Keyser

KEYSER—Rev. John F. Seibert II, assistant pastor of the First Lutheran Church, Norfolk, Va., has returned home after visiting with Mrs. Robert T. Coffman and family, State Street.

Meets Thursday

WESTERNPORT — Regular monthly meeting of the Social Welfare Club will be held Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Luke Recreation Center, according to Mrs. Edith Rowan, president.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Will you please tell me why men who eat alone in restaurants are usually unpleasant, humorless, chronic complainers and abusive to waitresses?

I've been a waitress for 11 years and have discussed this with girls who have been in the work longer than I. They agree that the guy who wanders in alone, night after night is the one they hope will sit at somebody else's station.

Does eating alone make nice, sweet guys mean or what?—
HOT COFFEE

DEAR COFFEE: It's the other way around. They're not mean because they're alone — they're alone because they're mean.

The man who dines alone night after night is generally anti-social. Usually he is unattached because his personality defects make marriage extremely difficult or impossible.

The sourpuss is unpleasant and humorless because he is unhappy. A little kindness and warmth could go a long way toward thawing him out. Try it.

DEAR ANN: My husband's mother is trying to get a divorce after 27 years of marriage. We don't know the details but we think she has another man. She has a good job and is quite youthful looking. We both like her and have never meddled in the whys and wherefores of her marital problems.

Three weeks ago she moved in with us. We are both fond of my father-in-law and although nothing has been said, we think he may be getting a raw deal.

Under the circumstances I don't believe my mother-in law should be living with us. It may appear as though we are taking her side and we wish to remain neutral. Your opinion is wanted.
UNEASY

DEAR UNEASY: I agree that your mother-in-law should make her headquarters elsewhere since living with you suggests approval of what she is doing. Offer to help her find another place at once.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a senior in high school. There are four able-bodied kids in the family besides myself. I'm the oldest, then there are two girls, 16 and 15, and two boys, 13 and 10.

We have a lovely home with nice furniture. Mom is a good housekeeper and we have a cleaning lady twice a week. It seems as if I spend my whole life picking up after everyone.

If the other kids get home before I do, they tear things up something awful. Sometimes when I bring a girl friend home from school the house is a disgrace. I've been embarrassed so many times that I hesitate to bring anyone home any more.

I wish I knew what to do about this. Must I wait until I'm married and have a home of my own before I can have things neat?—
MAZIE

DEAR MAZIE: Do your friends come to your home to enjoy your company or are they spies for the sanitation bureau?

If you mom is a good housekeeper and she has a cleaning lady twice a week the place can't be as bad as you seem to think.

Have a pow-wow with the other kids. Ask them to help keep the house straight — not because a home should be a showcase for visitors, but because an orderly home is nicer for everyone who lives in it.

If alcohol is robbing you or someone you love of health and dignity, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Help For The Alcoholic," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Grantsville Firemen Name 1962 Officers

GRANTSVILLE — Jack Keim has been elected president of the Grantsville Volunteer Fire Company.

Other officers are Robert Davis, vice president; Emmons Warnick, secretary; Charles O. Keller, treasurer; William Biddington, assistant treasurer; Henry L. Durst, chief; Donald J. Newman, first assistant chief, and Herbert Ringer, second assistant chief.

Clinton McKenzie, Robert Speicher and Nevin J. Miller comprise the standing committee.

Keim said the annual fund drive for fire equipment expenses is underway. A new pumper from the Central Fire Apparatus Company in St. Louis will arrive soon, he added.

Keyser Kiwanis Will Install

KEYSER — New officers of the Keyser Kiwanis Club will be installed at a dinner meeting today at 6:15 p. m. in the Rose Room of Rosemont Restaurant.

An election was held in the fall of 1961 in order that officers may attend courses during the divisional convention at Blackwater Falls State Park.

Succeeding James T. Watson as president is Russell Foltz. Following the installation ceremonies, several new members will be officially inducted into the club.

Frostburg Personals

Charles Layman, Cleveland, and James Layman, Washington, D. C., have returned after visiting their mother, Mrs. Hannah Layman, 65 East Main Street.

Miss Cecelia Spates returned to Alexandria, Va., after spending the holidays with Miss Katie Spates and William Spates, Broadway.

Miss Joyce Cole, Rochester, N. Y., has returned after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Cole, Beall Street.

Francis and Paul Passarelli, Washington, D. C., have returned after spending the holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Passarelli.

Kenneth Lowery, Mt. Pleasant Street, has returned home after being a patient in Sacred Heart Hospital.

Club To Install New Officers

New officers of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club for 1962 will be installed at the weekly luncheon meeting Thursday at 12:15 p. m. at Central YMCA.

H. Warren McCann, 1962 lieutenant governor for the Ninth Division, will attend the meeting and conduct the installing ceremonies. Mr. McCann is ending his term as president of the Suburban Hagerstown Kiwanis Club.

New officers are Dr. John J. Robinson Jr., president; Paul W. Barnett, vice president; Richard W. Kirsch, treasurer, and Albert D. Darby, secretary. Directors starting new three-year terms are Dr. Edwin L. Everhart, David E. Kirk and Francis E. Rohman Jr.

Rise In Enlistments Noted In Army Recruiting Report

KEYSER—The 1961 report of Army recruiting activities for this area reveals a 25 percent increase in Regular Army enlistments over that of 1960. During the same period, enlistments in the Women's Army Corps, which comprised about four per cent of the total, were over 50 per cent higher.

The report released by Capt. Gerard B. Overman, Commander of the Army Recruiting Main Station in Fairmont, includes all Army procurement operations in northern West Virginia, northeastern Ohio, southwest Pennsylvania and western Maryland.

Over 80 per cent of the new soldiers enlisted for special schooling or for specific technical training. The most popular courses were in motor maintenance, clerical, electric-electronic, general technical, and the combat arms fields. Nine per cent chose overseas assignments in Europe, Hawaii, Alaska or in the Far East. Five per cent were volunteers for the U. S. Paratroops and Special Forces.

Sgt. Joseph A. Celich, local Army recruiter, credited the increase in volunteers to a change in the Army enlistment policies and a realization on the part of young Americans that they can serve their country and receive valuable technical training that will give them a head start in business or industry.

"Unfortunately," he said, "a good many people still base their opinions of Army assignment procedures on World War II and Korean Conflict memories, when almost overnight, the Army swelled by millions of men. There was little time for individual attention. Mistakes were made. The miracle is that there weren't more of them."

"The present policy is to test the applicants for specific occupational areas and then, before enlistment, to allow those qualified to choose from currently available schools and assignments. If what they want is not available, they are under no obligation to enlist. However, this very rarely happens, because there is always a wide variety of schools and training courses to choose from. Today's Army has approximately 75,000 jobs that didn't even exist in 1945."

Holy Name Unit Being Reorganized

KEYSER—Plans for the reorganization of the Holy Name Society at the Church of the Assumption have been outlined to men of the parish by Rev. John O'Connell, assistant pastor, spiritual advisor for the group.

Father O'Connell said each man in the parish should be a Holy Name man and that although the prime object of the HNS is the spiritual development of each member, yet it should also serve as an organization to develop a Catholic spirit among the men and to create an interest in the well-being of each man of the parish as well as in all things that concern the parish, the church and the school.

Each man has been invited to join the society and to be present at the 8 o'clock Mass each Sunday of the month when the organization receives Communion in a body. Regular meetings are scheduled on the Monday evening following the second Sunday at 7:30 p. m. in St. Mary's Hall.

There has also been a revision made regarding the payment of annual dues, Father O'Connell said.

Official Board Of Church Meets

BARTON — The Official Board of the First Methodist Church will hold a meeting today at 7:30 p.m. in the church social room, with Rev. Dennis Lord, in charge.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church will hold a meeting on Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the church social room with Mrs. Hazel Houdersheldt, president, in charge.

Bible Class To Meet Tonight

PIEDMONT — Aurora Derham Bible Class of Trinity Methodist Church will hold its Christmas meeting today at 7:30 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Kermit Kildman, Luke.

Jingle gifts will be exchanged.

Club Will Meet

Coal Pipeline Would Not Hurt Railroad Jobs

Association Cites Its Position

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The West Virginia Coal Association (WVCA) said Tuesday that a coal-carrying pipeline from West Virginia to the East Coast would have little effect on railroad employment.

The association said that the pipeline would carry coal slurry to East Coast markets not now in existence.

In a pamphlet aimed at offsetting opposition by the railroads and railroad employe unions, the association said the pipeline is "one of the most exciting and important advances of the coal industry in recent years."

Each million tons of coal produced for pipelines will require about 300 miners, the association said. The pamphlet added that this is in addition to those employed in related industries.

Gov. W. W. Barron has asked the forthcoming session of the West Virginia Legislature to consider legislation giving the pipeline builders the right of eminent domain — or condmenation rights.

The railroads have contended a pipeline builder could not qualify for property condemnation rights because it would be a contract rather than a common carrier.

"The capacity of any coal pipeline or coal pipelines is to be commited under long term contracts with various power plants and industrial users," WVCA said. "Any coal producer, large or small, with suitable coal will have the opportunity to participate in fulfilling such contracts."

The railroads said in another statement Tuesday they believe "that almost every ton of coal which might be carried in the slurry pipeline will be taken away from the railroads."

"Therefore, we are dismayed to read the statements made by the pipelines that railroad traffic will remain the same but that new market will be opened for coal," railroad association executive secretary George F. Parrish said.

Parrish said that in the railroads' opposition to the line, they "are thinking of the 15,000 men and women working for the railroads...of the stores and schools which are geared to an economy based on railroad payrolls and railroad taxes."

New Dryer Installed

Eugene McCune, LaVale, is shown in the coin-operated "Kwik-Wash" which he owns and operates in Frostburg with a new type dryer. The "Kwik-Dryer" which has just been installed is used for wash and wear articles. The air is pulled in at vents on the side and forced over two electric heaters with an exhaust fan pulling the air through the clothing and out an exhaust pipe. Mr. McCune stated that it took about two years to develop the machine and six weeks to build it. The Cumberland Welding Company and the Maryland Electric Company constructed the machine. Nylon uniforms used by waitresses, nurses and beauticians, drapes, blankets, chair covers and wearing apparel may be dried in the device. Slacks are placed on forms and when dry need only a touch with the iron. Mr. McCune is manager of the Crystal Laundry in Cumberland.

Dimes Drive Will Begin This Month

OAKLAND—The annual drive to raise funds for the March of Dimes will begin this month.

Charles L. Briner, campaign director, announced that 3,000 mailer notices were sent to rural families and others.

Various acitvities are being planned for the month-long drive for funds. Briner urged that the mailers be returned to the community director as soon as possible with their contributions.

Briner pointed out that while polio was at a minimum this year, the care of patients as well as research for birth defects and arthritis continued.

Posters and coin collectors were distributed to community directors three weeks ago and Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent of schools, has given permission for the schools again to participate in the March of Dimes.

A Mothers' March will be conducted toward the latter part of January.

Secretary for the drive is Mrs. Betty Trickett. Glenn Forman, First National Bank in Oakland, is treasurer.

Hardesty Dies In Fairmont

FAIRMONT, W. Va. (UPI)—The father of State Tax Commissioner C. Howard Hardesty Jr. will be buried in Woodlawn Cemetery Wednesday afternoon, following funeral services at the residence.

C. Howard Hardesty Sr., 68, former state senator, died at his home Monday, following an illness of several weeks.

Gov. W. W. Barron will be among the state's dignitaries attending the funeral.

A prominent Marion County insurance executive and Democratic Party leader, Hardesty was appointed to the Senate from the 14th District June 11, 1941, to fill the vacancy resulting from the death of Earl H. Smith, Fairmont. He was elected to the unexpired term in 1942 and re-elected to full four-year terms in 1944 and 1948.

The elder Hardesty was president of Henry and Hardesty Inc., Fairmont.

Shaft Firemen Quench Flue Fire

FROSTBURG — The Shaft Volunteer Fire Department answered an alarm recently at a garage on Furnace Hill, Midlothian, with ten members responding. The fire was extinguished within a few minutes. No damage resulted other than a little charred wood around the flue outlet.

Other alarms answered recently were a flue fire at the residence of Charles Kaefer, National, with eight men responding; a grass fire at the Bert Morgan Farm, with six men answering the alarm.

A distress call was answered when a pet cat owned by Miss Anna Nicht, Wrights Crossing, took refuge in a tree overnight. Five men answered the call and retrieved the cat.

Meets Thursday

WESTERNPORT — Regular monthly meeting of the Social Welfare Club will be held Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Luke Recreation Center, according to Mrs. Edith Rowan, president.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Will you please tell me why men who eat alone in restaurants are usually unpleasant, humorless, chronic complainers and abusive to waitresses?

I've been a waitress for 11 years and have discussed this with girls who have been in the work longer than I. They agree that the guy who wanders in alone, night after night is the one they hope will sit at somebody else's station.

Does eating alone make nice, sweet guys mean or what?—
HOT COFFEE

DEAR COFFEE: It's the other way around. They're not mean because they're alone — they're alone because they're mean.

The man who dines alone night after night is generally anti-social. Usually he is unattached because his personality defects make marriage extremely difficult or impossible.

The sourpuss is unpleasant and humorless because he is unhappy. A little kindness and warmth could go a long way toward thawing him out. Try it.

DEAR ANN: My husband's mother is trying to get a divorce after 27 years of marriage. We don't know the details but we think she has another man. She has a good job and is quite youthful looking. We both like her and have never meddled in the whys and wherefores of her marital problems.

Three weeks ago she moved in with us. We are both fond of my father-in-law and although nothing has been said, we think he may be getting a raw deal.

Under the circumstances I don't believe my mother-in law should be living with us. It may appear as though we are taking her side and we wish to remain neutral. Your opinion is wanted.
UNEASY

DEAR UNEASY: I agree that your mother-in-law should make her headquarters elsewhere since living with you suggests approval of what she is doing. Offer to help her find another place at once.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a senior in high school. There are four able-bodied kids in the family besides myself. I'm the oldest, then there are two girls, 16 and 15, and two boys, 13 and 10.

We have a lovely home with nice furniture. Mom is a good housekeeper and we have a cleaning lady twice a week. It seems as if I spend my whole life picking up after everyone.

If the other kids get home before I do, they tear things up something awful. Sometimes when I bring a girl friend home from school the house is a disgrace. I've been embarrassed so many times that I hesitate to bring anyone home any more.

I wish I knew what to do about this. Must I wait until I'm married and have a home of my own before I can have things neat?—
MAZIE

DEAR MAZIE: Do your friends come to your home to enjoy your company or are they spies for the sanitation bureau?

If you mom is a good housekeeper and she has a cleaning lady twice a week the place can't be as bad as you seem to think.

Have a pow-wow with the other kids. Ask them to help keep the house straight — not because a home should be a showcase for visitors, but because an orderly home is nicer for everyone who lives in it.

If alcohol is robbing you or someone you love of health and dignity, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Help For The Alcoholic," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Rise In Enlistments Noted In Army Recruiting Report

KEYSER—The 1961 report of Army recruiting activities for this area reveals a 25 percent increase in Regular Army enlistments over that of 1960. During the same period, enlistments in the Women's Army Corps, which comprised about four per cent of the total, were over 50 per cent higher.

The report released by Capt. Gerard B. Overman, Commander of the Army Recruiting Main Station in Fairmont, includes all Army procurement operations in northern West Virginia, northeastern Ohio, southwest Pennsylvania and western Maryland.

Over 80 per cent of the new soldiers enlisted for special schooling or for specific technical training. The most popular courses were in motor maintenance, clerical, electric-electronic, general technical, and the combat arms fields. Nine per cent chose overseas assignments in Europe, Hawaii, Alaska or in the Far East. Five per cent were volunteers for the U. S. Paratroops and Special Forces.

Sgt. Joseph A. Celich, local Army recruiter, credited the increase in volunteers to a change in the Army enlistment policies and a realization on the part of young Americans that they can serve their country and receive valuable technical training that will give them a head start in business or industry.

"Unfortunately," he said, "a good many people still base their opinions of Army assignment procedures on World War II and Korean Conflict memories, when almost overnight, the Army swelled by millions of men. There was little time for individual attention. Mistakes were made. The miracle is that there weren't more of them."

"The present policy is to test the applicants for specific occupational areas and then, before enlistment, to allow those qualified to choose from currently available schools and assignments. If what they want is not available, they are under no obligation to enlist. However, this very rarely happens, because there is always a wide variety of schools and training courses to choose from. Today's Army has approximately 75,000 jobs that didn't even exist in 1945."

Holy Name Unit Being Reorganized

KEYSER—Plans for the reorganization of the Holy Name Society at the Church of the Assumption have been outlined to men of the parish by Rev. John O'Connell, assistant pastor, spiritual advisor for the group.

Father O'Connell said each man in the parish should be a Holy Name man and that although the prime object of the HNS is the spiritual development of each member, yet it should also serve as an organization to develop a Catholic spirit among the men and to create an interest in the well-being of each man of the parish as well as in all things that concern the parish, the church and the school.

Each man has been invited to join the society and to be present at the 8 o'clock Mass each Sunday of the month when the organization receives Communion in a body. Regular meetings are scheduled on the Monday evening following the second Sunday at 7:30 p. m. in St. Mary's Hall.

There has also been a revision made regarding the payment of annual dues, Father O'Connell said.

Barron's Bills To Be Ready For Legislature

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The office of Gov. W. W. Barron said Tuesday the administration's bills will be ready for introduction to the 1962 Legislature when the lawmakers convene here next week.

Barron's press secretary, Con Hardman, said rough drafts have been completed of nearly all administration bills and that they are expected to be in final form by the end of this week.

The Legislature will convene its 30-day budget session at noon Jan. 10. Barron is scheduled to address the opening session at 1:30 p.m.

Barron issued a record 30-item call to the Legislature last Saturday. The governor asked the Legislature to consider, among other things, such controversial measures as bills to permit coal-pipeline builders to condemn and purchase private property, and to reapportion the legislative membership.

W. Va. Business Activity Fails To Match 1960

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Despite a high level of business activity, the economic gap in West Virginia between 1960 and 1961 still had not been closed through November, the State Chamber of Commerce said Tuesday.

The chamber's November report said 12 of 20 indicators it uses to measure the state's economy continued to trail 1960 levels. However, three trailed their 1960 counterparts by less than one per cent—with December totals not yet in.

Since June, the report said, retail sales have climbed to within 4.7 per cent of 1960 levels; coal production to within 6.4 per cent, and lumber production to within 21.6 per cent.

The value of manufactured products is off 5 per cent from 1960; railroad carloadings off 8 per cent; gross sales tax collections 2.2 per cent; gasoline sales .2 per cent; value of building permits 11.8 per cent; bank debits .7 per cent, and salaries and wages .2 per cent.

Most of the eight indicators currently running ahead of 1960 have substantially increased their margins since last June. Indicators posting the largest month-to-month gains during November were:

Natural gas production up 27.6 per cent; life insurance sales up 10.9 per cent; gasoline sales 8.7 per cent; automobile sales 46.3 per cent; postal receipts 18.2 per cent, and cash farm income 12.7 per cent.

Total employment in the state improved .1 per cent to 555,400, but total unemployment registered a seasonal increase of 4.6 per cent to 66,000, compared with the year's low of 63,000 in October.

Coal Research Urged For W.Va.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) — West Virginia must learn the value of coal research or the Mountain State will continue to lose coal markets to competitors with wide range research programs.

That is the opinion of Joseph W. Leonard, director of the new coal research bureau at West Virginia University. Leonard said the total research being done in coal is "only a drop in the bucket" compared to what is being done by the oil and gas industries.

Leonard said such industries have elaborate and well-financed research departments and are doing much to take away coal markets.

The director pointed out that the bureau here is already engaged in several studies designed to advance and expand markets for West Virginia coal.

Held In Slaying

KINGWOOD, W. Va. (UPI) — Ralph D. McKinney, 23, Masontown, Preston County, was ordered held without bond for action by the March grand jury Tuesday on a murder charge in connection with the fatal shooting Monday of Vernon McMillan, 45.

Prosecutor James T. Dailey said McKinney had signed a statement admitting the shooting which reportedly followed an argument between McKinney and McMillan. McKinney worked for McMillan on a dairy farm. McMillan was shot in the back.

Barron's Bills To Be Ready For Legislature

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The office of Gov. W. W. Barron said Tuesday the administration's bills will be ready for introduction to the 1962 Legislature when the lawmakers convene here next week.

Barron's press secretary, Con Hardman, said rough drafts have been completed of nearly all administration bills and that they are expected to be in final form by the end of this week.

The Legislature will convene its 30-day budget session at noon Jan. 10. Barron is scheduled to address the opening session at 1:30 p.m.

Barron issued a record 30-item call to the Legislature last Saturday. The governor asked the Legislature to consider, among other things, such controversial measures as bills to permit coal-pipeline builders to condemn and purchase private property, and to reapportion the legislative membership.

State Group Plans Training Meeting

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The Department of Forests and Parks will hold its annual staff training meeting at Gambrill State Park on Jan. 11-12.

A. Earl Mentzer, public relations officer for the agency, said Tuesday about 45 employes of the department are expected to attend the two-day session. The discussion will cover subjects ranging from public relations to power mowers.

The superintendents of Elk Neck, Patapsco, Cedarville, Fort Frederick and Deep Creek Lake state parks will be featured on a panel discussion of attendance records during the session, Mentzer said.

The War Drums In The Pacific

Soviet Russia would like nothing better than to see new troubles boiling in the remaining colonial territories outside the Soviet orbit. Witness Russia's congratulations to Nehru for grabbing Goa and salute to Indonesia for threatening invasion of the Dutch-colonial part of New Guinea.

Just now Khrushchev has colonial troubles aplenty himself as the kingpin of Soviet imperialism. East Europe includes Hungary, which must be kept down by the presence of a military garrison. Tiny Albania is a headache only less painful than that caused by the insolence of Red China.

On balance, things are also going badly for Khrushchev in Latin America. At home in Russia the food problem is bad and worsening.

Accordingly, Russia might welcome a war over West New Guinea with special glee just now. But is such a war either likely on Indonesia's military capability or beyond the scope of peaceful negotiations? There seem to be grounds for Western optimism.

Most important in support of this guess is that the Dutch, despite the new provocation, have again stated their readiness to negotiate the issues. Should all negotiations fail, what then?

Except for Indonesia, the Pacific since World War II and the Korean War has become a Western if not an American ocean in practical, undeclared sovereignty. Australia, the Philippines, Guam, and lesser islands cannot lightly be exposed to any real or progressive threat from an Indonesia backed by Soviet Russia or Red China, or both.

Some major decisions might then have to be made as to a show of Western force in the area. Meanwhile, Indonesia's strategic and logistical problem is a formidable one. Sukarno, having committed himself in haste to a New Guinea war, may be looking for a face-saving way to back down.

These Days

Another View

Frank L. Kluckhohn has had a wide experience as a newspaperman and government official and knows the State Department well. He does not heap the blame for State Department failures on the Secretaries of State but describes the mechanism of the Department in an article in the January "Reader's Digest" which makes it clear beyond doubt that something drastic must be done to revise, reorganize, redirect the staff of the State Department.

Citing chapter and verse, Kluckhohn shows how men in lower positions prevented Secretaries of State from becoming aware of the data which was essential to them. This does not apply only to the Kennedy Administration but has been continuous for years.

Kluckhohn describes the situation as follows:

"There are now 23,000 persons on State's payroll, the controlling group being the 3628 Foreign Service Officers. Typically, a young FSO steps into the Department direct from college. For six to eight years he stamps visas or does routine embassy chores while being shifted around the world. Even as he accumulates seniority and begins to assume 'responsibilities,' he rarely has to make an individual decision. Whatever reports he turns out are initialed and okayed by so many persons that he doesn't have to worry about being blamed personally if things fail to go right. In fact, his basic technique for advancement in the bureaucratic morass comes to consist of avoiding the displeasure of his immediate superior, or identification with any controversial action—even when the avoidance may mean ignoring a problem that could build up to a disaster."

Kluckhohn indicates how the young official is trained to avoid getting into trouble. His first lesson is "Don't rock the boat." This, of course, is true in big business and in universities and wherever there are large organizations of men. The problem that faces the individual is promotion without risk of hurting a superior or upsetting a regime. It is so easy to be squeezed on the escalator of achievement. The man above can kick the rising personality off the ladder; the man below can trip him as he moves upward.

The rising personality cleverly avoids interference or sudden emergencies. He takes his strides slowly, even if it damages the country. The man who moves out of step can do infinite damage to himself.

Kluckhohn gives as his number two rule: "Avoid making any decision for which you may be held personally responsible." This requires the responsible personality always to mark time so that if anything goes wrong he can blame someone else. The easiest one to blame is the Secretary of State; the public will believe that he took the wrong steps because he is the big man in the picture. How could a little gnat cause so much trouble? But the little ones do cause trouble, lots of it. They get in the way of things. They talk too much. They bubble over. They need to be spanked and no one wants to spank them. The President protects himself by having a staff in the White House to screen what comes from State and the CIA but the Secretary of State is a daily work-horse on the job who has day by day responsibilities and who cannot duck issues. All sorts of dispatches are signed in his name and decisions are taken for which he is directly and personally responsible. As few as a half dozen bone-heads can trip him up.

Secretary of State Hull, for instance, specialized in tariff questions and too often overlooked broader problems, so that the President or the Under Secretary was handling matters which rightly should have been the Secretary's.

This explains why the London Economic Conference at the beginning of the Roosevelt regime was such a failure. Secretary Hull was left out altogether. Raymond Moley, President Roosevelt and Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau were reaching decisions about which the Secretary of State knew nothing. In fact, Hull never knew anything about this most significant meeting out of which, in a large measure, grew World War II.

Similarly, Eisenhower was never adequately informed about the Castro situation. Kluckhohn describes how efforts were made to inform Eisenhower through his brother, Milton, and how these efforts failed. Little men stood in the way.

Much is being written and said on this subject but few constructive suggestions are made. Obviously, it is necessary to maintain a Foreign Office Force of trained men; at the same time, it is necessary to provide the top officials with precise information and to give them flexibility of decision and action.

Major Spy Story Of Year Behind Arrest Of Air Force Captain

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — The details have been suppressed regarding the case of Capt. Joseph Kauffman, the Air Force finance officer recently arrested for alleged espionage. When he goes on trial, however, the case will probably unfold as one of the major spy stories of the year.

The Air Force has evidence that one of Kauffman's close relatives is a Communist. There is also evidence that Kauffman arranged a 30-day leave in Germany and crossed into East Berlin in civilian clothes, in violation of an Air Force order, and with full knowledge that he would be picked up by the East Berlin police. An American military man in uniform has the right to enter East Berlin, but civilians are subject to cross-examination. For a military man to wear civilian clothes was an invitation to be arrested.

Kauffman was. When interrogated by an East German security officer he gave information regarding Air Force facilities in Greenland.

Later that same East German security officer defected to West Germany and told the story of what had happened.

Kauffman was arrested at Castle Air Force Base near Merced, Calif., and flown to Lindsay Air Force Base near Wiesbaden, Germany, to face his accusers. The Air Force will prosecute vigorously.

Gullible Americans will spend one billion dollars on quack cures in 1962. One-third of it will be on phony vitamin pills . . . Congressmen will stage a drive to increase their own salaries from $25,000 to $35,000 a year. They'll also raise their tax-free expense allotment from $2,250 to $5,000. No one who votes on this increase, however, can benefit from it until the next term . . . Pan American Airways means what it says about turning its airline over to the government if the airline pilots, now making $30,000 a year, go through with their strike . . . The medical researchers are about to unveil some new drugs called "energy enzymes," which some people will dub the "fountain of youth." The new drugs won't actually restore youth but may slow down the aging process . . . Marcus Cohn set a milestone regarding radio-press monopoly when the U. S. Court of Appeals recently found the Elyria-Lorain Broadcasting Company and the Lorain Journal guilty of antitrust violation for monopolizing both the press and the airwaves.

U. S. A-Tests

President Kennedy definitely has decided to resume atmospheric nuclear tests early in 1962, despite expected criticism by the neutralists.

The President advised Prime Minister Macmillan of his decision at Bermuda, and Macmillan agreed to support the move. He even offered to turn over Christmas Island in the Pacific to the Americans for the tests. It's probable Kennedy will accept the Christmas Island site and that at least 20 explosions in the atmosphere will be set off this year.

Behind The Political Headlines

Gov. Nelson Rockefeller has taken elaborate polls to see whether his divorce will hurt his political career. He seems to think that the can run for Governor of New York again successfully . . . Without the influence of his liberal wife, Rockefeller will become more conservative . . . If George Romney, dynamic head of American Motors, wins the governorship of Michigan impressively, he is certain to become a candidate for the GOP Presidential nomination in 1964 . . . President Kennedy will discourage his brother Ted from running against Congressman John McCormack's nephew Edward for the Senate. Instead Ted Kennedy will run for governor. The Kennedy-McCormack ticket in Massachusetts should be difficult to beat . . . In Pennnsylvania, Mayor Richardson Dilworth of Philadelphia will thumb his nose at the Democratic boss of Philadelphia, Phil Green, and run for governor. Dilworth is one of the best of Philadelphia's mayors. The other A-1 Mayor, Sen. Joe Clark, now running for re-election, will fill out an appealing Clark-Dilworth ticket for Senator and Governor . . . The Democrats will lose Ohio this year when Mike DiSalle bows out. GOP candidate James Rhodes will probably succeed him . . . Ike's former secretary of the interior Fred Seaton is likely to become the next governor of Nebraska. He'll defeat Democratic Gov. Frank Morrison . . . In Utah, look for young, popular Congressman David King, Democrat, to defeat Sen. Wallace Bennett, Republican. King's daddy was a Senator before him.

Aid To India?

Inside word is that Secretary of State Rusk has decided not to cut off American aid to India, even though he's indignant over the invasion of Goa.

The question of whether to continue American aid was seriously considered last week, and the decision was made to go ahead on the grounds that India's position in the Asian subcontinent is too important. Cutting off aid, it was decided, eventually would hurt the United States worse than the Indians.

However, the scheduled trip of Mrs. Jackie Kennedy to see the Nehru family is something else against. State Department officials are definitely opposed.

Ralph Bunche For Governor

New York politicos are intrigued over a trial balloon that Ralph Bunche, the Negro UN diplomat, might be picked by the Democrats to run against Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

Floating the trial balloon is Gore Vidal, the Broadway playwright, related by marriage to some of the Kennedy in-laws and a close friend of JFK's. Whether or not he speaks for the White House remains to be seen.

The President is anxious to put a strong candidate in the race against Rockefeller, and in view of Rockefeller's divorce there is an off-chance of beating him. Whether Bunche could do it, however, is another matter. While he would run up a terrific vote among Negroes and intellectuals, he might have difficulty winning other segments of New York State's ramified electorate.

If nominated, Bunche would be the first Negro candidate for governor of any state since reconstruction days after the Civil War.

Soviet Anti-Satellite Missile Test Likely In '62

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

One of the events of the coming year is quite likely to be a successful Soviet test of an anti-satellite missile. The experts already rate such a test as entirely possible in the next twelve months, and as downright probable before the end of 1963.

The reasons for anticipating such a test are fairly simple. To begin with, an enormous proportion of the enormous Soviet defense budget — around 20 per cent — has regularly been spent on air defense since the end of the last war. And this proportion has lately been increased to a staggering 30 per cent or more if all components of the air defense weapons systems are included.

The main reason for the increase is known to be a heavy investment in the development of anti-missile missiles. Soveit boasts that they already have an anti-missile missile have recently been heard. An anti-satellite missile, which would make these doubtful boasts seem to come true, is in fact far easier to build than the real anti-missile missile.

Soviet development of an effective anti-satellite missile will raise grave questions. For instance, the Eisenhower administration long ago announced that work had begun on the Samos reconnaissance satellite. Recently, the Samos program has seemed to falter. But if a Samos satellite is ever successfully tested, the Soviets will have the answer to Samos if they, in the meanwhile, have also successfully tested their anti-satellite missile.

In these circumstances, will they try to use their answer to Samos, shooting down the American satellite in the skies over Russia? And how about the manned satellites which the U. S. is shortly planning to send around the globe? These can hardly have serious reconnaissance equipment, because of the needs of their human burdens. But will they be immune?

And how about the Soviet satellites of the future? Our Nike-Zeus anti-missile missile has unfortunate theoretical weaknesses if judged in terms of its designed purpose. But the Nike-Zeus, already partly tested, can be rather easily converted into an effective anti-satellite missile, to match the expected Soviet development. Would the Soviet satellites then be immune?

These unpalatable facts and nagging questions are worth considering at the moment, because they relate to the one forecast about the new year which can be made with absolute confidence. In 1962, history will move faster and faster, as history has been doing for decades on end.

The acceleration of events is like the acceleration of a first-class automobile — hardly noticeable unless, or until, the crash comes. But only consider the vast events which have been crowded into the mere decade and a half since the last Great War ended.

The enslavement of Eastern Europe; the Communist triumph in China; the emergence of the Soviet Union as the second great industrial power; the recovery of Western Europe; the decline of the colonial empires; the ferment in the Middle East; the movement of Africa from a back water into the maelstrom; the Korean War; the Indo-China War; the Algerian War; the improvement of A-bomb; the development of H-bomb, the missile, and the satellite — here are enough vast changes to have consumed a whole century of history at the beginning of the Industrial Age, or half a millenium in the slower-moving eras of the simpler past.

"Faster, faster," cried the Red Queen to poor breathless Alice, and so cries history nowadays to all of us. The basic reason for this unsettling acceleration is not far to seek, either.

It is science, expressed in weapons and communications, which has made possible the great modern total tyrannies; science, expressed in communications and industrializations, which has roused the ancient peoples from their ancient ways; science, expressed in new weapons and new means of transporting them, which has made our whole world shrink until, today, the globe itself is smaller than England in the Eighteenth century.

The scientists themselves have repeatedly shrunk back from the progeny of their own minds. Dr. Robert Oppenheimer and (as too few recall) half the other leading physicists in this country briefly persuaded themselves that if the U. S. just did not make an H-bomb, the Soviets would not do so either. Using the same fallacious reasoning, scientists now in government recently opposed the increases in the long-range ballistic missile program desired by Secretary of Defense McNamara.

Yet limits cannot be set, either piece-meal or more broadly, to this ruthless process which is both accelerating human history and transforming the human environment. Its end is not in sight. The biologists are waiting in the wings, with promises that they will soon unlock the secret of life itself. And this central fact, that the process cannot be limited or halted, raises some big questions which will be tackled, no doubt overboldly, in another report.

UNDERPAID — A Pentagon study dramatizes pay inequities which make it tougher for government to get and hold top civilian executives. It may be used as the basis for a new attempt to increase federal workers' pay next year.

The study compared the take-home pay of federal civilian workers with that of armed services officers, whose tax-free quarters allowance and non-contributory retirement payments greatly increase their wages.

A lieutenant general, for example, has higher take-home pay than Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara. McNamara earns $25,000 a year, and after taxes, payment into government retirement funds, etc, his take-home pay is $17,174. A lieutenant general earns $21,127 a year, but keeps $17,483. If he gets flight pay, which many do, his take-home pay is $18,846.

The same disparity runs all through the ranks of military vs. civilian salaries at the Pentagon. In many instances, the civilian worker is either the superior of his higher-paid military counterpart or is doing identical work.

STANDARDIZATION — The armed services have been struggling for many years to standardize things they need so that money can be saved by buying large amounts of one item rather than smaller amounts of three or four similar items.

In the process of standardization the argument gets down to some picayune items—take the recent blow-up over belt buckles.

The services had four in use and wanted to choose one. The one favored by the Marine Corps cost 29 cents and was found to be useful (to men off duty) in opening beer bottles. Army, Navy and Air Force buckles cost only 12 cents each and were either silver or gold-hued.

Unable to solve the matter among themselves, the decision eventually was backed up to Defense Secretary McNamara. His ruling was, buy the 12-cent buckles, but make them black. Implied in his decision, which pleased no one, was (1) make the decision that saves money, and (2) if you bring any more of these nit-picking arguments to me, expect more answers that will displease everyone.

Myasthenia Gravis, A Serious Muscle Weakness

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Weakness and fatigability of certain muscles occur in myasthenia gravis. Medicines are available that bring new strength to a helpless victim within a few minutes. These dramatic results are possible because we know where the trouble is located.

The brain sends messages to the muscles of the hand, for example, when we want to grasp an object. A chemical substance, acetylcholine, is liberated at the end plate of the nerve that stimulates the muscles to contract. Another substance, cholinesterase, destroys whatever acetylcholine remains after the contraction is effected.

In myasthenia gravis there is either an overabundance of cholinesterase or too little acetylcholine. This explains why the muscles become so tired after contracting that complete loss of power ensues until a period of rest restores muscular power. Treatment consists of the use of drugs antagonistic to cholinesterase, thus making more acetylcholine available.

The manifestations of myasthenia gravis are variable. When the muscles of the eyes are involved, the lids begin drooping an hour or more after awakening. A rest period revives the lids and the individual is able to keep the eyes open only until the cycle repeats itself.

The situation becomes more serious with involvement of the muscles of the tongue, swallowing apparatus, neck, shoulders, or extremities. Breathing is disturbed with weakness of the chest muscles and diaphragm. If the muscles of the extremities are affected, the arms cannot be raised and walking is impossible.

Most victims go through periods of remission during which the disease clears up. But since loss of muscular strength keeps recurring, they cannot live a normal life without medication. The effect is temporary, but the use of these remedies keeps them healthy and out of danger until a natural remission occurs. Some stay well for years, whereas in others the drugs seem to lose their effect. This calls for emergency measures, usually in the form of respirators and tube feeding.

TOMORROW: Skin changes with age.

LET WELL ENOUGH ALONE

G. N. writes: My son used to be an alcoholic. Since he reformed he has become a coffee addict; he drinks it day and night. Is there a cure for this addiction?

REPLY

Be satisfied for the present. One peep from you about coffee and your son may return to alcohol. The basic cause of many habits and addictions is the same. A person addicted to one drug often switches to another. Coffee overindulgence is one of the least harmful habits.

CHILDREN NEED COURAGE

Sharon writes. What can a girl of 12 and a boy of 13 do to prepare for an atomic attack? Please hurry this answer.

REPLY

Develop courage and a determination of fight back in case of an attack. Atomic warfare is not hopeless and there is no reason why we cannot prepare with bomb shelters. Even though a direct hit is fatal, a shelter might save life if the bomb drops 50 miles away instead of five.

KIDNEY STONES

L. W. writes: What kind of diet is best for a person with a kidney stone?

REPLY

This depends upon the composition of the stone. Our leaflet on kidney stone diets discusses various types of concretions, such as calcium-phosphate, calcium oxalate, and uric acid stones. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Jack Benny believes that the waiters at Miami Beach's swanky Fontainebleau Hotel are the classiest and most cultured he's ever encountered. "Of course," he adds, "most of them were guests of the hotel when they arrived a week earlier."

A family became convinced that its home was haunted and decided to move to another town. All the furniture had been packed in a big van and the kids collected. The father called out, "Are we all here?" From under a table in the van came the voice of the ghost: "Yes, we're all here. Let's get going!"

A subscriber in a small town told the phone operator. "Get me a veterinarian quick." The operator inquired coldly, "Is this a personal call?" "Of course not," snapped the caller, "It's my dog that's sick."

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

That's what I call a dinner. Bring the kids. Bring 'em all. The headwaiter at Shadowbrook was on his best telephone manners when I asked for a table for ten. "We don't reserve tables, Mr. Bishop," he said. "You will be taken care of." I said: "Good. Of the 10, six of us will be little children. Two will need high-chairs." All I heard in the receiver was a strangling cry. "Six? . . . Little ones?"

Kelly and I got there with Karen, 8, and Kathleen, 6, the little blonde beauties. The date was made for 7 p. m. because I wanted Ginny and Charlie to arrive with their personal orphanage at 7:30. They got out of their truck promptly at 10 minutes of eight. The only occasion when Virginia Lee was ahead of time was the day she was born.

The twins, Robin and Pamela, 3, walked in first. They wore the same stocking hats, snow suits, ash blonde page boy cuts, and expressions. There were kisses all around. Then came Jim Bishop Frechette, 2, the bashful one who lowers his eyes when you smile at him. After him, Kevin, 1, the moon-faced monarch with the two-tooth grin. Then Ginny and Charlie, and the kissing started all over again.

It was a long table in the small dining room and Ginny wanted to be seated so that she could see all her little Indians at the same time. Karen wanted to sit next to Kevin, so that she could feed him in his highchair. Kathleen, who is suspicious that her sister is getting ahead of her, asked to sit next to Robin, but Robin wanting no help in eating.

The only ones missing from the table were Gayle and Frank and their tiny Elinor. They were too far away to make it. Otherwise, this was a gathering of the clan. The rosy-cheeked faces were something to see when everyone was seated. A priest at an adjoining table got up to leave, took one look at the mob and smiled at me. "God bless you," he murmured.

He may have thought that the gray-haired one — I — was father to all hands. I hoped he'd stay so that I could show him my scars, but he didn't tarry. The adults talked across the bedlam of the children.

Kevin pounded his highchair tray whenever he was out of French fries and he chewed on them like a grave rabbit.

Jimmy nuzzled his head against Charlie's chest. The twins made three trips to the "baffroom". A waiter and a waitress kept the shrimp coming, and the steak sandwiches too. The Stone girls wanted to select from a children's menu, and they got turkey. Karen wanted more gravy.

Kathleen asked me if she could change seats with Karen. I said "No. Why do you ask?" She pointed to the twin next to her. "This one," she said, "doesn't talk." Robbie had chopped meat and the waiter minced it for her. Kevin grabbed a knife and tried to chew it. When it was taken away, he sucked in a long breath and emitted a whoop that startled the Monmouth County Bar Association, which was having its annual dinner across the hall.

A lady at a nearby table slipped the third gin sling down her gullet and said: "Aren't they cute?" The twins came back from the "baffroom" and Karen had to go. Kathleen laid her knife and fork down. "Me too," she said. They went. Forty-five minutes later, Pamela complained: "Mommy, this meat is cold."

Karen fed a spoonful of baked potato, soaked in butter, to little Kevin. "See?" she said proudly. "He lets me feed him." We looked. He had spit the mouthful out onto his plaid suit. Jimmy got one knee caught under the tray of the highchair and his daddy had to be a surgeon and an engineer to get it out.

The children wanted no dessert until they saw the chocolate parfait coming in, with whipped cream and cherry on top. The Stone girls were working on Shirley Temple cocktails. You have to watch them when they're bored or they will pull the soda through the straws, and then blow it back into the glass.

Ginny sat serenely through all this. God seems to give something to mothers of many that He withholds from mothers of few. She appeared to be prettier than ever with her thick-cropped dark hair and ready smile. She and Charlie plan to have more children. One, I think, at a time.

At 9:45, dinner was over. The waitress summoned one final smile as she presented the check. The owner, Rod Keller, stopped by to say hello. He took one look at the mob of mites putting the wrong arm into the wrong sleeve. He left, muttering: "Come again. Do."

We kissed goodbye all around in the lobby and promised we'd do it again. And we will. That's the wonderful part of this family: We never learn. . .

The War Drums In The Pacific

Soviet Russia would like nothing better than to see new troubles boiling in the remaining colonial territories outside the Soviet orbit. Witness Russia's congratulations to Nehru for grabbing Goa and salute to Indonesia for threatening invasion of the Dutch-colonial part of New Guinea.

Just now Khrushchev has colonial troubles aplenty himself as the kingpin of Soviet imperialism. East Europe includes Hungary, which must be kept down by the presence of a military garrison. Tiny Albania is a headache only less painful than that caused by the insolence of Red China.

On balance, things are also going badly for Khrushchev in Latin America. At home in Russia the food problem is bad and worsening.

Accordingly, Russia might welcome a war over West New Guinea with special glee just now. But is such a war either likely on Indonesia's military capability or beyond the scope of peaceful negotiations? There seem to be grounds for Western optimism.

Most important in support of this guess is that the Dutch, despite the new provocation, have again stated their readiness to negotiate the issues. Should all negotiations fail, what then?

Except for Indonesia, the Pacific since World War II and the Korean War has become a Western if not an American ocean in practical, undeclared sovereignty. Australia, the Philippines, Guam, and lesser islands cannot lightly be exposed to any real or progressive threat from an Indonesia backed by Soviet Russia or Red China, or both.

Some major decisions might then have to be made as to a show of Western force in the area. Meanwhile, Indonesia's strategic and logistical problem is a formidable one. Sukarno, having committed himself in haste to a New Guinea war, may be looking for a face-saving way to back down.

Another View

Frank L. Kluckhohn has had a wide experience as a newspaperman and government official and knows the State Department well. He does not heap the blame for State Department failures on the Secretaries of State but describes the mechanism of the Department in an article in the January "Reader's Digest" which makes it clear beyond doubt that something drastic must be done to revise, reorganize, redirect the staff of the State Department.

Citing chapter and verse, Kluckhohn shows how men in lower positions prevented Secretaries of State from becoming aware of the data which was essential to them. This does not apply only to the Kennedy Administration but has been continuous for years.

Kluckhohn describes the situation as follows:

"There are now 23,000 persons on State's payroll, the controlling group being the 3628 Foreign Service Officers. Typically, a young FSO steps into the Department direct from college. For six to eight years he stamps visas or does routine embassy chores while being shifted around the world. Even as he accumulates seniority and begins to assume 'responsibilities,' he rarely has to make an individual decision. Whatever reports he turns out are initialed and okayed by so many persons that he doesn't have to worry about being blamed personally if things fail to go right. In fact, his basic technique for advancement in the bureaucratic morass comes to consist of avoiding the displeasure of his immediate superior, or identification with any controversial action—even when the avoidance may mean ignoring a problem that could build up to a disaster."

Kluckhohn indicates how the young official is trained to avoid getting into trouble. His first lesson is "Don't rock the boat." This, of course, is true in big business and in universities and wherever there are large organizations of men. The problem that faces the individual is promotion without risk of hurting a superior or upsetting a regime. It is so easy to be squeezed on the escalator of achievement. The man above can kick the rising personality off the ladder; the man below can trip him as he moves upward.

The rising personality cleverly avoids interference or sudden emergencies. He takes his strides slowly, even if it damages the country. The man who moves out of step can do infinite damage to himself.

Kluckhohn gives as his number two rule: "Avoid making any decision for which you may be held personally responsible." This requires the responsible personality always to mark time so that if anything goes wrong he can blame someone else. The easiest one to blame is the Secretary of State; the public will believe that he took the wrong steps because he is the big man in the picture. How could a little gnat cause so much trouble? But the little ones do cause trouble, lots of it. They get in the way of things. They talk too much. They bubble over. They need to be spanked and no one wants to spank them. The President protects himself by having a staff in the White House to screen what comes from State and the CIA but the Secretary of State is a daily work-horse on the job who has day by day responsibilities and who cannot duck issues. All sorts of dispatches are signed in his name and decisions are taken for which he is directly and personally responsible. As few as a half dozen bone-heads can trip him up.

Secretary of State Hull, for instance, specialized in tariff questions and too often overlooked broader problems, so that the President or the Under Secretary was handling matters which rightly should have been the Secretary's.

This explains why the London Economic Conference at the beginning of the Roosevelt regime was such a failure. Secretary Hull was left out altogether. Raymond Moley, President Roosevelt and Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau were reaching decisions about which the Secretary of State knew nothing. In fact, Hull never knew anything about this most significant meeting out of which, in a large measure, grew World War II.

Similarly, Eisenhower was never adequately informed about the Castro situation. Kluckhohn describes how efforts were made to inform Eisenhower through his brother, Milton, and how these efforts failed. Little men stood in the way.

Much is being written and said on this subject but few constructive suggestions are made. Obviously, it is necessary to maintain a Foreign Office Force of trained men; at the same time, it is necessary to provide the top officials with precise information and to give them flexibility of decision and action.

Major Spy Story Of Year Behind Arrest Of Air Force Captain

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — The details have been suppressed regarding the case of Capt. Joseph Kauffman, the Air Force finance officer recently arrested for alleged espionage. When he goes on trial, however, the case will probably unfold as one of the major spy stories of the year.

The Air Force has evidence that one of Kauffman's close relatives is a Communist. There is also evidence that Kauffman arranged a 30-day leave in Germany and crossed into East Berlin in civilian clothes, in violation of an Air Force order, and with full knowledge that he would be picked up by the East Berlin police. An American military man in uniform has the right to enter East Berlin, but civilians are subject to cross-examination. For a military man to wear civilian clothes was an invitation to be arrested.

Kauffman was. When interrogated by an East German security officer he gave information regarding Air Force facilities in Greenland.

Later that same East German security officer defected to West Germany and told the story of what had happened.

Kauffman was arrested at Castle Air Force Base near Merced, Calif., and flown to Lindsay Air Force Base near Wiesbaden, Germany, to face his accusers. The Air Force will prosecute vigorously.

Gullible Americans will spend one billion dollars on quack cures in 1962. One-third of it will be on phony vitamin pills . . . Congressmen will stage a drive to increase their own salaries from $25,000 to $35,000 a year. They'll also raise their tax-free expense allotment from $2,250 to $5,000. No one who votes on this increase, however, can benefit from it until the next term . . . Pan American Airways means what it says about turning its airline over to the government if the airline pilots, now making $30,000 a year, go through with their strike . . . The medical researchers are about to unveil some new drugs called "energy enzymes," which some people will dub the "fountain of youth." The new drugs won't actually restore youth but may slow down the aging process . . . Marcus Cohn set a milestone regarding radio-press monopoly when the U. S. Court of Appeals recently found the Elyria-Lorain Broadcasting Company and the Lorain Journal guilty of antitrust violation for monopolizing both the press and the airwaves.

U. S. A-Tests

President Kennedy definitely has decided to resume atmospheric nuclear tests early in 1962, despite expected criticism by the neutralists.

The President advised Prime Minister Macmillan of his decision at Bermuda, and Macmillan agreed to support the move. He even offered to turn over Christmas Island in the Pacific to the Americans for the tests. It's probable Kennedy will accept the Christmas Island site and that at least 20 explosions in the atmosphere will be set off this year.

Behind The Political Headlines

Gov. Nelson Rockefeller has taken elaborate polls to see whether his divorce will hurt his political career. He seems to think that the can run for Governor of New York again successfully . . . In Pennnsylvania, Mayor Richardson Dilworth of Philadelphia will thumb his nose at the Democratic boss of Philadelphia, Phil Green, and run for governor. Dilworth is one of the best of Philadelphia's mayors. The other A-1 Mayor, Sen. Joe Clark, now running for re-election, will fill out an appealing Clark-Dilworth ticket for Senator and Governor . . . The Democrats will lose Ohio this year when Mike DiSalle bows out. GOP candidate James Rhodes will probably succeed him . . . Ike's former secretary of the interior Fred Seaton is likely to become the next governor of Nebraska. He'll defeat Democratic Gov. Frank Morrison . . . In Utah, look for young, popular Congressman David King, Democrat, to defeat Sen. Wallace Bennett, Republican. King's daddy was a Senator before him.

It is science, expressed in weapons and communications, which has made possible the great modern total tyrannies; science, expressed in communications and industrializations, which has roused the ancient peoples from their ancient ways; science, expressed in new weapons and new means of transporting them, which has made our whole world shrink until, today, the globe itself is smaller than England in the Eighteenth century.

The scientists themselves have repeatedly shrunk back from the progeny of their own minds. Dr. Robert Oppenheimer and (as too few recall) half the other leading physicists in this country briefly persuaded themselves that if the U. S. just did not make an H-bomb, the Soviets would not do so either. Using the same fallacious reasoning, scientists now in government recently opposed the increases in the long-range ballistic missile program desired by Secretary of Defense McNamara.

Yet limits cannot be set, either piece-meal or more broadly, to this ruthless process which is both accelerating human history and transforming the human environment. Its end is not in sight. The biologists are waiting in the wings, with promises that they will soon unlock the secret of life itself. And this central fact, that the process cannot be limited or halted, raises some big questions which will be tackled, no doubt overboldly, in another report.

UNDERPAID — A Pentagon study dramatizes pay inequities which make it tougher for government to get and hold top civilian executives. It may be used as the basis for a new attempt to increase federal workers' pay next year.

The study compared the take-home pay of federal civilian workers with that of armed services officers, whose tax-free quarters allowance and non-contributory retirement payments greatly increase their wages.

A lieutenant general, for example, has higher take-home pay than Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara. McNamara earns $25,000 a year, and after taxes, payment into government retirement funds, etc, his take-home pay is $17,174. A lieutenant general earns $21,127 a year, but keeps $17,483. If he gets flight pay, which many do, his take-home pay is $18,846.

The same disparity runs all through the ranks of military vs. civilian salaries at the Pentagon. In many instances, the civilian worker is either the superior of his higher-paid military counterpart or is doing identical work.

STANDARDIZATION — The armed services have been struggling for many years to standardize things they need so that money can be saved by buying large amounts of one item rather than smaller amounts of three or four similar items.

In the process of standardization the argument gets down to some picayune items—take the recent blow-up over belt buckles.

The services had four in use and wanted to choose one. The one favored by the Marine Corps cost 29 cents and was found to be useful (to men off duty) in opening beer bottles. Army, Navy and Air Force buckles cost only 12 cents each and were either silver or gold-hued.

Unable to solve the matter among themselves, the decision eventually was backed up to Defense Secretary McNamara. His ruling was, buy the 12-cent buckles, but make them black. Implied in his decision, which pleased no one, was (1) make the decision that saves money, and (2) if you bring any more of these nit-picking arguments to me, expect more answers that will displease everyone.

Myasthenia Gravis, A Serious Muscle Weakness

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Weakness and fatigability of certain muscles occur in myasthenia gravis. Medicines are available that bring new strength to a helpless victim within a few minutes. These dramatic results are possible because we know where the trouble is located.

The brain sends messages to the muscles of the hand, for example, when we want to grasp an object. A chemical substance, acetylcholine, is liberated at the end plate of the nerve that stimulates the muscles to contract. Another substance, cholinesterase, destroys whatever acetylcholine remains after the contraction is effected.

In myasthenia gravis there is either an overabundance of cholinesterase or too little acetylcholine. This explains why the muscles become so tired after contracting that complete loss of power ensues until a period of rest restores muscular power. Treatment consists of the use of drugs antagonistic to cholinesterase, thus making more acetylcholine available.

The manifestations of myasthenia gravis are variable. When the muscles of the eyes are involved, the lids begin drooping an hour or more after awakening. A rest period revives the lids and the individual is able to keep the eyes open only until the cycle repeats itself.

The situation becomes more serious with involvement of the muscles of the tongue, swallowing apparatus, neck, shoulders, or extremities. Breathing is disturbed with weakness of the chest muscles and diaphragm. If the muscles of the extremities are affected, the arms cannot be raised and walking is impossible.

Most victims go through periods of remission during which the disease clears up. But since loss of muscular strength keeps recurring, they cannot live a normal life without medication. The effect is temporary, but the use of these remedies keeps them healthy and out of danger until a natural remission occurs. Some stay well for years, whereas in others the drugs seem to lose their effect. This calls for emergency measures, usually in the form of respirators and tube feeding.

TOMORROW: Skin changes with age.

LET WELL ENOUGH ALONE

G. N. writes: My son used to be an alcoholic. Since he reformed he has become a coffee addict; he drinks it day and night. Is there a cure for this addiction?
REPLY

Be satisfied for the present. One peep from you about coffee and your son may return to alcohol. The basic cause of many habits and addictions is the same. A person addicted to one drug often switches to another. Coffee overindulgence is one of the least harmful habits.

CHILDREN NEED COURAGE

Sharon writes. What can a girl of 12 and a boy of 13 do to prepare for an atomic attack? Please hurry this answer.
REPLY

Develop courage and a determination of fight back in case of an attack. Atomic warfare is not hopeless and there is no reason why we cannot prepare with bomb shelters. Even though a direct hit is fatal, a shelter might save life if the bomb drops 50 miles away instead of five.

KIDNEY STONES

L. W. writes: What kind of diet is best for a person with a kidney stone?
REPLY

This depends upon the composition of the stone. Our leaflet on kidney stone diets discusses various types of concretions, such as calcium-phosphate, calcium oxalate, and uric acid stones. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Jack Benny believes that the waiters at Miami Beach's swanky Fontainebleau Hotel are the classiest and most cultured he's ever encountered. "Of course," he adds, "most of them were guests of the hotel when they arrived a week earlier."

TO THE KITCHEN, BUB!

A family became convinced that its home was haunted and decided to move to another town. All the furniture had been packed in a big van and the kids collected. The father called out, "Are we all here?" From under a table in the van came the voice of the ghost: "Yes, we're all here. Let's get going!"

A subscriber in a small town told the phone operator. "Get me a veterinarian quick." The operator inquired coldly, "Is this a personal call?" "Of course not," snapped the caller, "It's my dog that's sick."

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

That's what I call a dinner. Bring the kids. Bring 'em all. The headwaiter at Shadowbrook was on his best telephone manners when I asked for a table for ten. "We don't reserve tables, Mr. Bishop," he said. "You will be taken care of." I said: "Good. Of the 10, six of us will be little children. Two will need highchairs." All I heard in the receiver was a strangling cry. "Six? . . . Little ones?"

Kelly and I got there with Karen, 8, and Kathleen, 6, the little blonde beauties. The date was made for 7 p. m. because I wanted Ginny and Charlie to arrive with their personal orphanage at 7:30. They got out of their truck promptly at 10 minutes of eight. The only occasion when Virginia Lee was ahead of time was the day she was born.

The twins, Robin and Pamela, 3, walked in first. They wore the same stocking hats, snow suits, ash blonde page boy cuts, and expressions. There were kisses all around. Then came Jim Bishop Frechette, 2, the bashful one who lowers his eyes when you smile at him. After him, Kevin, 1, the moon-faced monarch with the two-tooth grin. Then Ginny and Charlie, and the kissing started all over again.

It was a long table in the small dining room and Ginny wanted to be seated so that she could see all her little Indians at the same time. Karen wanted to sit next to Kevin, so that she could feed him in his highchair. Kathleen, who is suspicious that her sister is getting ahead of her, asked to sit next to Robin, but Robin wanting no help in eating.

The only ones missing from the table were Gayle and Frank and their tiny Elinor. They were too far away to make it. Otherwise, this was a gathering of the clan. The rosy-cheeked faces were something to see when everyone was seated. A priest at an adjoining table got up to leave, took one look at the mob and smiled at me. "God bless you," he murmured.

He may have thought that the gray-haired one — I — was father to all hands. I hoped he'd stay so that I could show him my scars, but he didn't tarry. The adults talked across the bedlam of the children.

Kevin pounded his highchair tray whenever he was out of French fries and he chewed on them like a grave rabbit.

Jimmy nuzzled his head against Charlie's chest. The twins made three trips to the "baffroom". A waiter and a waitress kept the shrimp coming, and the steak sandwiches too. The Stone girls wanted to select from a children's menu, and they got turkey. Karen wanted more gravy.

Kathleen asked me if she could change seats with Karen. I said "No. Why do you ask?" She pointed to the twin next to her. "This one," she said, "doesn't talk." Robbie had chopped meat and the waiter minced it for her. Kevin grabbed a knife and tried to chew it. When it was taken away, he sucked in a long breath and emitted a whoop that startled the Monmouth County Bar Association, which was having its annual dinner across the hall.

A lady at a nearby table slipped the third gin sling down her gullet and said: "Aren't they cute?" The twins came back from the "baffroom" and Karen had to go. Kathleen laid her knife and fork down. "Me too," she said. They went. Forty-five minutes later, Pamela complained: "Mommy, this meat is cold."

Karen fed a spoonful of baked potato, soaked in butter, to little Kevin. "See?" she said proudly. "He lets me feed him." We looked. He had spit the mouthful out onto his plaid suit. Jimmy got one knee caught under the tray of the highchair and his daddy had to be a surgeon and an engineer to get it out.

The children wanted no dessert until they saw the chocolate parfait coming in, with whipped cream and cherry on top. The Stone girls were working on Shirley Temple cocktails. You have to watch them when they're bored or they will pull the soda through the straws, and then blow it back into the glass.

Ginny sat serenely through all this. God seems to give something to mothers of many that He withholds from mothers of few. She appeared to be prettier than ever with her thick-cropped dark hair and ready smile. She and Charlie plan to have more children. One, I think, at a time.

At 9:45, dinner was over. The waitress summoned one final smile as she presented the check. The owner, Rod Keller, stopped by to say hello. He took one look at the mob of mites putting the wrong arm into the wrong sleeve. He left, muttering: "Come again. Do."

We kissed goodbye all around in the lobby and promised we'd do it again. And we will. That's the wonderful part of this family: We never learn. . .

SHELTERS FOR ALL---IN SWEDEN

ON GUARD. A Swedish civil defense guard, armed with a light submachine gun, stands at the entrance to an underground shelter.

The 7 1/2 million people of Sweden, who have been at peace since Napoleon's time, today seem better prepared against nuclear attack than any other western nation.

If war did come, the entire populace would begin moving to already prepared rural evacuation sites or into nuclear blast and fallout shelters, some carved into solid rock.

Disorder would be at a minimum because a trained civil defense corps is on duty in every square mile of the nation. Every citizen, if not formally trained, has been advised how to behave and what to do in case of attack. Today the active corps numbers 220,000 men and women. They are organized into special units—rescue, fire, medical, police and protection.

While Sweden's elaborate CD organization began to take shape in 1944, its shelter program dates back even further—to the beginning of World War II.

Much of the country's terrain is of solid granite, and the government began at that time blasting out massive subterranean rooms. Today 14 huge shelters have been built in Sweden's nine major cities. All serve some peacetime use, if only as a parking garage or a storage place.

Altoona Meets Allegany Here Tonight, LaSalle At Bedford

Pennsy Quint Cops Seven Of Eight Games

Explorers Seek 7th Straight; Piedmont To Play At Bruce

Bishop Guilfoyle High School of Altoona, victorious in seven of eight games played to date, meets the Allegany High School Campers tonight in the first scholastic basketball games of the new year in Cumberland.

Coach John Hyder's team which lost a pair to the Campers last season, 54-49 and 78-65, will present a veteran lineup by Len Zandy, high scoring center, and Coach Chet Payne is of the opinion that the Pennsylvanians are one of the best teams on the Allegany schedule this season.

Zandy, Rick Kaiser, Bill Hoff and Conrad, who played against Allegany last season, will appear in the lineup of the Marauders whose only loss came in the Holiday Carbon Bowl at St. Mary's, Pa., in which Bishop Guilfoyle took third place by defeating DuBois Area High by the score of 79-47.

The Marauders were 6-0 before the tourney in which they won one and lost one. They beat Windber, twice, Tyrone, Huntingdon, Bishop Carroll of Ebensburg and the Alumni.

Zandy Tourney Star

Zandy made the all-tourney team at St. Mary's and also won a trophy for leading the scorers with 41 points in two games.

Alan Kaplon, who played in both games against Altoona last season, is not expected to see action tonight due to the foot injury he suffered in practice prior to the Keyser game which he missed. Kenny Davis and Jack Hutchison were the other Allegany players who appeared in the second game of the series with Altoona last season.

The Campers will be making their sixth start of the season. They are 1-2 away from home and 2-0 at home and will be shooting for their 7th straight win on the Campobello court, including four in a row over LaSalle, Valley, Fort Hill and Bishop Guilfoyle late in the 1960-61 campaign.

LaSalle Visits Bedford

LaSalle High's undefeated Explorers will be shooting for their seventh victory tonight when they do battle with Coach Bob Andrews' Bisons at Bedford High School. Bedford is 2-2 thus far, having beaten Claysburg and Cresson while losing to Stonycreek of Shanksville and Meyersdale.

LaSalle has downed Fort Ashby, Beall, Mt. Savage, Valley, Fort Hill and the Alumni and will be angling for its third win away from home.

The Explorers swept a pair from Bedford last season, 60-42 and 81-61.

Keyser High, leader of the P.V.C., with a 3-0 record, tests Ridgeley (4-1) on the Blackhawks' court tonight in a P.V.C. game while Paw Paw (1-1) plays host to Fort Ashby's Eagles (2-3).

Bruce Hosts Piedmont

The "Battle of the Tri-Towns" brings together Piedmont and Bruce in the opening game of their series at Westernport. Coach Leonard Ritchie's Bulldogs have won six of seven games while Piedmont has a 4-2 record.

In other action tonight, Allegany Community College (2-1) opposes Shepherd College's Rams (1-5) at Shepherdstown, Mt. Savage High's Indians (4-1) visit Northern's Huskies (2-3) and Potomac State College (3-5) tangles with the West Virginia University Freshmen at Morgantown.

Vern Law To Undergo Examination On Arm

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Pirates announced on Tuesday night that righthander Vernon Law will undergo an examination on his arm Wednesday to determine how well injured tissues have healed.

Law, plagued more than half of last season by his ailing pitching arm, will be examined by team physician Dr. Joseph Finegold and specialist Dr. Albert Ferguson Jr. The Pirates said the doctors will prescribe exercises for Law.

The Pirates said Law, after being examined here, will go to Columbus, Ohio, to be examined by Dr. Judd Wilson to get another opinion on the condition of his arm.

OPEN COLLEGE SLATE TONIGHT — Allegany Community College's new basketball team, winner of two of three games against YMCA Senior Men's League squads, will open their schedule against college opposition tonight when the Trojans travel to Shepherdstown, W. Va., to do battle with the Shepherd College Rams. The ACC quint, taking up the hardwood sport for the first time, has entered the Tri-State Junior College Athletic Conference. The Trojans, attired in new uniforms recently obtained by the school, are (first row, left to right) Gary Bartik, Bill DeArchangelis, Jack Stevenson, Ray McElfish and Ronnie Riggs; (second row, left to right) Dick Duckworth, Dennis Engle, Coach John W. Bailey, Bob Suesse, Larry Bruce Thomoson and Terry Evans.

West Virginia To Battle VMI

King Says Reserves Will See Action

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) — West Virginia basketball coach George King said Tuesday that three of his reserves will be playing a more prominent role in future games, beginning Wednesday with Virginia Military Institute here.

King said he would still go with his starting lineup of Paul Miller and Kenny Ward at forwards, Tom Lowry at center and Rod Thorn and Jimmy McCormick at guards. King said, however, that forwards Ed Bode and Mike Wolfe and guard Donnie Weir will be playing a lot more than they have been.

King also said that if "Weir can go out there and do a good job for us" Thorn may be playing at forward more than he has in the first ten games.

"All three played some in the Los Angeles Classic and all three did a good job," King said of the substitutes.

Bobcats' Game With Coppin Reset Jan. 20

Frostburg State Teachers College's next basketball engagement is with Altoona Campus Friday night at Frostburg but the game with Coppin State, of Baltimore, originally set for Saturday has been postponed until January 20, it was announced yesterday by Coach Ron Van Ryswyk.

Dr. Van Ryswyk stated that Jim Thompson, who scored 73 points in the first six games for the Bobcats, suffered a foot injury in the Shenandoah game Dec. 14 and may not see action for some time

Charley Robinson, former Fort Hill High star, and transfer from the University of Pittsburgh, is not expected to be eligible to play for Frostburg State until the return game with Altoona Campus there on February 2.

Cincy Coach Criticizes Basketball Officiating

Ed Jucker Refers To Four Technicals

CINCINNATI (AP) — Coach Ed Jucker criticized basketball officiating in the Missouri Valley Conference Tuesday, contending his Cincinnati Bearcats, the defending champs, were being hurt by discrimination.

He told a boosters club meeting that Conference Commissioner Norval Neve "has one set of officiating rules that he enforces which are different from the national rules and another set of rules for UC games.

Jucker referred to four technical fouls called against him for standing up during regular season play.

He said films of the Wichita game, which Cincinnati lost, showed Wichita Coach Ralph Miller standing in front of the scorer's table."

Jucker said, "I want to know why if one coach is allowed to stand up, they can't all stand up." Jucker was cited twice for standing up in the Wichita game.

Neve, contacted at his home in Kansas City, declined a direct reply to Jucker, but referred to a statement he made Dec. 19.

At that time, in response to other comment such as Jucker's, Neve said the conference is simply following rules laid down by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

"Coaches can't go through a lot of antics to excite the crowd and, if they do, the officials must call a technical foul without warning," Neve said.

Flintstone Beats South Fulton, 51-49

Flintstone High's Aggies scored their second straight victory last night, defeating Southern Fulton High, Warfordsburg, Pa., by the score of 51 to 49 at Flintstone.

Don Kinton and Larry Haines topped the Flintstone scorers with 14 and 10 points respectively as the Aggies brought their record to 2-3 for the season. Hixon and Apple had 13 apiece for the losers.

Beall Whips Alumni, 62-39

Eisel Scores 26 For Mountaineers

With Allen Eisel pouring in 26 points to lead the way, Beall High's Mountaineers snapped a four-game losing streak last night at the expense of an Alumni aggregation on the Frostburg court. The score was 62 to 39.

Coach Ebbie Finzel's Mountaineers jumped out in front and led the way, hitting for 24 field goals and 14-26 at the free throw line. The Grads, paced by Wayne Metz's 17 points on eight goals and 1-2 fouls, connected for only 17 field goals and 5-15 free throws.

Beall's victory was the second in six games this season for the Mountaineers.

The Beall Jayvees defeated a faculty team, 47-29, in the preliminary game. The lineups:

Villanova, Oregon State In Top Ten

Ohio State, Cincy Still Rated 1-2

NEW YORK (UPI) — Unbeaten Ohio State and once beaten Cincinnati continued to run 1-2 Tuesday in the United Press International major college basketball ratings for the fifth straight week.

The Buckeyes, a unanimous choice for the No. 1 spot last week, garnered 34 first place votes and 349 points in the balloting by the 35 man UPI coaches board. The other first place vote went to Cincinnati, which totaled 308 points to cut Ohio State's lead from 65 to 41.

Ohio State ran its record to 10-0 by winning the Los Angeles Classic last weekend while Cincinnati (9-1) was walking off with the Holiday Festival title.

Two other recent tournament winners — Villanova and Oregon State—moved into the top 10 this week. The unbeaten Wildcats (11-0) jumped from 17th to sixth place after capturing top honors in the Quaker City Tournament and Oregon State (7-1), winner of the Far West Classic, vaulted from a tie for 24th to 10th place.

Wilma Ward Gets Award

3d Woman To Win Sullivan Trophy

NEW YORK (AP)—Wilma Rudolph Ward, the women's world 100-meter record holder, has been voted the James E. Sullivan Award for 1961, the Amateur Athletic Union announced Tuesday.

The award is presented annually by the AAU "to the amateur athlete who, by performance, example and good influence did the most to advance good sportsmanship throughout the year." It is the AAU's most valued award.

The recently married Mrs. Ward set the women's 100-meter record of 11.2 seconds in Stuttgart, Germany, last July 15 during a special race in the United States-West Germany track meet.

Four days earlier, in Moscow, she had anchored the U.S. team to a women's world record of 44.3 seconds in the 400-meter relay.

Mrs. Ward, a senior at Tennessee State, collected 205 firsts on the 605 ballots cast. She was second on 161 and third on 119 for a total of 1,627 points based on a 5-3-1 scoring table.

Mrs. Ward is only the third woman to receive the award in its 32-year history.

Army Expected To Get Dietzel

LSU Coach Offered Five-Year Contract

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—Paul Dietzel is expected to sign as head coach at Army this week with a 5-year contract calling for $20,000.

The announcement probably will be made Thursday, allowing time for the 38-year-old former West Point aide to make an amicable break with Louisiana State, where his $18,500 contract has four years to run.

Army's athletic board has been unable to conceal the fact that Dietzel, one of the nation's most successful young coaches, is its No. 1 choice. Dietzel has shown interest in the fresh challenge offered at West Point.

Jim Corbett, L.S.U. athletic director, said Dietzel had not asked for release of his contract. "I expect to be talking to Paul late today or tomorrow," Corbett said.

After L.S.U. crushed Colorado 25-7 in the Orange Bowl at Miami Monday, Dietzel acknowledged that he had been contacted by Army and was giving the matter serious consideration.

Dietzel was an assistant at West Point under Earl (Red) Blaik in 1953 and 1954.

Paw Paw Trims Mathias, 81-63

With Roland Hamilton and Larry Harding leading the way with 46 points between them, Paw Paw High's Pirates walloped Mathias High's cagers, 81-63, last night in a Potomac Valley Conference game at Mathias.

The visitors jumped out in front and lead by as much as 30 points as they connected for 30 field goals and 21-38 free throws Harding paced the scorers with 25 points while Roland Hamilton chipped in with 21 before fouling out in the last period. Steve Taylor scored 22 points for Mathias.

Mathias High's Jayvees defeated the Paw Paw junior varsity in the preliminary game, 38-28.

King Says Reserves Will See Action

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) — West Virginia basketball coach George King said Tuesday that three of his reserves will be playing a more prominent role in future games, beginning Wednesday with Virginia Military Institute here.

King said he would still go with his starting lineup of Paul Miller and Kenny Ward at forwards, Tom Lowry at center and Rod Thorn and Jimmy McCormick at guards. King said, however, that forwards Ed Bode and Mike Wolfe and guard Donnie Weir will be playing a lot more than they have been.

King also said that if "Weir can go out there and do a good job for us" Thorn may be playing at forward more than he has in the first ten games.

"All three played some in the Los Angeles Classic and all three did a good job," King said of the substitutes.

Following the VMI game, the 12th ranked Mountaineers will go up against undefeated sixth ranked Villanova Saturday.

Cincy Coach Criticizes Basketball Officiating

Ed Jucker Refers To Four Technicals

CINCINNATI (AP) — Coach Ed Jucker criticized basketball officiating in the Missouri Valley Conference Tuesday, contending his Cincinnati Bearcats, the defending champs, were being hurt by discrimination.

He told a boosters club meeting that Conference Commissioner Norval Neve "has one set of officiating rules that he enforces which are different from the national rules and another set of rules for UC games.

Jucker referred to four technical fouls called against him for standing up during regular season play.

He said films of the Wichita game, which Cincinnati lost, showed Wichita Coach Ralph Miller standing in front of the scorer's table."

Jucker said, "I want to know why if one coach is allowed to stand up, they can't all stand up." Jucker was cited twice for standing up in the Wichita game.

Neve, contacted at his home in Kansas City, declined a direct reply to Jucker, but referred to a statement he made Dec. 19.

At that time, in response to other comment such as Jucker's, Neve said the conference is simply following rules laid down by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

"Coaches can't go through a lot of antics to excite the crowd and, if they do, the officials must call a technical foul without warning," Neve said.

Flintstone Beats South Fulton, 51-49

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Substitute guard Larry Shook came off the bench Tuesday night to score five straight points and lead Butler to a come-from-behind 63-58 victory over touring Princeton.

Villanova, Oregon State In Top Ten

Ohio State, Cincy Still Rated 1-2

NEW YORK (UPI) — Unbeaten Ohio State and once beaten Cincinnati continued to run 1-2 Tuesday in the United Press International major college basketball ratings for the fifth straight week.

The Buckeyes, a unanimous choice for the No. 1 spot last week, garnered 34 first place votes and 349 points in the balloting by the 35 man UPI coaches board. The other first place vote went to Cincinnati, which totaled 308 points to cut Ohio State's lead from 65 to 41.

Ohio State ran its record to 10-0 by winning the Los Angeles Classic last weekend while Cincinnati (9-1) was walking off with the Holiday Festival title.

Two other recent tournament winners — Villanova and Oregon State—moved into the top 10 this week. The unbeaten Wildcats (11-0) jumped from 17th to sixth place after capturing top honors in the Quaker City Tournament and Oregon State (7-1), winner of the Far West Classic, vaulted from a tie for 24th to 10th place.

Wilma Ward Gets Award

3d Woman To Win Sullivan Trophy

NEW YORK (AP)—Wilma Rudolph Ward, the women's world 100-meter record holder, has been voted the James E. Sullivan Award for 1961, the Amateur Athletic Union announced Tuesday.

The award is presented annually by the AAU "to the amateur athlete who, by performance, example and good influence did the most to advance good sportsmanship throughout the year." It is the AAU's most valued award.

The recently married Mrs. Ward set the women's 100-meter record of 11.2 seconds in Stuttgart, Germany, last July 15 during a special race in the United States-West Germany track meet.

Four days earlier, in Moscow, she had anchored the U.S. team to a women's world record of 44.3 seconds in the 400-meter relay.

Mrs. Ward, a senior at Tennessee State, collected 205 firsts on the 605 ballots cast. She was second on 161 and third on 119 for a total of 1,627 points based on a 5-3-1 scoring table.

Mrs. Ward is only the third woman to receive the award in its 32-year history.

LSU Coach Offered Five-Year Contract

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—Paul Dietzel is expected to sign as head coach at Army this week with a 5-year contract calling for $20,000.

The announcement probably will be made Thursday, allowing time for the 38-year-old former West Point aide to make an amicable break with Louisiana State, where his $18,500 contract has four years to run.

Army's athletic board has been unable to conceal the fact that Dietzel, one of the nation's most successful young coaches, is its No. 1 choice. Dietzel has shown interest in the fresh challenge offered at West Point.

Jim Corbett, L.S.U. athletic director, said Dietzel had not asked for release of his contract. "I expect to be talking to Paul late today or tomorrow," Corbett said.

After L.S.U. crushed Colorado 25-7 in the Orange Bowl at Miami Monday, Dietzel acknowledged that he had been contacted by Army and was giving the matter serious consideration.

Dietzel was an assistant at West Point under Earl (Red) Blaik in 1953 and 1954.

Paw Paw Trims Mathias, 81-63

With Roland Hamilton and Larry Harding leading the way with 46 points between them, Paw Paw High's Pirates walloped Mathias High's cagers, 81-63, last night in a Potomac Valley Conference game at Mathias.

The visitors jumped out in front and lead by as much as 30 points as they connected for 30 field goals and 21-38 free throws Harding paced the scorers with 25 points while Roland Hamilton chipped in with 21 before fouling out in the last period. Steve Taylor scored 22 points for Mathias.

Mathias High's Jayvees defeated the Paw Paw junior varsity in the preliminary game, 38-28.

Kentucky Terminates Collier's Contract

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Blanton Collier, football coach at the University of Kentucky, was fired by the Kentucky Athletic Board Tuesday. The board said it bought the remaining three years of Collier's contract.

Collier, who compiled a 41-36-3 record with Kentucky in his eight seasons here, had been under fire recently from some persons who had expressed their views, to the board.

In a brief statement, the board said Collier's contract was terminated "by mutual agreement."

The board only last month reaffirmed its support of Collier, asking that the rest of his contract be honored.

Collier said he had no immediate plans for the future.

"I will probably relax for a few weeks before making any decision about my future plans," he said.

The board's statement did not mention whether it had named a successor.

Collier's first team had a 7-2 mark, but his won-lost record gradually declined and he finished this year with a 5-5 mark.

Rumblings of discontent grew after Kentucky lost to arch rival Tennessee in the final game of the season.

Cincinnati Reds Acquire Klippstein

Valley Pulls Surprise, Beats Elk Garden, 65-39

Four Knights Score In Double Figures As Elks Are Stunned

Valley High School provided one of the big surprises of the early season by spilling Elk Garden High School last night at Lonaconing to the tune of 65-39.

The Elks had posted a 6-1 record prior to last night's game, and had included Piedmont, Ridgeley, Southern, Bruce and Bayard among their victims while Valley had won only one high school game and edged the Alumni in six starts.

Coach John C. Meyers' Black Knights jumped off to a 16-9 lead in the opening period and never were headed. The Elks trailed 29-20 at halftime, were outscored 18 to 7 in the third stanza and were 20 points behind at 47-27 when the final quarter got under way.

Four Valley players scored in double figures. Tommy James headed the attack with 15 points, Danny Young garnered 14, Fred Sloan 12 and Marvin Miller 10. Clifford Knotts accounted for 15 of the losing team's 39 points on seven field goals and 1-4 fouls.

Valley connected on 26 shots from the field to only 14 for Elk Garden. The Knights sank 13 of 22 free throws against 11 out of 17 for the visitors.

In the preliminary game, Valley's junior varsity quint downed Elk Garden, 46-32. Box score:

Bayard Edges Southern, 56-54, With Late Rally

Bayard High, trailing most of the contest, rallied in the last quarter to defeat Southern High's Highlanders, 56-54, last night in a Potomac Valley Conference game at Oakland, despite a 30-point performance by the losers' Dave Burdock.

The visitors outscored Southern, 18-8, in the final period, catching the Highlanders for the first time with three minutes to play. George Kitzmiller's goal put Bayard ahead to stay, 52-51, with about a minute to go.

The win was the fourth in six games for Bayard, while Southern has now lost five of six decisions.

Bill Kpefle tallied 19 points for the winners who gained the decision at the foul line with 20-37 free throws to 18-29 for Southern. Both teams had 18 field goals.

Burdock took scoring honors for the game with 30 points on 11 field goals and 8-13 fouls.

Southern's junior varsity defeated the Bayard Jayvees, 35-32, in the preliminary tilt. The lineups:

Goldsworthy Is Named Deputy Board Member

Appointment of James W. Goldsworthy, principal of Keyser High School and one of the three new Deputy Board members on the West Virginia Activities Commission, is announced by President Jonathan Y. Lowe.

Goldsworthy replaces Thomas Sites in Region 4. Mr. Sites, former principal at Petersburg High School, resigned when he accepted the post of assistant superintendent in Grant county.

The other new Deputy Board members are Oran B. Farren, principal of St. Mary's High School, and John Goetz, principal of Dunbar High School.

Mr. Goldsworthy served as secretary-treasurer of the Potomac Valley Conference from 1952 to 1960.

Georgia Tech Bows To Middies, 64-62

ATLANTA (AP) — Blond Bill Kirvan fired three points for Navy in the final minute of an overtime period Tuesday night to give the Middies a 64-62 basketball victory over Georgia Tech.

Krivan broke a 60-60 deadlock with a layup with 56 seconds left and cooly made his free throw good after being fouled by Tech's Mike Tomasovich.

Navy's Dave Tremaine added a free throw to ice the victory with 15 seconds left to play in the frantic overtime period.

The victory was Navy's fifth in eight games and the first for the midshipmen in three meetings with Southeastern Conference Teams. Tech is now 4-5.

Ron Terwilliger, with a deadly corner shot for Navy, led the scoring with 24 points. Tomasovich was high for Tech with 14, and Josh Powell had 13 for the Yellow Jackets. Tremaine won runner-up scoring honors with 19 points, and Kirvan matched Tech's best with 14.

Indiana Routs Irish, 122-95

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (UPI)—Indiana, led by three players in double figures, matched its all time offensive basketball record Tuesday night, beating Notre Dame 122-95.

Indiana last scored 122 points against Ohio State during the 1958-59 season.

Fullmer Receives Double Distinction

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Double distinction came to Gene Fullmer Tuesday from the National Boxing Association.

Fullmer, who is recognized as world middleweight champion by the NBA, was voted the association's fighter of the year and also named as boxer of the month in ratings for December.

Cavaliers Beaten By Kentucky, 93-73

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky's basketball team, third-ranked in the nation, kept rolling along Tuesday night, knocking down Virginia 93-73 despite some fancy play by the visitors.

Larry Pursiful's 21 points led the Wildcats' balanced scoring as Kentucky notched its eighth straight victory. The Wildcats are 9-1 for the season.

Tony Iaquintano paced Virginia with 22 points. Hunter Conner tossed in 18.

Kentucky Terminates Collier's Contract

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Blanton Collier, football coach at the University of Kentucky, was fired by the Kentucky Athletic Board Tuesday. The board said it bought the remaining three years of Collier's contract.

Collier, who compiled a 41-36-3 record with Kentucky in his eight seasons here, had been under fire recently from some persons who had expressed their views, to the board.

In a brief statement, the board said Collier's contract was terminated "by mutual agreement."

The board only last month reaffirmed its support of Collier, asking that the rest of his contract be honored.

Collier said he had no immediate plans for the future.

"I will probably relax for a few weeks before making any decision about my future plans," he said.

The board's statement did not mention whether it had named a successor.

Collier's first team had a 7-2 mark, but his won-lost record gradually declined and he finished this year with a 5-5 mark.

Rumblings of discontent grew after Kentucky lost to arch rival Tennessee in the final game of the season.

Cincinnati Reds Acquire Klippstein

Valley Pulls Surprise, Beats Elk Garden, 65-39

Four Knights Score In Double Figures As Elks Are Stunned

Valley High School provided one of the big surprises of the early season by spilling Elk Garden High School last night at Lonaconing to the tune of 65-39.

The Elks had posted a 6-1 record prior to last night's game, and had included Piedmont, Ridgeley, Southern, Bruce and Bayard among their victims while Valley had won only one high school game and edged the Alumni in six starts.

Coach John C. Meyers' Black Knights jumped off to a 16-9 lead in the opening period and never were headed. The Elks trailed 29-20 at halftime, were outscored 18 to 7 in the third stanza and were 20 points behind at 47-27 when the final quarter got under way.

Four Valley players scored in double figures. Tommy James headed the attack with 15 points, Danny Young garnered 14, Fred Sloan 12 and Marvin Miller 10. Clifford Knotts accounted for 15 of the losing team's 39 points on seven field goals and 1-4 fouls.

Valley connected on 26 shots from the field to only 14 for Elk Garden. The Knights sank 13 of 22 free throws against 11 out of 17 for the visitors.

In the preliminary game, Valley's junior varsity quint downed Elk Garden, 46-32. Box score:

Bayard Edges Southern, 56-54, With Late Rally

Bayard High, trailing most of the contest, rallied in the last quarter to defeat Southern High's Highlanders, 56-54, last night in a Potomac Valley Conference game at Oakland, despite a 30-point performance by the losers' Dave Burdock.

The visitors outscored Southern, 18-8, in the final period, catching the Highlanders for the first time with three minutes to play. George Kitzmiller's goal put Bayard ahead to stay, 52-51, with about a minute to go.

The win was the fourth in six games for Bayard, while Southern has now lost five of six decisions.

Bill Kpefle tallied 19 points for the winners who gained the decision at the foul line with 20-37 free throws to 18-29 for Southern. Both teams had 18 field goals.

Burdock took scoring honors for the game with 30 points on 11 field goals and 8-13 fouls.

Southern's junior varsity defeated the Bayard Jayvees, 35-32, in the preliminary tilt. The lineups:

Goldsworthy Is Named Deputy Board Member

Appointment of James W. Goldsworthy, principal of Keyser High School and one of the three new Deputy Board members on the West Virginia Activities Commission, is announced by President Jonathan Y. Lowe.

Goldsworthy replaces Thomas Sites in Region 4. Mr. Sites, former principal at Petersburg High School, resigned when he accepted the post of assistant superintendent in Grant county.

The other new Deputy Board members are Oran B. Farren, principal of St. Mary's High School, and John Goetz, principal of Dunbar High School.

Mr. Goldsworthy served as secretary-treasurer of the Potomac Valley Conference from 1952 to 1960.

Georgia Tech Bows To Middies, 64-62

ATLANTA (AP) — Blond Bill Kirvan fired three points for Navy in the final minute of an overtime period Tuesday night to give the Middies a 64-62 basketball victory over Georgia Tech.

Krivan broke a 60-60 deadlock with a layup with 56 seconds left and cooly made his free throw good after being fouled by Tech's Mike Tomasovich.

Navy's Dave Tremaine added a free throw to ice the victory with 15 seconds left to play in the frantic overtime period.

The victory was Navy's fifth in eight games and the first for the midshipmen in three meetings with Southeastern Conference Teams. Tech is now 4-5.

Ron Terwilliger, with a deadly corner shot for Navy, led the scoring with 24 points. Tomasovich was high for Tech with 14, and Josh Powell had 13 for the Yellow Jackets. Tremaine won runner-up scoring honors with 19 points, and Kirvan matched Tech's best with 14.

Indiana Routs Irish, 122-95

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (UPI)—Indiana, led by three players in double figures, matched its all time offensive basketball record Tuesday night, beating Notre Dame 122-95.

Indiana last scored 122 points against Ohio State during the 1958-59 season.

Fullmer Receives Double Distinction

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Double distinction came to Gene Fullmer Tuesday from the National Boxing Association.

Fullmer, who is recognized as world middleweight champion by the NBA, was voted the association's fighter of the year and also named as boxer of the month in ratings for December.

Cavaliers Beaten By Kentucky, 93-73

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky's basketball team, third-ranked in the nation, kept rolling along Tuesday night, knocking down Virginia 93-73 despite some fancy play by the visitors.

Larry Pursiful's 21 points led the Wildcats' balanced scoring as Kentucky notched its eighth straight victory. The Wildcats are 9-1 for the season.

Tony Iaquintano paced Virginia with 22 points. Hunter Conner tossed in 18.

Stock Market Opens New Year With Sharp Decline

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks got off to a rocky new year start Tuesday, taking their worst pasting in nine weeks.

Despite the sharp drop in prices volume contracted sharply to 3,120,000 shares, the lowest since Oct. 17 and 2,250,000 shares less than last Friday's turnover.

Brokers were not too worried by the decline in the averages in view of the sharp volume shrinkage and the fact that advances outnumbered declines by 555 to 546 with 19 issues hitting new 1961-62 highs and only five new lows.

Standard & Poor's 500 stocks fell 0.59 indicating a paper loss in values of more than $4 billion and Dow-Jones industrials shed 6.43.

Such blue chips as American Telephone off 2½, Du Pont down 1⅞, General Foods off 3⅛, Owens Illinois off 1¼, Sears Roebuck off 4⅜, Union Carbide 1⅝ and Woolworth 1½ contributed heavily to the dip in the averages and distorted the extent of the decline for the market as a whole.

With C&O up 1¼ and Norfolk & Western up, the 20-rail average managed a gain of 0.16 but 15 utilities skidded 1.06 with Con Edison, People's Gas, Southern Cal Edison and Public Service off a point or more.

General Dynamics was the market's most active issue, climbing 1⅞ on 66,000 shares.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) —Oats and soybeans futures firmed in the opening session of 1962 while other grains were steady to lower Tuesday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Wheat closed off ⅜ to ⅞, corn unchanged to up ⅛, oats up ½ to ⅝, rye off 1⅛ to up ¼, soybeans up ½ to 1⅜.

Hedge sales dropped wheat and corn prices early in the day. Short covering lifted oats, while tax considerations seemed behind much of the soybean trade.

Wheat edged lower on reports that farm offers of cash wheat had expanded in Oklahoma and Texas. Commission houses sold March.

Spain purchased 2,000,000 bushels of red wheat. A private report said U.S. wheat and flour exports totaled 17,141,000 bushels in the week ended Dec. 22, bringing exports since July 1 to 333,200,000 bushels against 272,800,000 a year ago.

Spreaders dominated the corn market following early hedge sales. Receipts were large at Chicago, with government corn accounting for 233 of the estimated 598 cars arrived.

Nearby rye held about steady, but distant months weakened under scattered sales.

In beans, the January contract met active trading. Commission houses bought January, while a cash house sold January and bought July. Oil and lard futures weakened. Meals were mixed.

Outside markets were also irregular.

The U.S. visible supply of wheat dropped 1,876,000 bushels last week to leave 459,998,000 bushels, according to Board of Trade statisticians. Corn stocks increased 2,150,000 to 94,421,000, oats decreased 259,000 to 22,708,000, rye declined 10,000 to 6,558,000, barley fell 420,000 to 22,059,000, and soybeans lost 444,000 to leave 26,533,000 bushels.

If the sea is calm and the air perfectly clear, it is possible for a pilot in an airplane to see a submarine submerged to a depth of about 60 feet.

Stock Market Opens New Year With Sharp Decline

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks got off to a rocky new year start Tuesday, taking their worst pasting in nine weeks.

Despite the sharp drop in prices volume contracted sharply to 3,120,000 shares, the lowest since Oct. 17 and 2,250,000 shares less than last Friday's turnover.

Brokers were not too worried by the decline in the averages in view of the sharp volume shrinkage and the fact that advances outnumbered declines by 555 to 546 with 19 issues hitting new 1961-62 highs and only five new lows.

Standard & Poor's 500 stocks fell 0.59 indicating a paper loss in values of more than $4 billion and Dow-Jones industrials shed 6.43.

Such blue chips as American Telephone off 2½, Du Pont down 1⅞, General Foods off 3⅛, Owens Illinois off 1¼, Sears Roebuck off 4⅜, Union Carbide 1⅝ and Woolworth 1½ contributed heavily to the dip in the averages and distorted the extent of the decline for the market as a whole.

With C&O up 1¼ and Norfolk & Western up, the 20-rail average managed a gain of 0.16 but 15 utilities skidded 1.06 with Con Edison, People's Gas, Southern Cal Edison and Public Service off a point or more.

General Dynamics was the market's most active issue, climbing 1⅞ on 66,000 shares.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) —Oats and soybeans futures firmed in the opening session of 1962 while other grains were steady to lower Tuesday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Wheat closed off ⅜ to ⅞, corn unchanged to up ⅛, oats up ½ to ⅝, rye off 1⅛ to up ¼, soybeans up ½ to 1⅜.

Hedge sales dropped wheat and corn prices early in the day. Short covering lifted oats, while tax considerations seemed behind much of the soybean trade.

Wheat edged lower on reports that farm offers of cash wheat had expanded in Oklahoma and Texas. Commission houses sold March.

Spain purchased 2,000,000 bushels of red wheat. A private report said U.S. wheat and flour exports totaled 17,141,000 bushels in the week ended Dec. 22, bringing exports since July 1 to 333,200,000 bushels against 272,800,000 a year ago.

Spreaders dominated the corn market following early hedge sales. Receipts were large at Chicago, with government corn accounting for 233 of the estimated 598 cars arrived.

Nearby rye held about steady, but distant months weakened under scattered sales.

In beans, the January contract met active trading. Commission houses bought January, while a cash house sold January and bought July. Oil and lard futures weakened. Meals were mixed.

Outside markets were also irregular.

The U.S. visible supply of wheat dropped 1,876,000 bushels last week to leave 459,998,000 bushels, according to Board of Trade statisticians. Corn stocks increased 2,150,000 to 94,421,000, oats decreased 259,000 to 22,708,000, rye declined 10,000 to 6,558,000, barley fell 420,000 to 22,059,000, and soybeans lost 444,000 to leave 26,533,000 bushels.

Cards of Thanks

We take this means to thank our friends and neighbors for their kindness extended to us during our recent bereavement, the death of Mrs. Jessie E. Hefner. We also wish to thank those who sent flowers and loaned cars for the funeral.

William J. Hefner and Sons and the Hochard Family

We take this means of expressing our sincere thanks to our relatives, friends and nieghbors who were so kind to us in our bereavement, the death of our beloved son, Michael Joseph Horwath. We also wish to thank those who sent floral tributes and donated cars for the funeral.

THE CENTENNIAL SCRAPBOOK

The War for the Union 1861-65 in Pictures

No. 90 "Surely, one would suppose, the cataclysm of the Civil War itself must have had a profound effect on the stage. Yet such appears not to have been the case," O. S. Coad and Edwin Mims Jr. recorded.

At the outset, some theaters were closed due to their owners' doubts of the public's seeking entertainment during such a serious calamity, but by 1862 the theatrical business was thriving. Further stimulus was given to attendance by the prosperity of the working class in the cities where war industries were centered. And also by the demand among soldiers on leave for diversion.

A rousing new element was added to stage offerings by exploitation of war events. Within a few weeks after the disaster at Manassas Junction, Va., Charles Gayler had a provocative melodrama, "Bull Run," on the Bowery—the axis then of New York's theatrical life.

Each successive battle became subject of plays, tableaux or living pictures.

British plays were in fashion, and there were odd interpolations in them or afterpieces. Actors gave recitations of J. R. Drake's "The American Flag," T. B. Read's "The Wagoner of the Alleghanies," and other stirring poetry or prose.

Some companies from large cities were induced to entertain at or near the soldier camps in the hinterland by forerunners of the USO, and with railroads facilitating their tours they stopped to perform for pay for the civilians. Thus numbers of inland dwellers were enabled to see in person stars and plays that were only names before.

200,000 East Germans Fled To West In 1961

BONN, Germany (AP) — More than 200,000 refugees from East Germany fled to West Germany in 1961, the Ministry for Refugees reported Tuesday. It added that many more escaped, but did not register.

The figure was an increase over 1960 when 199,188 registered. But the Communist wall erected across Berlin in August largely stopped the flight. Only 2,420 were registered in December, lowest monthly total for the year.

W. Va. Looking For Export Markets

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—West Virginia industrial and union officials will meet here Wednesday with an official of the U. S. Commerce Department to discuss possible exporting of West Virginia products to foreign countries.

William Parker of the department's Richmond, Va., office will attend the meeting at the Statehouse, arranged through the State Commerce Department. Among 17 agencies to be represented in the talks are the West Virginia Manufacturers Association, Charleston Chamber of Commerce and the W. Va. Coal Operators Association.

Friendly Helpers Will Sell Candy

BARTON — The Friendly Helpers Class met Monday at the church with Mrs. Peggy Mowbray, president, in charge. Mrs. Mary Ann Penman led the group in prayer and also had charge of devotions. She gave a reading called "Closing the Book."

A business meeting followed with Mrs. Penman reading minutes of the previous meeting. Mrs. Vera Metz, in the absence of the treasurer, Mrs. Elsie Mowbray, gave the treasurer's report. Mrs. Mona Jean Kyle, chairman of the ways and means committee, reported that a candy sale will be held on Thursday, at the Fireman's Armory. She asks that all members report to the church today at 6 p. m. to make candy.

The group made plans to hold a birthday party some time in February, the date to be announced later. Attending the meeting were, Vera Metz, Martha Chappell, Phyllis Howell, Mary Deniker, Mary Ann Penman, Peggy Mowbray, Mona Jean Kyle, Phyllis Dye, Thelma Moore, Ethel Broadwater.

Mrs. Virginia Duncan was appointed to lead the devotions at the next regular meeting. Refreshments were served by Phyllis Dye and Mary Deniker.

Enlists In Navy

WESTERNPORT — Sheridon A. McKenzie Jr., Kolberg's Hill, has enlsited in the U.S. Navy for 4 years. He is stationed at the Great Lakes Navy Training Center, Ills.

Indian calumets, or ceremonial pipes, were respected symbols used only on special occasions. One end was usually decorated with the head of a bird. Colored feathers were added for special meanings — red for war, green for peace or safe conduct.

Opening lead: Deuce of ♥

Had East followed the line of least resistance and woodenly returned his partner's lead today, South would have romped off with three no trump.

West chose to make the noncommital lead of the deuce of hearts. Dummy played low and the jack forced the ace. A low diamond play brought forth the ten, the king and the ace. Had East thoughtlessly returned the king and another heart, declarer would have won with the ten and cleared the diamond suit in time to make nine tricks. But East had put on his thinking cap at the opening lead. When declarer played low from dummy and then won with the ace, he marked himself with the ten of hearts, because if he had not held that card it would have been obligatory for him to play the queen from dummy in the hope that the lead had been from the king.

On this line of reasoning, East could count six tricks for declarer in the red suits and almost certainly three more in the black suits, since South was marked with, at most, only four of his points in hearts and diamonds. In order to defeat the contract it appeared that a club trick would have to be cashed before his second diamond stopper was dislodged. He, therefore, shifted to the eight of clubs.

Declarer took the single finesse and, when it lost to West's king, a heart was continued. East won with the king and drove out the ten of hearts so that the setting trick was cashed in hearts when his diamond trick was yielded to him.

Portugal Presses Hunt For Rebels

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — The government clamped tight controls on all escape routes along the Spanish border Tuesday night as it pressed a hunt for rebels involved in an unsuccessful revolt against Premier Antonio Salazar's regime.

At least 16 rebels still avoided capture 36 hours after the failure of their dawn revolt at a military barracks in Beja.

A state funeral was held for Lt. Col. Jaime Filipe da Fonseca, army undersecretary who was shot dead when he called on the rebels to surrender. Salazar attended the ceremony and thousands of persons lined the 75-mile route as the body was taken from Lisbon to Da Fonseca's home town of Leiria for burial.

Majors And Tapers Swap Three Players

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Majors of the American Basketball League traded guard Ronnie Zagar to the New York Tapers Tuesday.

Smith Still Rates 10-Goal Handicap

NEW YORK (AP)—Cecil Smith, the 57-year-old Texas wonder, was rated Tuesday at the maximum 10-goal handicap for the 24th consecutive year by the United States Polo Association.

The former cowboy who plays for the Oak Brook, Ill., Polo Club, shares the top spot with Australian Robert Skene in the 1962 ratings. Skene, a 10-goaler since 1951, resides in California where he plays for the Santa Barbara Club.

Lynch Will Head New Harness Track

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — M. Joseph Lynch, executive secretary of the State Harness Racing Commission, resigned his $20,000 a year post Tuesday, effective Jan. 31.

Lynch said he is resigning in order to take a position as general manager of the Washington Trotting Association, Washington County. That organization holds one of two state harness track licenses issued so far.

Prize Backfires

Apparent Suicide

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Leonard M. Dub, 56, a Washington psychiatrist, was found dead in his office Tuesday with a bullet wound in his head.

Detective Joseph M. O'Brien said Dub was slumped in a chair behind his desk with a revolver in his lap.

A bat uses sound to zero in on flying insects. The bat's tiny larynx emits up to 200 beeps a second. Big ears detect the returning echoes. The brain, which weighs only a few hundreths of an ounce, computes the data and controls the hunter's speed and direction.

Sesquicentennial Shares Purchased

FROSTBURG—The Young Men's Republican Club of Frostburg recently purchased 25 shares of stock for the Sesquicentennial Celebration to be held this year.

The Club also plans to enter a float in the parade during the week of activities.

The CENTENNIAL SCRAPBOOK

The War for the Union 1861-65 in Pictures

No. 90 "Surely, one would suppose, the cataclysm of the Civil War itself must have had a profound effect on the stage. Yet such appears not to have been the case," O. S. Coad and Edwin Mims Jr. recorded.

At the outset, some theaters were closed due to their owners' doubts of the public's seeking entertainment during such a serious calamity, but by 1862 the theatrical business was thriving. Further stimulus was given to attendance by the prosperity of the working class in the cities where war industries were centered. And also by the demand among soldiers on leave for diversion.

A rousing new element was added to stage offerings by exploitation of war events. Within a few weeks after the disaster at Manassas Junction, Va., Charles Gayler had a provocative melodrama, "Bull Run," on the Bowery—the axis then of New York's theatrical life.

Each successive battle became subject of plays, tableaux or living pictures.

British plays were in fashion, and there were odd interpolations in them or afterpieces. Actors gave recitations of J. R. Drake's "The American Flag," T. B. Read's "The Wagoner of the Alleghanies," and other stirring poetry or prose.

Some companies from large cities were induced to entertain at or near the soldier camps in the hinterland by forerunners of the USO, and with railroads facilitating their tours they stopped to perform for pay for the civilians. Thus numbers of inland dwellers were enabled to see in person stars and plays that were only names before.

—CLARK KINNAIRD

200,000 East Germans Fled To West In 1961

BONN, Germany (AP) — More than 200,000 refugees from East Germany fled to West Germany in 1961, the Ministry for Refugees reported Tuesday. It added that many more escaped, but did not register.

The figure was an increase over 1960 when 199,188 registered. But the Communist wall erected across Berlin in August largely stopped the flight. Only 2,420 were registered in December, lowest monthly total for the year.

W. Va. Looking For Export Markets

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—West Virginia industrial and union officials will meet here Wednesday with an official of the U. S. Commerce Department to discuss possible exporting of West Virginia products to foreign countries.

William Parker of the department's Richmond, Va., office will attend the meeting at the Statehouse, arranged through the State Commerce Department. Among 17 agencies to be represented in the talks are the West Virginia Manufacturers Association, Charleston Chamber of Commerce and the W. Va. Coal Operators Association.

Friendly Helpers Will Sell Candy

BARTON — The Friendly Helpers Class met Monday at the church with Mrs. Peggy Mowbray, president, in charge. Mrs. Mary Ann Penman led the group in prayer and also had charge of devotions. She gave a reading called "Closing the Book."

A business meeting followed with Mrs. Penman reading minutes of the previous meeting. Mrs. Vera Metz, in the absence of the treasurer, Mrs. Elsie Mowbray, gave the treasurer's report. Mrs. Mona Jean Kyle, chairman of the ways and means committee, reported that a candy sale will be held on Thursday, at the Fireman's Armory. She asks that all members report to the church today at 6 p. m. to make candy.

The group made plans to hold a birthday party some time in February, the date to be announced later. Attending the meeting were, Vera Metz, Martha Chappell, Phyllis Howell, Mary Deniker, Mary Ann Penman, Peggy Mowbray, Mona Jean Kyle, Phyllis Dye, Thelma Moore, Ethel Broadwater.

Mrs. Virginia Duncan was appointed to lead the devotions at the next regular meeting. Refreshments were served by Phyllis Dye and Mary Deniker.

Enlists In Navy

WESTERNPORT — Sheridon A. McKenzie Jr., Kolberg's Hill, has enlsited in the U.S. Navy for 4 years. He is stationed at the Great Lakes Navy Training Center, Ills.

---

Indian calumets, or ceremonial pipes, were respected symbols used only on special occasions. One end was usually decorated with the head of a bird. Colored feathers were added for special meanings — red for war, green for peace or safe conduct.

Opening lead: Deuce of ♥

Had East followed the line of least resistance and woodenly returned his partner's lead today, South would have romped off with three no trump.

West chose to make the noncommital lead of the deuce of hearts. Dummy played low and the jack forced the ace. A low diamond play brought forth the ten, the king and the ace. Had East thoughtlessly returned the king and another heart, declarer would have won with the ten and cleared the diamond suit in time to make nine tricks. But East had put on his thinking cap at the opening lead. When declarer played low from dummy and then won with the ace, he marked himself with the ten of hearts, because if he had not held that card it would have been obligatory for him to play the queen from dummy in the hope that the lead had been from the king.

On this line of reasoning, East could count six tricks for declarer in the red suits and almost certainly three more in the black suits, since South was marked with, at most, only four of his points in hearts and diamonds. In order to defeat the contract it appeared that a club trick would have to be cashed before his second diamond stopper was dislodged. He, therefore, shifted to the eight of clubs.

Declarer took the single finesse and, when it lost to West's king, a heart was continued. East won with the king and drove out the ten of hearts so that the setting trick was cashed in hearts when his diamond trick was yielded to him.

Portugal Presses Hunt For Rebels

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — The government clamped tight controls on all escape routes along the Spanish border Tuesday night as it pressed a hunt for rebels involved in an unsuccessful revolt against Premier Antonio Salazar's regime.

At least 16 rebels still avoided capture 36 hours after the failure of their dawn revolt at a military barracks in Beja.

A state funeral was held for Lt. Col. Jaime Filipe da Fonseca, army undersecretary who was shot dead when he called on the rebels to surrender. Salazar attended the ceremony and thousands of persons lined the 75-mile route as the body was taken from Lisbon to Da Fonseca's home town of Leiria for burial.

Majors And Tapers Swap Three Players

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Majors of the American Basketball League traded guard Ronnie Zagar to the New York Tapers Tuesday.

Smith Still Rates 10-Goal Handicap

NEW YORK (AP)—Cecil Smith, the 57-year-old Texas wonder, was rated Tuesday at the maximum 10-goal handicap for the 24th consecutive year by the United States Polo Association.

The former cowboy who plays for the Oak Brook, Ill., Polo Club, shares the top spot with Australian Robert Skene in the 1962 ratings. Skene, a 10-goaler since 1951, resides in California where he plays for the Santa Barbara Club.

Lynch Will Head New Harness Track

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — M. Joseph Lynch, executive secretary of the State Harness Racing Commission, resigned his $20,000 a year post Tuesday, effective Jan. 31.

Lynch said he is resigning in order to take a position as general manager of the Washington Trotting Association, Washington County. That organization holds one of two state harness track licenses issued so far.

Prize Backfires

TURIN, Italy (AP)—A ravioli-maker filling a holiday order for a thousand bite-size pasta decided to make one a prize piece by inserting a 500-lire—80 cent—coin instead of the usual meat or cheese filling. It was misfortune, however, to the 15-year-old girl guest at the client's holiday party who nearly strangled on the coin before a doctor removed it.

Apparent Suicide

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Leonard M. Dub, 56, a Washington psychiatrist, was found dead in his office Tuesday with a bullet wound in his head.

Detective Joseph M. O'Brien said Dub was slumped in a chair behind his desk with a revolver in his lap.

Melvin Fields First To File For City Council

Is Former Spinner At Amcelle Plant

Melvin E. Fields, 51, of 126 Virginia Avenue, yesterday became the first candidate to file for the June 5 city primary election here.

The South Cumberland man filed for Council yesterday afternoon before City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery.

A resident of Cumberland for about 50 years, he is employed as custodian of the Goodfellowship Club at 214½ Virginia Avenue and is making his first political venture.

A native of Saxton, Pa., he is a World War II veteran and a former spinner at the Amcelle plant of Celanese Fibers Company.

Is Former Boxer

Mr. Fields was employed for 23 years in the Extrusion department of the Amcelle plant, beginning in 1948.

He served as a technical supply sergeant in the Air Force in Europe during World War II.

He began work here in 1925 at the former Klotts Throwing Company mill on Gay Street, and worked for the railroad in Sedalia, Mo., in 1948 and 1949, when he returned here to take the custodian's post in South Cumberland.

A former amateur boxer, he is currently serving as manager of the Goodfellowship Club shuffleboard team.

He said his chief objective in seeking the post of councilman is to improve the city's traffic situation.

Deadline May 25

He said he is also interested in the operation of the garbage detail and the Water and Street departments.

The deadline for filing as a candidate for mayor or council is midnight on May 25.

The filing fee for the mayor's post is $40 and for Council, $25.

A mayor and four councilmen will be elected in the municipal general election on June 19.

West Virginia Gamma Globulin Supplies Low

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—State Health Director N. H. Dyer said Tuesday that his department faces a "critical situation" regarding its supply of gamma globulin this year.

Gamma globulin is distributed by the state hygienic laboratory for immunization against infectious hepatitis and other diseases.

Dyer said the American Red Cross, which furnishes the gamma globulin without cost, has been able to allocate the state only about 50 per cent of its needs for the first six months of this year.

"We are also concerned because the Red Cross is unable to determine definitely the allocation for the last six months of 1962," he said. "Continuation of the gamma globulin distribution program depends largely on the extent to which the public gives to the Red Cross both financial support and blood donations."

Dyer said there appears "no valid reason" to assume the hepatitis epidemic which has continued in the state more than a year is on the decline, or even reached a peak.

A total of 1,610 cases had been reported through last week, compared with 906 during the same period a year ago. Thirteen new cases were reported last week.

No new cases of polio were reported as the state ended 1961 with 33 cases compared to 62 in 1960.

Floyd V. Cozad, left, president of the LaVale Lions Club, and Richard Heacox, club program chairman, greet Associate Judge W. Earle Cobey as he arrived to speak at a dinner meeting of the club last night at LaVale Fire Hall. The judge described the workings of Allegany County Circuit Court.

Baltimore Church Once Stood In Garrett County

The picturesque building which houses the Episcopal Church of the Nativity at the intersection of York and Cedarcroft roads in Baltimore has not always been the "city slicker" it is today.

That building, originally called Emmanuel chapel, was erected in 1889 in Garrett County near the Grant County, W. Va., community of Bayard. It was built by James A. Wolf of Oakland as a summertime church for a sawmill community.

The story of the transplanted church appears in the December issue of the Maryland Churchman Communicator, the bimonthly publication of the Episcopal Diocese of Maryland.

When economic conditions brought about large scale abandonment of the area and its usefulness ended, the church building was given to the Episcopal Diocese of Maryland. It was presented to the then new congregation of the Church of the Nativity which had held its first regular service on Christmas Day 1911 at 5814 York Road, now the site of a Baltimore restaurant.

The church was removed piece by piece and loaded aboard flat cars of the Western Maryland Railway, and was set up on the present lot in Baltimore. The first service at its new location was held February 1, 1914.

The Church of the Nativity celebrated the completion of 50 years of uninterrupted regular services at 11 p. m. Christmas Eve when Rt. Rev. Noble C. Powell, bishop of the Diocese of Maryland, was celebrant and preacher at the Holy Communion service.

Rev. Robert Flottemesch, now rounding out his second year as rector of St. James Episcopal Church in Westernport, was an assistant at the Church of the Nativity before coming to Allegany County.

Baby Sitter List Prepared By Rec Unit

Service Popular With Newcomers

The 1962 Baby Sitters list has been prepared by the City Recreation Department.

The list, released yesterday, includes 159 teen-age girls and adult women who are available for baby sitting in the Cumberland area.

The list includes 35 adult sitters, six more than last year, and 214 teen-age girls, an increase of 52, divided into eight sections of the city, plus an outside the city grouping.

Mrs. Eva Hogan, assistant recreation director, said the new lists may be picked up at the Recreation Department office in City Hall, or will be mailed to those who request copies.

The Rec Department said each baby sitter listed has been checked through the Police Department, the Associated Charities, local high schools and by personal reference and that none has been deemed objectionable as a baby sitter.

A list of suggested regulations is included.

In addition to girls who won a place on the lists, the Recreation Department has on file the names of 35 other girls who failed to complete the Baby Sitter training course offered recently by the department.

Mrs. Hogan said the baby sitter lists are furnished as a service to the public, and have proved especially useful to newcomers.

Some of the adult baby sitters, the list notes, are available at any time.

Man Is Held For State Of Ohio

An Ohio man was picked up here Monday by City Police at the request of authorities of that state.

He was arrested by Capt. James E. Van and booked as Hobart Weese, of Ohio, and is being held on a fugitive from justice warrant.

Capt. Van said the man, wanted for violation of parole, was going under the name of Glenn Williamson when he was picked up at a home in South Cumberland.

He said the man at first insisted his name was Williamson, as was on the Social Security card he carried, but changed his mind after he was told fingerprints were to be taken.

Court Probates Claude Deal Will

The will of Claude L. Deal, who was a 62-year-old resident of 517 National Highway, LaVale, at the time of his death December 26, was probated yesterday in Allegany County Orphans Court.

Mr. Deal operated the Deal Oil Company until his retirement. His widow, Mrs. Margaret B. Deal, 517 National Highway, who qualified as executrix under a $1,000 bond, was the sole beneficiary. The will was dated April 14, 1938.

Receipts Increase

Parking meter receipts for the week ending December 24 totaled $1,079.60, an increase of $107.63 over the previous week, the Mayor and Council was told yesterday.

Appeals Board Plans Hearing

A second public hearing has been scheduled by the Allegany County Zoning Appeals Board for 2 p. m. Thursday, January 11, on an application of Chelsie A. Liller to establish a trailer court in a residential area along the northerly side of McMullen Highway just beyond the Circle Inn property at the foot of Dingle Hill.

Mr. Liller proposed to establish this trailer court on part of the Buck Lodge Farm.

The appeals board had its first hearing last Thursday on an application of the operators of the Triple Lakes Auto Mart for the establishment of automobile dismantling facilities.

Members of the appeals board are Everett Partridge, chairman; Ralph G. Cover and Wilbur Johnson.

Officer Stitcher Commended By City

A resolution commending Officer John Henry Stitcher for his 35 years of service for the City of Cumberland was adopted by the Mayor and Council yesterday.

It expressed the regret of city officials for the loss of services of the veteran patrolman, who retired from the Cumberland Police Department recently.

Local 265 represents about 200 hourly paid workers at the Queen City and Cumberland breweries.

Welfare Critic Gets Invitation From Waxter

BALTIMORE (AP) — The State Department of Public Welfare has invited one of its critics to come in and talk things over.

Welfare Director Thomas J. S. Waxter said Tuesday he had invited the chairman of the Carroll County Welfare Board, T. Bryan McIntire, to discuss his objections to the program with the state department.

Waxter said he believed McIntire would accept the invitation although he has not yet responded.

McIntire contended, in a letter to the state, that welfare recipients are using welfare payments to supply relatives with luxury items and to make payments on cars.

"Such inappropriate and shocking use of benefits by those persons receiving public funds should be made the basis of fraud, whereby the offenders would be subject to prosecution.

"We feel the present welfare program has fallen into public disrepute. If the public is to be expected to continue to support the welfare program, substantial changes will have to be made."

R. C. Hudson, Bank President, Dies Suddenly

Was Tri-Towns Civic Leader

Raymond C. Hudson, 60, president of the First National Bank of Piedmont, W. Va., died suddenly yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Hudson was stricken with a heart attack while on business in Westernport.

Mr. Hudson resided at 67 East Hampshire Street, Piedmont, and was a member of the Boyd and Hudson Insurance Agency. He also was a member of the Trust Department of the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Keyser.

A resident of Piedmont for the past 35 years, Mr. Hudson had served as president of the Piedmont bank for a number of years. He was a member and past president of the Piedmont Rotary Club, past president of the Piedmont Chapter of the American Red Cross, and had conducted several fund drives for the Red Cross and the Boy Scouts.

He was finance chairman of the County United Fund in the Tri-Towns and was an area vice president, treasurer and a member of the executive committee of the CUF.

Mr. Hudson was a member of St. James Episcopal Church, Westernport; Mt. Carbon Lodge 28, AF & AM; Scottish Rite Consistory of Cumberland, and the KCCH of Masonry in Cumberland. He also was active in Republican Party politics.

A native of Amherst County, Va., he was a son of the late Carrington O. and Samantha (Gooch) Hudson.

Surviving are his widow, Mildred (Suter) Hudson, a daughter of Mrs. Gertrude Suter and the late Dr. John E. Suter; a son, Suter Hudson, Lancaster, Pa.; a daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Ann Bays, Roanoke, Va.; two brothers, Rodger Hudson, Richmond, Va., and Alvah Hudson, Amherst County; five sisters, Mrs. Edith Acock, Richmond; Mrs. Mary Nash, Mrs. Hazel Mays and Mrs. Dorothy Booth, all of Lynchburg, Va., and Mrs. Florine Jones, Amherst County, and two grandchildren.

The body will be at the residence after 7 p. m. today.

Services will be conducted Friday at 2 p. m. at St. James Episcopal Church by Rev. Robert Flottemesch, rector. Burial will be in Philos Cemetery. The body will be taken to the church at noon Friday.

LaVale Sewage Problems Will Be Discussed

Plans for attendance at two meetings relating to sewage and water problems of the area were made by city officials yesterday.

Mayor J. Edwin Keech told members of the Council that plans have been completed for a meeting of the Mayor and Council with the LaVale Sanitary Commission and the State Health Department to discuss the LaVale sewage problem.

He said the meeting has been scheduled for Tuesday, January 16, at 7:30 p. m. in the Mayor's Office in City Hall.

Arrangements for the meeting were made by James R. McComas, chief of the Division of Sanitary Engineering of the State Health Department.

Mayor Keech also asked members of the Council who can to attend a meeting on January 15 at 7:30 p. m. in the court house.

Mr. McComas suggested, he said, that the city be represented at the session, when the status of the all Allegany County water supplies will be reviewed.

Equity Suit Filed

Blaine C. Leasure has filed an equity suit in Allegany County Circuit Court against Jessie Marie Leasure.

Lonaconing Man Named Foreman At Amcelle Plant

The promotion of William E. McCormick, 11 Furnace Street, Lonaconing, to the position of general foreman of the Coning Department at the Amcelle plant of Celanese Fibers Company, has been announced by B. O. Waite, superintendent of Textile Manufacturing.

Mr. McCormick succeeds James F. Jones who has resigned to accept employment in Virginia, his former home. The appointment became effective January 1.

Mr. McCormick has been employed at the Amcelle plant since 1933, shortly after graduating from Central High School in Lonaconing. He was promoted to the position of assistant foreman in the Coning Department in 1935 and has held various supervisory positions in Coning and Warp Winding departments until his recent promotion.

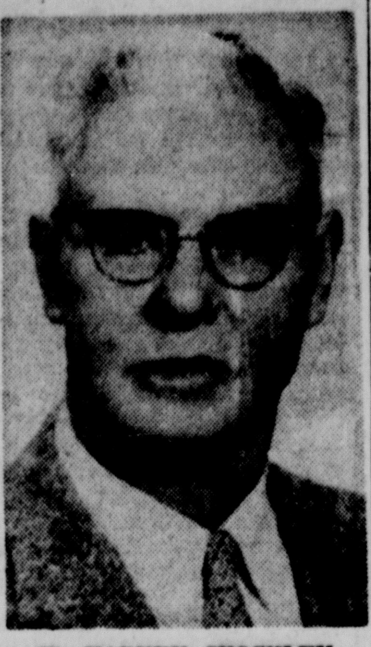
WILLIAM E. McCORMICK

Since his employment, he has engaged in outside study to supplement his formal education. He has participated in home study through International Correspondence Schools and night classes at Fort Hill High School. Mr. McCormick also has taken supervisory training courses at the plant.

Mr. McCormick is active in the Lonaconing Presbyterian Church where he is an elder and clerk of the Session. He also is a member of the Knight of Pythias.

Sanitarian Retires From Health Department

William Harvey Shockley has retired from the Allegany County Health Department after serving nearly 17 years as sanitarian in charge of milk control.



W. HARVEY SHOCKLEY

Mr. Shockley, who resides at 210 Schley Street, was appointed to the post in 1945 after being certified by the Civil Service Board of Cumberland.

He was born and raised on a dairy farm on the Eastern Shore of Maryland, and started milking cows at the age of five.

After moving to Cumberland 35 years ago, Mr. Shockley became identified with the dairy industry in this area in the processing and sale of milk.

Mr. Shockley has attended numerous courses at the University of Maryland and the University of Pennsylvania to further his work in qualifying for state approval.

He is still very active and expects to continue his interest in milk control and his hobbies, which are gardening and traveling.

He is married to the former Margaret Screen of Lonaconing, and they have two children, William H. Shockley, Appleton, Wis., and Dr. Robert J. Shockley, Baltimore.

31 Bills Get Blessing Of Steering Unit

BALTIMORE (AP) — When the General Assembly meets Feb. 7, it will be presented 31 bills which have the blessing of the Legislative Council, interim agency of the legislature.

Three joint resolutions, four legislative reports and two orders also have been endorsed by the council.

One of the most controversial of the 31 bills is a measure which would prohibit operators of public accommodations from denying service because of race, creed, color or national origin.

Seek Tougher Bill

Prosecution must be preceded by an investigation by the state attorney general and with the approval of the local state's attorney. Charging the measure involves too complicated a process, advocates of civil rights have promised to offer another public accommodations bill with tougher, faster provisions.

Another measure adopted by the council would increase the number of signatures required to petition a statewide bill to referendum.

The present requirement is 10,000 signatures. The measure which will be presented to the General Assembly would require signatures of 10 per cent of the qualified voters who voted in the last gubernatorial election.

Get Green Light

Other bills approved by the council would:

Recodify Maryland's old "Blue Laws," defining for the first time which stores can remain open on Sundays.

Increase salaries of Baltimore's Supreme Court judges, the judges of the Court of Appeals, and increase pension payments of retired judges.

Modernize laws governing the sale of securities.

Create a Commission on State and County Finance to work out a long-term approach to fiscal problems of the state and political subdivisions.

Repeal provisions for the filing and maintaining of financial responsibility by minors operating motor vehicles.

Gephart Bids Are Due Today

For the second time in as many months, the Allegany County Board of Education will receive bids on an addition at Gephart Elementary School at 3 p. m. today in the office of Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster.

When bids were first opened on December 5, the John I. Vandegrift Company submitted the low figure of $181,945. However, all three bids submitted then were rejected on the grounds that the cost was about $14,000 more than the school board had planned to spend for the job.

The specifications have been revised by S. Russ Minter, local architect, in hopes that the cost will be more in line with what the school board had planned to spend. The addition to the school on Frederick Street includes three classrooms, dividing the auditorium into two classrooms, creation of a new principal's office, a health room and a general purpose room.

Former Local Man On TV Tonight

Edward Mallory, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Martz, 781 Fayette Street, will appear on tonight's television presentation of "Checkmate" with Jack Benny and Sebastian Cabot.

Mr. Mallory and his wife were holiday guests of his parents, and left Monday for Pittsburgh, where they had an engagement.

Mrs. Mallory, who uses her maiden name of Nancy McCarthy on television, will appear next on the "Dobbie Gillis Show." Mr. Mallory also will be on television tomorrow night on the "Bob Cummings Show."

Seniors Get Reminder On Scholarships

Three Types Offered Throughout State

Detailed data about the three scholarship programs for which Maryland high school seniors are eligible was received yesterday by Allegany County Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster.

Each high school principal is asked to make all seniors aware of the scholarship opportunities available. A candidate may compete for a teacher education, a general state tuition or a senatorial scholarship or all three. Senatorial scholarship candidates will be required to indicate on the test answer sheet a first and second choice of college from the list of colleges submitted.

All candidates are required to register at their own high school by January 17. The principal of each school must submit an alphabetical list of his candidates to William Anthony, state supervisor of teacher recruitment, by January 19.

Allegany Is Center

Allegany High School will be the test center for Allegany County and the test date is Saturday, February 3. In Garrett County the tests will be given at Southern High School, Oakland, on the same date. Washington County's test center will be North Hagerstown High School.

Colleges participating in the senatorial scholarship examination are Hood College, Maryland Institute, Morgan State College, Peabody Conservatory, St. John's College, Washington College, Western Maryland College and St. Mary's Seminary Junior College.

Some 152 four-year scholarship awards are available throughout the state each year in the teacher education program. They are allocated according to the number of members in the General Assembly for each county and for each legislative district of Baltimore City. Seven would be available in Allegany County.

13 Colleges

Thirteen Maryland colleges are eligible to participate in the teacher education scholarship program.

The new general state tuition scholarship program also provides 152 scholarships annually throughout the state, including seven in Allegany County. This program is designed to assist qualified high school graduates of Maryland to obtain the benefits of higher education.

High school seniors who expect to graduate in 1962 and high school graduates of prior years who have not previously attended a school of college or junior college rank are eligible.

Civil Defense Post May Be Filled Soon

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners wants to appoint a civil defense administrative assistant by January 15 but is not certain that the applicants who took the civil service test last fall are still interested in having the job.

An eligible list of four persons who passed the test was submitted to the county commissioners October 20. Included, in order, were Charles R. Witt, 422 Franklin Street; Francis G. Philpot, Box 49B, RFD 1, Frostburg; Mrs. Mary Margaret Boyle, RFD 3, Box 89, and Harry R. Thomas, 70 Linden Street, Frostburg.

Yesterday, the commissioners decided to request the Civil Service Commission to investigate and determine which of the four eligible persons still want the job. The annual salary would be $2,600.

Births

Memorial Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. Danny F. Athey, RFD 4, Oldtown Road, a son last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Lipold, RFD 4, city, a son last night.

Fruit Growers Of Maryland Meet Thursday

Gilbert Miller Heads Society

Gilbert Miller of Spring Gap, president of the Maryland Horticultural Society, heads a delegation of between 10 and 15 Allegany County men planning to attend the 64th annual meeting of the Maryland fruit growers in Hagerstown on Thursday and Friday.

Mr. Miller will deliver his president's address to the society at 2 p.m. Thursday at the Hotel Alexander in Hagerstown.

Chemical control of weeds in the young orchard and conclusions in practical chemical fruit thinning are two topics to be discussed and reviewed at the Hagerstown meeting.

Robert F. Lesher, supervisor of the audio-visual education program in the Washington County public schools, will be the speaker at the Thursday night banquet. He will discuss his work as coordinator of the closed circuit television project that has been carried in the Washington County public schools the last several years.

Also included on the Thursday program are discussions of bacterial spot of peaches, the apple scab spray program, as well as the complete 1962 spray program for apples and peaches in Maryland.

Other topics to be discussed or reviewed are the training of young apple trees, present and future trends of apple production and control methods of fruit diseases and insects. Advance figures of planting trends, varieties and tree numbers as shown by the recent state orchard survey will be analyzed for grower information.

A proposed weather reporting service for fruit growers will be discussed Friday, as well as the planning of grower services by the fruit grower's national organization.

Also featured at the meeting will be an illustrated talk on the western fruit industry and problems of production and marketing in that area. There also will be color movies.

Groves Named President Of Barbers Union

New officers of Local 214, Barbers Union, AFL-CIO, were elected an installed last night at a meeting in the Allegany Labor Temple.

Elected by acclimation were J. William Groves, president; Frank Greco, vice president; Joseph P. Derrico, secretary - treasurer; Lawrence Tummino, recorder, and Irvin C. Brant, guide.

William McCullough and William Keller were elected representatives to the Western Maryland Central Labor Council, AFL-CIO.

Samuel Gregg, Russell Bittner and Mr. Tummino were elected to the financial committee for the local.

Julius C. Linaburg was in charge of the installation ceremony.

Local 314 has about 75 members in the Cumberland area.

Taxicab Drivers' Licenses Due Today

Today will be the last day for city taxicab drivers to get licenses, Police Chief B. F. Gaffney announced yesterday.

He said 47 drivers had obtained licenses yesterday at 5 p. m., the deadline set for obtaining the permits.

Chief Gaffney said the additional day is being given because of the New Year's holiday but that enforcement of the ordinance, which requires a yearly license, will begin Thursday morning.

Over 100 drivers obtained licenses during the whole of last year.

Catholic War Vets To Hold Shrimp Feed

Victor Tambolleo Post 1712, Catholic War Veterans, will hold its annual shrimp feed Friday, January 26, at 8 p. m. at the parish hall of SS. Peter and Paul Church.

Only paid-up members may attend with their wives or girl friends. The event is one of several planned this year in observance of the post's 10th anniversary.

Firemen Respond

Some 12 members of the Corriganville Volunteer Fire Department. responded about 5:30 p. m. yesterday to the home of Henry W. Ford, who reported an overheated oil stove in his dwelling. There was no fire, and firemen left the home about 15 minutes after their arrival.

Melvin Fields First To File For City Council

Is Former Spinner At Amcelle Plant

Melvin E. Fields, 51, of 126 Virginia Avenue, yesterday became the first candidate to file for the June 5 city primary election here.

The South Cumberland man filed for Council yesterday afternoon before City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery.

A resident of Cumberland for about 50 years, he is employed as custodian of the Goodfellowship Club at 214½ Virginia Avenue and is making his first political venture.

A native of Saxton, Pa., he is a World War II veteran and a former spinner at the Amcelle plant of Celanese Fibers Company.

Is Former Boxer

Mr. Fields was employed for 23 years in the Extrusion department of the Amcelle plant, beginning in 1948.

He served as a technical supply sergeant in the Air Force in Europe during World War II.

He began work here in 1925 at the former Klotts Throwing Company mill on Gay Street, and worked for the railroad in Sedalia, Mo., in 1948 and 1949, when he returned here to take the custodian's post in South Cumberland.

A former amateur boxer, he is currently serving as manager of the Goodfellowship Club shuffleboard team.

He said his chief objective in seeking the post of councilman is to improve the city's traffic situation.

Deadline May 25

He said he is also interested in the operation of the garbage detail and the Water and Street departments.

The deadline for filing as a candidate for mayor or council is midnight on May 25.

The filing fee for the mayor's post is $40 and for Council, $25.

A mayor and four councilmen will be elected in the municipal general election on June 19.

West Virginia Gamma Globulin Supplies Low

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—State Health Director N. H. Dyer said Tuesday that his department faces a "critical situation" regarding its supply of gamma globulin this year.

Gamma globulin is distributed by the state hygienic laboratory for immunization against infectious hepatitis and other diseases.

Dyer said the American Red Cross, which furnishes the gamma globulin without cost, has been able to allocate the state only about 50 per cent of its needs for the first six months of this year.

"We are also concerned because the Red Cross is unable to determine definitely the allocation for the last six months of 1962," he said. "Continuation of the gamma globulin distribution program depends largely on the extent to which the public gives to the Red Cross both financial support and blood donations."

Dyer said there appears "no valid reason" to assume the hepatitis epidemic which has continued in the state more than a year is on the decline, or even reached a peak.

A total of 1,610 cases had been reported through last week, compared with 906 during the same period a year ago. Thirteen new cases were reported last week.

No new cases of polio were reported as the state ended 1961 with 33 cases compared to 62 in 1960.

Baltimore Church Once Stood In Garrett County

The picturesque building which houses the Episcopal Church of the Nativity at the intersection of York and Cedarcroft roads in Baltimore has not always been the "city slicker" it is today.

That building, originally called Emmanuel chapel, was erected in 1889 in Garrett County near the Grant County, W. Va., community of Bayard. It was built by James A. Wolf of Oakland as a summertime church for a sawmill community.

The story of the transplanted church appears in the December issue of the Maryland Churchman Communicator, the bimonthly publication of the Episcopal Diocese of Maryland.

When economic conditions brought about large scale abandonment of the area and its usefulness ended, the church building was given to the Episcopal Diocese of Maryland. It was presented to the then new congregation of the Church of the Nativity which had held its first regular service on Christmas Day 1911 at 5814 York Road, now the site of a Baltimore restaurant.

The church was removed piece by piece and loaded aboard flat cars of the Western Maryland Railway, and was set up on the present lot in Baltimore. The first service at its new location was held February 1, 1914.

The Church of the Nativity celebrated the completion of 50 years of uninterrupted regular services at 11 p. m. Christmas Eve when Rt. Rev. Noble C. Powell, bishop of the Diocese of Maryland, was celebrant and preacher at the Holy Communion service.

Rev. Robert Flottemesch, now rounding out his second year as rector of St. James Episcopal Church in Westernport, was an assistant at the Church of the Nativity before coming to Allegany County.

Baby Sitter List Prepared By Rec Unit

Service Popular With Newcomers

The 1962 Baby Sitters list has been prepared by the City Recreation Department.

The list, released yesterday, includes 159 teen-age girls and adult women who are available for baby sitting in the Cumberland area.

The list includes 35 adult sitters, six more than last year, and 214 teen-age girls, an increase of 52, divided into eight sections of the city, plus an outside the city grouping.

Mrs. Eva Hogan, assistant recreation director, said the new lists may be picked up at the Recreation Department office in City Hall, or will be mailed to those who request copies.

The Rec Department said each baby sitter listed has been checked through the Police Department, the Associated Charities, local high schools and by personal reference and that none has been deemed objectionable as a baby sitter.

A list of suggested regulations is included.

In addition to girls who won a place on the lists, the Recreation Department has on file the names of 35 other girls who failed to complete the Baby Sitter training course offered recently by the department.

Mrs. Hogan said the baby sitter lists are furnished as a service to the public, and have proved especially useful to newcomers.

Man Is Held For State Of Ohio

An Ohio man was picked up here Monday by City Police at the request of authorities of that state.

He was arrested by Capt. James E. Van and booked as Hobart Weese, of Ohio, and is being held on a fugitive from justice warrant.

Capt. Van said the man, wanted for violation of parole, was going under the name of Glenn Williamson when he was picked up at a home in South Cumberland.

He said the man at first insisted his name was Williamson, as was on the Social Security card he carried, but changed his mind after he was told fingerprints were to be taken.

Court Probates Claude Deal Will

The will of Claude L. Deal, who was a 62-year-old resident of 517 National Highway, LaVale, at the time of his death December 26, was probated yesterday in Allegany County Orphans Court.

Mr. Deal operated the Deal Oil Company until his retirement. His widow, Mrs. Margaret B. Deal, 517 National Highway, who qualified as executrix under a $1,000 bond, was the sole beneficiary. The will was dated April 14, 1938.

Local 265 represents about 200 hourly paid workers at the Queen City and Cumberland breweries.

Welfare Critic Gets Invitation From Waxter

BALTIMORE (AP) — The State Department of Public Welfare has invited one of its critics to come in and talk things over.

Welfare Director Thomas J. S. Waxter said Tuesday he had invited the chairman of the Carroll County Welfare Board, T. Bryan McIntire, to discuss his objections to the program with the state department.

Waxter said he believed McIntire would accept the invitation although he has not yet responded.

McIntire contended, in a letter to the state, that welfare recipients are using welfare payments to supply relatives with luxury items and to make payments on cars.

"Such inappropriate and shocking use of benefits by those persons receiving public funds should be made the basis of fraud, whereby the offenders would be subject to prosecution.

"We feel the present welfare program has fallen into public disrepute. If the public is to be expected to continue to support the welfare program, substantial changes will have to be made."

Lonaconing Man Named Foreman At Amcelle Plant

The promotion of William E. McCormick, 11 Furnace Street, Lonaconing, to the position of general foreman of the Coning Department at the Amcelle plant of Celanese Fibers Company, has been announced by B. O. Waite, superintendent of Textile Manufacturing.

Mr. McCormick succeeds James F. Jones who has resigned to accept employment in Virginia, his former home. The appointment became effective January 1.

Mr. McCormick has been employed at the Amcelle plant since 1933, shortly after graduating from Central High School in Lonaconing. He was promoted to the position of assistant foreman in the Coning Department in 1935 and has held various supervisory positions in Coning and Warp Winding departments until his recent promotion.

Since his employment, he has engaged in outside study to supplement his formal education. He has participated in home study through International Correspondence Schools and night classes at Fort Hill High School. Mr. McCormick also has taken supervisory training courses at the plant.

LaVale Sewage Problems Will Be Discussed

Plans for attendance at two meetings relating to sewage and water problems of the area were made by city officials yesterday.

Mayor J. Edwin Keech told members of the Council that plans have been completed for a meeting of the Mayor and Council with the LaVale Sanitary Commission and the State Health Department to discuss the LaVale sewage problem.

He said the meeting has been scheduled for Tuesday, January 16, at 7:30 p. m. in the Mayor's Office in City Hall.

Arrangements for the meeting were made by James R. McComas, chief of the Division of Sanitary Engineering of the State Health Department.

Mayor Keech also asked members of the Council who can to attend a meeting on January 15 at 7:30 p. m. in the court house.

Mr. McComas suggested, he said, that the city be represented at the session, when the status of the all Allegany County water supplies will be reviewed.

Equity Suit Filed

Blaine C. Leasure has filed an equity suit in Allegany County Circuit Court against Jessie Marie Leasure.

Sanitarian Retires From Health Department

William Harvey Shockley has retired from the Allegany County Health Department after serving nearly 17 years as sanitarian in charge of milk control.

Mr. Shockley, who resides at 210 Schley Street, was appointed to the post in 1945 after being certified by the Civil Service Board of Cumberland.

He was born and raised on a dairy farm on the Eastern Shore of Maryland, and started milking cows at the age of five.

After moving to Cumberland 35 years ago, Mr. Shockley became identified with the dairy industry in this area in the processing and sale of milk.

Mr. Shockley has attended numerous courses at the University of Maryland and the University of Pennsylvania to further his work in qualifying for state approval.

He is still very active and expects to continue his interest in milk control and his hobbies, which are gardening and traveling.

He is married to the former Margaret Screen of Lonaconing, and they have two children, William H. Shockley, Appleton, Wis., and Dr. Robert J. Shockley, Baltimore.

31 Bills Get Blessing Of Steering Unit

BALTIMORE (AP) — When the General Assembly meets Feb. 7, it will be presented 31 bills which have the blessing of the Legislative Council, interim agency of the legislature.

Three joint resolutions, four legislative reports and two orders also have been endorsed by the council.

One of the most controversial of the 31 bills is a measure which would prohibit operators of public accommodations from denying service because of race, creed, color or national origin.

Seek Tougher Bill

Prosecution must be preceded by an investigation by the state attorney general and with the approval of the local state's attorney. Charging the measure involves too complicated a process, advocates of civil rights have promised to offer another public accommodations bill with tougher, faster provisions.

Another measure adopted by the council would increase the number of signatures required to petition a statewide bill to referendum.

The present requirement is 10,000 signatures. The measure which will be presented to the General Assembly would require signatures of 10 per cent of the qualified voters who voted in the last gubernatorial election.

Get Green Light

Other bills approved by the council would:

Recodify Maryland's old "Blue Laws," defining for the first time which stores can remain open on Sundays.

Increas. salaries of Baltimore's Supreme Court judges, the judges of the Court of Appeals, and increase pension payments of retired judges.

Modernize laws governing the sale of securities.

Create a Commission on State and County Finance to work out a long-term approach to fiscal problems of the state and political subdivisions.

Gephart Bids Are Due Today

For the second time in as many months, the Allegany County Board of Education will receive bids on an addition at Gephart Elementary School at 3 p. m. today in the office of Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster.

When bids were first opened on December 5, the John I. Vandegrift Company submitted the low figure of $181,945. However, all three bids submitted then were rejected on the grounds that the cost was about $14,000 more than the school board had planned to spend for the job.

The specifications have been revised by S. Russ Minter, local architect, in hopes that the cost will be more in line with what the school board had planned to spend. The addition to the school on Frederick Street includes three classrooms, dividing the auditorium into two classrooms, creation of a new principal's office, a health room and a general purpose room.

Former Local Man On TV Tonight

Edward Mallory, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Martz, 781 Fayette Street, will appear on tonight's television presentation of "Checkmate" with Jack Benny and Sebastian Cabot.

Mr. Mallory and his wife were holiday guests of his parents, and left Monday for Pittsburgh, where they had an engagement.

Mrs. Mallory, who uses her maiden name of Nancy McCarthy on television, will appear next on the "Dobbie Gillis Show." Mr. Mallory also will be on television tomorrow night on the "Bob Cummings Show."

Seniors Get Reminder On Scholarships

Three Types Offered Throughout State

Detailed data about the three scholarship programs for which Maryland high school seniors are eligible was received yesterday by Allegany County Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster.

Each high school principal is asked to make all seniors aware of the scholarship opportunities available. A candidate may compete for a teacher education, a general state tuition or a senatorial scholarship or all three. Senatorial scholarship candidates will be required to indicate on the test answer sheet a first and second choice of college from the list of colleges submitted.

All candidates are required to register at their own high school by January 17. The principal of each school must submit an alphabetical list of his candidates to William Anthony, state supervisor of teacher recruitment, by January 19.

Allegany Is Center

Allegany High School will be the test center for Allegany County and the test date is Saturday, February 3. In Garrett County the tests will be given at Southern High School, Oakland, on the same date. Washington County's test center will be North Hagerstown High School.

Colleges participating in the senatorial scholarship examination are Hood College, Maryland Institute, Morgan State College, Peabody Conservatory, St. John's College, Washington College, Western Maryland College and St. Mary's Seminary Junior College.

Some 152 four-year scholarship awards are available throughout the state each year in the teacher education program. They are allocated according to the number of members in the General Assembly for each county and for each legislative district of Baltimore City. Seven would be available in Allegany County.

13 Colleges

Thirteen Maryland colleges are eligible to participate in the teacher education scholarship program.

The new general state tuition scholarship program also provides 152 scholarships annually throughout the state, including seven in Allegany County. This program is designed to assist qualified high school graduates of Maryland to obtain the benefits of higher education.

High school seniors who expect to graduate in 1962 and high school graduates of prior years who have not previously attended a school of college or junior college rank are eligible.

Civil Defense Post May Be Filled Soon

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners wants to appoint a civil defense administrative assistant by January 15 but is not certain that the applicants who took the civil service test last fall are still interested in having the job.

An eligible list of four persons who passed the test was submitted to the county commissioners October 20. Included, in order, were Charles R. Witt, 422 Franklin Street; Francis G. Philpot, Box 49B, RFD 1, Frostburg; Mrs. Mary Margaret Boyle, RFD 3, Box 89, and Harry R. Thomas, 70 Linden Street, Frostburg.

Yesterday, the commissioners decided to request the Civil Service Commission to investigate and determine which of the four eligible persons still want the job. The annual salary would be $2,600.

Fruit Growers Of Maryland Meet Thursday

Gilbert Miller Heads Society

Gilbert Miller of Spring Gap, president of the Maryland Horticultural Society, heads a delegation of between 10 and 15 Allegany County men planning to attend the 64th annual meeting of the Maryland fruit growers in Hagerstown on Thursday and Friday.

Mr. Miller will deliver his president's address to the society at 2 p.m. Thursday at the Hotel Alexander in Hagerstown.

Chemical control of weeds in the young orchard and conclusions in practical chemical fruit thinning are two topics to be discussed and reviewed at the Hagerstown meeting.

Robert F. Lesher, supervisor of the audio-visual education program in the Washington County public schools, will be the speaker at the Thursday night banquet. He will discuss his work as coordinator of the closed circuit television project that has been carried in the Washington County public schools the last several years.

Also included on the Thursday program are discussions of bacterial spot of peaches, the apple scab spray program, as well as the complete 1962 spray program for apples and peaches in Maryland.

Other topics to be discussed or reviewed are the training of young apple trees, present and future trends of apple production and control methods of fruit diseases and insects. Advance figures of planting trends, varieties and tree numbers as shown by the recent state orchard survey will be analyzed for grower information.

A proposed weather reporting service for fruit growers will be discussed Friday, as well as the planning of grower services by the fruit grower's national organization.

Also featured at the meeting will be an illustrated talk on the western fruit industry and problems of production and marketing in that area. There also will be color movies.
